Superintendent McKeen of the Union Pacific motive power department arrived in the city Sunday from the western end of the system, where he has been for several weeks, remained here a few hours and returned to his field of operations. Mr. Mc-Keen expressed himself as pleased with the progress being made by the company in the face of the strike.

All officials of the company are still maintaining that their shop forces and motive power, the two essential departments, are n good condition, despite claims to the contrary, and that there is no cause for alarm of any kind. The new engines from the orrhage of the brain, the inevitable result of which was death. The doctor stated that the fatal blow could not have been dealt with a fist, nor was it probable that it was the result of a club, but of some semi-solid substance. In his judgment the most probable theory was that the fracture had been caused by a kick. All his scientific investigation went to substantiate this theory. The doctor gave it as his opinion, however, that this fatal fracture was the result of more than one blow. He opposed the theory that it was produced with a club, as contact of two solid substances produced an incised wound and the injury which caused Caldwell's death was not of that character. Such an injury might have stance, said the doctor.

Baldwin locomotive works have not put in their appearance as yet, "but they will soon." is the daily statement given out at headquarters.

He be-heved that Caldwell ought to have survived President Mitchell, the presidents of the and in fact did survive his injuries about an hour. He was satisfied that the victim died in an unconscious state.
