HAVE SOME IDEAS TO OFFER

Omaha's Delegates to League of American Municipalities Will Present Report.

It is expected that the city council will receive at its meeting of Tuesday evening a report from the official delegation which represented this city at the recent conference of the League of American Municipalities at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mr. Craig, discussing this question, said: "The feature of the convention which struck me most forcibly was the strong inclination toward the home rule policy among the city officers present."

TOO MUCH TAX MACHINERY

St. Paul Assessor Makes Observations on Omaha's Assessment System.

Tells How City, County, School and State Taxes Are Assessed and Collected Together at the Minnesota Capital.

Hon. P. Conley, city and county assessor at St. Paul, Minn., was in the city yesterday and home from a visit to Colorado and Utah.

"It strikes me," said he, "that you have not only a costly, but a somewhat complicated system. St. Paul, in its relation to Ramsey county, is just like Omaha in its relation to Douglas county."

"The assessment that is in both counties the bulk of the taxable property is located within the boundary lines of the cities. Therefore, I believe that our system for assessing and collecting taxes could easily be applied in Douglas county."

"We have just one system of assessment of property for city, school and state taxes, and just one office for the collection of the taxes. The assessment of all property is made by the city and county assessor, who is appointed by the mayor, the council and the county auditor, and who appoints his own assistants and is held responsible for their work."

City and County Officers Equalize. "The assessment thus made is equalized by a board comprising the mayor, the county auditor, the assessor and two members each of the city council and Board of County Commissioners. Thus, you see, the city and county each participates in the appointment of the assessor and in the equalization of the assessment."

Twenty Men Leave Shops. Bostonians Desert the Union Pacific and Join the Strike Forces.

Twenty men left the Union Pacific Omaha shops yesterday in a body, joining the strikers. This defection occurred among the men who came out from Boston Saturday and had been anticipated and even predicted by the union forces.

Some weeks ago Romine sold his general merchandise stock at Mitchell to a sister and the one at Bridgeport to a nephew named Blackburn. When the wholesale firms learned of the sale they called for a settlement and learned that Romine had left the Mitchell store to the nephew.

Romine was considered by the wholesale houses as one of the safest merchants in business in Nebraska. He started his stores in Omaha and gradually, as he obtained the confidence of the wholesale houses, increased his stocks, until their total value was up in the thousands.
