Lowers the Record. A week ago today Professional Sherwood of the Field club pulled the course record Eighty-nine was the best that had been done, Sherwood himself having made that, This latest score is a truly remarkable Sherwood says he had a mighty good show to come in under eighty, but he grew careson of the Des Moines Country club and Bartsch of the Omaha Country club will Sherwood and Watson are first matched for eighteen holes, match play, at $100 a side. Then there will be a three-cornered affair, same play, with Sherwood, Watson and Bartsch in at $150 a corner. These should prove out amazing good golf, and will attract much attention. TWO TIE FOR THE CARTAN CUP E. O. Lewis and H. T. McCormick Share First Place on the The Cartan cup was the coveted goal for which fourteen golfers strove at the Country club Saturday afternoon, and when the eighteen holes had been covered it developed that E. V. Lewis and H. T. McCormick were a tie for first place in the competition. Their net score was 15 strokes.

Meanwhile the rest of the field—twelve entries—trailed along at random, none getting anywhere near the winning mark save W. J. Foye, who scored 77 from scratch. This was a phenomenal pieco of playing, as 76 is the bogey score for the course, and Foye equalled his own best record over it with his 77. He was the only man started from scratch, T. R. Kimball—and W. D. Bancker being given six strokes each, the lowest handicaps out. But one other player came below 50 on a net score. This was Euclid Martin, who made 79 from a gross of 93 and a handicap of 13.

Handicap medal play is the game where the Cartan cup is involved, and the two men who stand tied for first place in the tourney of yesterday played a peculiar game throughout. In the first place each was started with the same handicap—i5 strokes. Both played even to a hair all the way around the course, the scores by holes being very nearly identical. When it came to the last putt for the eighteenth hole each man had a gross score of 89 strokes, and both made their putts good. It was practically a tie all the way around. The links were in good condition and there was every advantage in favor of the play, the wind not being a damaging one. Despite all this scores were on the general run a little high. They read: Handi-Gross. CRETE Neb., Sept. 6.—(Special.)—When Doane college opens next Thesday it will be with unusually bright prospects for a winning foot ball team. Since the ban on foot ball was removed, three years ago, Doane has been gradually regaining the position it once held in the foot ball world and a number of things will contribute toward a successful season for the team has been greatly handlcapped because it has had no practice field within many blocks of the college and symmasium. This disadvantage is a thing of the past now, as a fine new athletic field has just been completed on the college campus at a cost of 1,000. In the lineup the team will be composed largely of last year's players. Carlsson, at half, and Patten, the star tackle, being the only men lost. Men from last year's second team, from Crete and other high schools and academies are in sight who will make close competition for places on the team Coach Pipal comes very highly recommended from Beloit. While Mr. Pipal is perhaps best known as the coach of Beloit's famous sprinter, Merrill, he has had much experience as a foot ball man and will undoubtedly put out a strong team for Doane.
