The Board of Education held a special session yesterday afternoon at the office of Secretary Ross to devise a plan for relieving the congested condition at the Washington Avenue school, which opened Monday with an enrollment of 856 pupils. Peculiar Case of a Stranger Who Dies in a Des Moines Hospital.

LIGHT FROSTS DO NOT HARM THE CROPS

Trial of Thomas Lewis for Killing of Peterson Children Fails to Develop Any Direct Testimony Against Him.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Sept. 9 .- (Special.) - The mystery of the death of a stranger in Des Moines under most peculiar circumstances was partially solved today. The man arrived here three or four weeks ago and at a hotel where he went he acted strangely. When asked to register his name he declared he had forgotten what his name was. He was turned over to the police and later sent to a hospital, where he remained ill until last evening, when he died. He was a handsome, middle-aged man, with snow white hair and an air of good breeding. He had evidently been prosperous. When the hospital authorities received him the police stated there were no effects on his person and nothing to reveal his identity. Today the police found a large package of papers which had been taken from the stranger when he was thrown into iall and had not been returned to him. From these papers it was found that had two honorable discharges from the army, one under the name of William Beaver and the other under the name of Henry Martin, indicating that his habit of forgetting his name had been acquired a good many years ago. He had served in the Thirty-fifth New York regiment and in the Eleventh Minnesota, and was discharged from each one honorably. It was also found that he had lived in recent years in Minneapolis and had engaged in selling jewelry. The Grand Army post took charge of the body and is making an effort to locate his relatives and friends in Minnesota. The man did not seem to be demented the past few days of his life, but simply could not recall his own name or his past and fully
