A Comparison of Shorthand Systems

(Gregg and Improved Gregg)

Inasmuch as Mr. Gregg, the author of Gregg Shorthand, has sought to create the impression that the improvements made upon his system by Prof. Mosher in his new text book are of little value...

The Gregg system has done away with shaded strokes, different positions, and relieved the student of the arduous task of committing thousands of word-signs to memory.

We give below six words written in pure Gregg (two upper lines); also the same words lower line written in Improved Gregg by Prof. Mosher. The words in both systems are written out in full.

Portland, degradation, gangrene, Grand Rapids, dreamland, landlord.

If there are any principles in Mr. Gregg's revised edition, by the application of which the above words can be written in full with a briefer outline than those for them, we offer the following prize.

PRIZE NO. 1. We will give $25.00 to anyone who will write in full and in pure Gregg any two words with briefer outlines than those given above in the first two lines.
