

OMAHA WISS THE LAST GAME

Kansas City Gets an Awful Whalloping for a Farewell Gift.

TWENTY-TWO RUNS FOR THE HOME TEAM

Norwood Gibson Loses Game in First Inning and Cable Gets His Humps Just as Hard and Steady.

If one annihilation can wipe out two defeats Omaha is square with Kansas City now, for the Rangers won the last game of the series by a score of 22 to 1 Friday, batting an average of nineteen hits and two net twirlers from the Kaw, and breaking all tally records for the Western league this season.

From start to finish the game was a complete walkaway. Brown was throwing for Omaha and was better than he has ever been in his life work. He could have won a 1 to 0 game on the work he showed, giving one base on balls and allowing but two hits till the ninth, a small single in the third and another in the sixth.

A picture of what the Omahas did meanwhile is a multi-colored one. Everything that mortal thimble can do to mortal throwmen was put in practice by the locals. There were two catchers, three-baggers and singles galore. There were innings with every number of hits from one to five, there were innings with all numbers of tallies from one to six, and there were stolen bases till you could count them.

Three thousand people were sitting tense as the game commenced. It was acknowledged to be a crucial time. But before a single out had been made against the Omahas the situation had shifted from a struggle to a cinch. The wondrous Gibson gave the first three men up their bases on balls, and Stone batted the trio in with a three-bagger, scoring with them himself on Robinson's throw into the grand stand. Before the side was retired Dolan's single and Thomas' three-bagger made two more runs.

From that time on it was a case of accretions. In the third a single, two passed balls and a double steal led Dolan in again, and then Gibson was taken out in favor of Cable. The Rangers did not even give the two-headed lad a tryout, but landed on him in the fourth for five hits, meekly five runs. From then on the scores would indicate a foot ball game. Two came in the sixth on two gifts and two singles, five in the seventh on five hits, and three in the eighth on a single, double and triple.

The slaughter was pitiful. Kansas City pitchers were not the only ones who spoke in the wheel. The team fielded miserably, and Bill Wilson stood out as the shining light with four passed balls, an error and a lay down, when he refused to chase the ball to the grand stand and led Stewart round four corners and scored on his way.

The Omahas were all energy. Dolan made the record of the day with four hits, four runs, four stolen bases. Wright made a pair of doubles and one for three sacks. Genins played a great game at third. It was a bit and run game all the way, and the big feature was the score, which reads:

COUSINS' CONTEST AT GOLF

Walter and Chandler Play Today for Championship. GOOD GAMES ON THE WHEATON GROUNDS. Interesting Features of the Play—Some of the Uphill Work Being Up to the Professional Standard.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Walter E. Egan of Lake Geneva and his cousin, H. Chandler Egan of Exmoor, will contest for the western amateur golf championship, now held by P. B. Hoyt, on the Chicago Golf club links at Wheaton, Ill., today.

Chandler Egan, in the third round, while never down to his rival, Stuart Stickey of St. Louis, just managed to win, one up, by a long putt on the last green. His relative was lucky in pulling out of the fire his match with S. O. Dugger in the morning by one up in nineteen holes.

Chandler Egan, in the semi-finals, set the hottest pace for the championship in a match with Warren Dickinson, the Iowa champion, on the 6th and 7th to play, going in 38. That Walter Egan, with his record of two close matches won, was extremely fortunate in disposing of his clubmate, N. F. Moore, in the semi-finals was apparent to the critics.

Walter Egan was runner up last year in the national tourney at Atlantic City, while Chandler Egan has a total of twelve cups and eighteen medals and various prizes won by his prowess on the links.

Chandler Egan's pace was entirely too fast for Dickinson, who did not win a hole from the Exmoor-Harvard player. The best the Iowa champion could do was to have three holes. He was nervous and was off his game for the first time since he entered the championship. Egan's golf was steeper than Dickinson's at all times.

ADMIRE THREE AMERICANS

Emperor William Expresses Regard for Roosevelt, White and Low. FAREWELL TO THE VISITING OFFICERS. Kaiser Expresses Pleasure at Their Visit—Sends Message to the President—Prince Henry May Return.

BEHLIN, Sept. 12.—Emperor William, in saying goodbye to Generals Corbin, Young and Wood today, remarked that he was specially interested in three Americans. He admired President Roosevelt unmeasurably; he admired his versatility, courage, power for hard work and insight into the needs of the country.

His majesty said he watched Mayor Seth Low's administration of New York because he thought it important to the commercial world that New York City should be well governed.

Emperor William said he was also very sorry Andrew D. White, the United States ambassador, was leaving his court. He had the most cordial feeling for him personally because of the man he is, and because of his services in fostering good will between Germany and the United States.

General Corbin had an opportunity to present President Roosevelt's message about the St. Louis exposition, and Emperor William said he would see that Germany had a good representation. "I will send you a large party," he added pleasantly.

Message to the President. His majesty sent some personal messages to President Roosevelt through General Corbin and asked to be remembered kindly to "Miss Alice," as he called Miss Roosevelt.

The emperor conversed with each of the Americans and told them how much he had enjoyed their visit. The farewell took place on the field just after Emperor William had returned from leading the cavalry charge which concluded the maneuvers.

His majesty said he had been appointed substitute clerk and Charles A. Pace letter carrier in the postoffice at Watertown, S. D., and Ed H. Beal substitute clerk in the postoffice at Watertown, Ia.

E. J. Middleton of Manchester, Ia., has been appointed a railway mail clerk. C. W. Stephenson has been appointed postmaster at Troy, Davis county, Ia., vice J. M. Garrett, resigned.
