Alloway Pitches Superb Ball with Exception of that Inning and Fields His Position Well.

Omaha batsmen laid down in the hitting harness at Vinton Street park Sunday afternoon before 6,000 people and let four hits beat them in the eighth inning by a score of 3 to 1. The locals chalked up their lonesome run in the first time to bat, and seemed to think nothing more was necesjust nine coming to bat. From that layout one lonely hit resulted, that by Stone. So, of them were worth the money. These came in the first inning, and brought in Stone, who made first on Burg's error. The other four hits came one at a time with an in-ning between them, and might have been Mertes, if... ning between them, and might have been

Alloway fielded like a whirlwind, and threw great ball till the eighth, allowing but four hits till then. Even at that it must be remembered that one run isn't always enough to win a game. As a matter of practice, it is safe to give it company. Umpire Abbott, the stalwart, was back in the service. There are two games today, one at 10:30 in the morning, the other at 3:45 in the afternoon. The score:

hood. Then Quinn put another to Dolan, who threw to Genins and caught O'Leary at third, Quinn taking first base on fielder's choice.

Here were two outs, and no one dreamed of a score. But Davis made his second clean single for the day, and Backof followed it with another, which scored Quinn. So the tally stood even at 1 to 1, and then, with Davis and Backof on bases Warns.

with Davis and Backof on bases, Warner laid the ball against right field fence for three corners, scoring both men who were preceding him on the bases. Burg took a base on balls and Lobeck ended the inning by placing a liner over Alloway's head, which Stewart caught.

Discussion ends here, for Omaha has no habit of batting out two runs in two innings. Every single man on the team had a try at that lead in the eighth and ninth, inst nine coming to bat. From that layout

IN AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 31.—Louisville closed the American association season here today with an easy victory over Columbus before nearly $,600 people. It was a ragged game on both sides, but the locals hit Bailey opportunely and stole bases with impunity. The Louisville club has been a big success all summer and the attendance has far exceeded expectations. With the team leaving tonight on its last trip, President Tebeau announces that he has aiready cleared $10,000 on the season and twenty-two games are yet to be played away from home. The sport here has been stimulated greatly by the performance of Tebeau's team and the enthusiasts believe that Louisville will never be without base ball again. Extensive, improvements will be made at the park during the winter. The game was called at the end of the eighth inning to allow the teams to catch their train. Score:

Kansas City Grain and Provisions.

Berlin, Aug. 31.—The weekly financial reviews contrast the strength of the bourse last week with the unfavorable reports concerning industrial conditions. The causes which have given the bourse a decidedly builts tendency are the large orders placed by Prussian railway authorities for rails and steel ties, etc., the increased carnings of German railroads in the month of July, the prospects for increased freight business by the railroad steamship companies and better sales of coke. Most all industrials were strong last week; irons advanced from 2 to 6 points and coal shares advanced varyingly, some increasing if points or more. Electricals were irregular. Shares of the Schuckert Electrical company recovered strongly because the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company brought no further disappointments and a group of Berlin banks is arranging to give the company financial assistance.

London Borrows Liberally.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The demands for cash, resulting chiefly from the necessities of the Stock exchange and the consols settlements, caused an unusual hardening in the mozey rates last week and forced the market to borrow in considerable amounts. This, combined with the uncertainty of the outlook, resulted in decided increases in the discount rates. The autumn flow of gold to New York is expected to accentuate the situation. The arrangement made by Lesile M. Shaw, secretary of the United States Treasury department, for fresh issues of bank notes encourages the hope that there will not be any extraordinary stringency of money. Stocks were firmer the latter days of the week; the outlook was more cheerful, but business was dull. American shares were fairly firm, but the dealings in these securities were mostly professional. Mines were duil. dealings in these securities professional. Mines were duil.

MANCHESTER, Aug. 31.—The increased MANCHESTER, Aug. 51.—The increased in quiry for cloth last week was stimulated by the advance in the price of cotton at Liverpool and the increased belief that the cotton crop may not meet expectations. Transactions on the cloth market were moderate. The offers on sorting from Calcutta were generally impracticable. A fair amount of business was executed with Madras and China, but the demand was intermittent. There was rather more buying than recently, at irregular rates. South ing than recently, at irregular rates. South American business was confined to sorting up inquiry. The inquiry for yarns last week was more healthy and the volume of trade, although not large, compared favorably with previous weeks. Spinners were firm.

CATTLE—As is usually the case on Saturday there were practically no cattle on sale today with which to make a test of the market. For the week, however, there is a good increase over last week and as compared with the same week of last year there is an enormous increase. For the month of August, as will be seen from the statistics above, receipts of cattle were the heaviest they have been in August since itse, which means the heavest August receipts in the history of the yards.

Although cattle receipts have been very large the last week the number of cornfed steers on the market has been so small that a good test of values has not been made. Packers, however, say that they all need more cornfeds to go with their westgerns and that they are willing to pay strong prices for good stuff. The warmedup kinds, though, that come in competition with the westerns are rather neglected and if anything are a little lower.

The big receipts of cow stuff the first of the week caused a drop in prices, but since Tuesday the feeling has been somewhat better, though salesmen differ to some extent as to how much of the loss has been regained. As a general thing, though, it may be said that canners are selling about steady, while the medium grades and cutters are steady to a little lower, prices on those kinds apparently being rather uneven. The choice kinds have not shown very much change.

Bulls, veal calves and stags if at all desirable are just about steady for the last.

Bulls, veal calves and stags if at all desirable are just about steady for the week.

The demand for stockers and feeders has been something phenomenal for the last few weeks and in fact traders who have been on this market ever since it started say they never saw anything like it in August. The surplus feed in the country is undoubtedly the cause for the brisk demand. Good heavy dehorned cattle sold to the best advantage and may be quoted strong for the week. The commoner grades are steady to 25c lower for the week, as the demand from the country is confined mostly to desirable grades.

Western range cattle were of course the center of attraction and, considering the record-breaking receipts, the market held up in good shape. On Monday and Tuesday beef steers eased off a little and were fully 25c lower than the close of the previous week. Since that time, however, values have improved, though salesmen differ as to how much. As a general thing, though, the decline is not put at more than 10glibc. The balk of the western beef is selling from $4.00 to $4.50, with choice cattle as high as $5.20. Western dehorned feeders of good quality and flesh are fully steady for the week and are selling largely from $4.00 to $4.50, with the extra fleshy and choice grades selling up to $5.00. Horned cattle are weak to 25c lower, especially if lacking in quality, and are selling mostly from $2.75 to $4.00. As much as 50c difference is being made between horned and dehorned cattle of the same quality and sometimes even more. Range cows are steady to a little lower for the week, the decline, though, is confined to the medium grades and is not enough to be of much importance. Canners are steady for the week and are selling from $1.75 to $2.60; cutters from $2.60 to $3.00; pretty good cows from $3.00 to $3.75 and choice from $3.75 to $4.40. Representative sales: tive snles: NEBRASKA.

ing was fairly active, so that the bulk was disposed of in good season. The long string went at $7.25, with the bulk from $7.20 to $7.30. The choicest loads sold largely from $7.27\foxed to $7.45. Toward the close the feeling was not as good and the last hogs sold a little lower.

For the week the receipts have been very light, and in fact for the whole month of August the supply has been below normal, as will be seen from the table given at the head of the column. The tendency of prices has been upward, and the week closes with a total advance of $2430c for the week. The market is now back to about where it was on August 7. Representative sales:
