

LAST IN NEW YORK IS LEFT

Brooklyn Games Over to Advertiser's Farewell Skinning.

DOES IT WITH AN EARLY BATTING RALLY

Goethemites Get into the Game Only on Wild Throwing by Farrell and Dahlen-Sheckard Pounds Out a Home Run.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The National League baseball season at the polo grounds ended today with a game between the home team and the Brooklyn players. The visitors won through a batting rally in the second inning which yielded them four runs. Errors were made off Mathewson, Wilson, the Brooklyn pitcher, was very effective. New York's two runs were let up by Farrell's and Dahlen's wild throws. Sheckard's hit over the right field ropes for a home run was the feature. The teams will play in Brooklyn tomorrow, winding up the season there. Attendance 1,100. Score: BROOKLYN, 4; NEW YORK, 2.

Table with 2 columns: Player Name, Score. Lists players like P. Kelly, J. D. ... and their respective scores.

Brooklyn leads 4 to 2. First base on errors: New York, 1; Brooklyn, 1. Two-base hits: Keeler, Mathewson. Left on base: New York, 1; Brooklyn, 1. Sacrifice hits: Sheckard, Sacrifice Hit: Flood. Double plays: Mathewson to Dunn to McGinnis; Brown to Dunn to McGinnis. Struck out: By Kilton, 4; by Mathewson, 4. Passed ball: Bowerman. Time: 1:31. Umpire: Irwin.

Boston Loses Through Errors.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—Errors at critical stages by Boston gave Philadelphia today's game. Attendance, 1100. Score: PHILADELPHIA, 10; BOSTON, 4.

Table with 2 columns: Player Name, Score. Lists players like Thomas, H. ... and their respective scores.

Philadelphia leads 10 to 4. First base on errors: Boston, 1; Philadelphia, 1. Two-base hits: Jennings, Cooley. Sacrifice hits: Dexter, Barry, Green. Stolen bases: Carney, Greening, Dexter. Left on base: Philadelphia, 8; Boston, 4. First base on balls: Off Malarky, 2; off Iberg, 1. Hit by pitched ball: Malarky, 1; off Malarky, 2; by Iberg, 1. Time: 1:40. Umpire: Irwin and Latham.

GAMES IN AMERICAN LEAGUE

Baltimore Fattens the Average of the Boston Team by Dropping Its Last Game.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 29.—Boston had no difficulty in defeating the tail enders of the American league today in the closing game of the season. The attendance illustrates how the base ball public appreciates the work of the local team, it being 1,350. Score: BOSTON, 10; BALTIMORE, 4.

Table with 2 columns: Player Name, Score. Lists players like Jurgens, S. ... and their respective scores.

Boston leads 10 to 4. First base on errors: Baltimore, 1; Boston, 1. Two-base hits: Jurgens, Cooley. Sacrifice hits: Howell, Robinson, Sparks. Stolen bases: Parent, Stahl, Hughes, Freeman, Arnold, Dougherty. Left on base: Baltimore, 1; Boston, 4. Struck out: By Witte, 2; by Sparks, 1. Left on base: Baltimore, 7; Boston, 5. Time: 1:38. Umpire: Connolly.

FREEDMAN QUILTS THE CLUB.

New York National League Team is to Pass into the Hands of John T. Brush.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Andrew Freedman has severed his active connection with the National league base ball, and the controlling interest in the New York base ball club today passed into the hands of John T. Brush, former owner of the Cincinnati team. Mr. Freedman will remain president of the club until the next annual meeting of the club, when Mr. Brush will succeed him. Mr. Freedman may retain a certain amount of stock in the club for some time to come, but he has entirely withdrawn from active participation in the National league council. The announcement of the withdrawal came as a surprise when it was taken into consideration that by dint of the hardest kind of fighting Mr. Freedman became the absolute master of the National league within the last year. No one apparently had any inkling of Mr. Freedman's intention to quit base ball until he made the announcement personally at the headquarters of the National league tonight. Word had been sent out that there would be important news, but nobody knew what it would be. After a short verbal statement Mr. Freedman gave a typewritten statement in which he gave the reason for his retirement in these words: "On account of my many business interests, I have found that I have been unable to devote the necessary amount of time to the club." In the remainder of the document Mr. Freedman congratulated Mr. Brush and the New York base ball club in passing into his hands and ends with the statement that a successful season has just ended and that the financial condition of the club is good.

MANEUVERS WELL EXECUTED

Despite Rain the Engagement at Fort Riley is Brilliant One.

BATES CARES FOR THE NATIONAL GUARD

Gives Its Officers Advantageous Viewing Point, that They May Learn the Lessons of the Mimic Warfare.

PORT RILEY, Kan., Sept. 29.—Marching over a soggy field, swept at frequent intervals by blinding rain driven by a forty-mile gale, the men of the maneuver division carried out their day's program in splendid style. The work was without a flaw and at its conclusion the umpires pronounced it the most satisfactory undertaking that has so far been carried out in the maneuvers. In working out the problem of the day it was presumed that a Blue force, with headquarters at Abilene, Kan., was operating against a Brown force advancing from the east. A division of the latter was presumed to have already reached Stockdale, Kan. Colonel George B. Rodney, of the artillery corps, was in command of the Blues and was camped on the banks of the Republican river on the Port Riley reservation. His command comprised the Sixth battalion of engineers acting as infantry, the Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-eighth batteries of field artillery and the First squadron of the Eighth cavalry.

The plan of the day for Colonel Rodney was to make a demonstration in force toward Stockdale, Kan., and to gain information of the enemy, said to be about 10,000 strong. The Brown division was supposed to be encamped near Stockdale, under the command of James Miller of the Twenty-second infantry. It was reported to Colonel Miller that the command of Colonel Rodney was moving north by way of the Port Riley reservation. He decided to attack and capture the Blue enemy if possible, or at least to drive the enemy from his direct line of retreat through Junction City.

Getting Into Action. The troops left the camp at 8:30 o'clock and thirty minutes after that time the scouts of the Blues, under command of Captain Farber of the Eighth cavalry, were sweeping northward, covering a front of nearly two miles. The Blues gained an advantage at first by seizing Mars Hill, the highest point on the reservation. It was in the direct line of advance and was too strong a position to be abandoned. It was therefore determined to hold it firmly. One company of the Eighth cavalry was dispatched to the southern end of the Mars Hill, where it was employed as infantry. A few minutes later Mars's battery came tramping through the long grass at heading speed. The horses were urged to their utmost speed and the wheels of the carriages bounded frequently a foot from the ground as the battery dashed into position on the crest. It was ready for action in a marvelously small space of time and then issued a wait of nearly forty minutes before any of the Browns made their appearance. Glasses were trained on the horizon to the north and Captain Farber with his scouts pushed straight on to the front believing that the main force of the Browns would be developed in that direction.

However, instead of operating in front Colonel Miller was marching around the right flank of the Blues and endeavoring to gain their rear. The main force of the Brown line a form about one-half size of a pin could be seen. These were the Brown scouts working in toward the right flank and rear of the Blues.

DEVELOPMENT OF OIL FIELDS

Pipe Line to Be Laid Connecting Salt Creek Mills with Casper, Wyo.

CASPER, Wyo., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—It is learned on what is believed to be good authority that the Pennsylvania Oil and Gas company will build a pipe line from its wells in the Salt Creek field, north-west of this place, to connect with the refinery here, in the spring. The company now has thirteen flowing wells, and the output is so great that the old mode of transporting the oil by bull team is now too slow and expensive. It is the intention of the Pennsylvania company to drill a number of new wells, bringing the total up to twenty or twenty-five, and President Shannon of Pittsburg is now on the field making the necessary arrangements to continue drilling operations all winter.

The Pennsylvania company is the only concern that is doing business in the vast section of territory segregated as oil land. It is said that unless the other companies do something to develop this territory, it will be left to the Pennsylvania company to have the thousands of acres held by them thrown open to settlement.

Burglars Wreck a Safe.

HOLBROOK, Neb., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—Burglars entered the large store of Miller & Cooper during Sunday night by forcing open the front door. They blew open the safe but only obtained a small amount, probably $30. The principal damage was to the safe and building. An attempt was made about six months ago to rob the store but the parties were frightened away after having a safe door all soaped ready to light the fuse.

Dismisses Damage Suit.

BEATRICE, Neb., Sept. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—The damage suit of W. E. Williams, secretary of the State Savings and Loan association of this city, against the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company for refusal to furnish him a bond has been dismissed in district court by Judge Lemon on the grounds that plaintiff had no ground for action.

CLOUDS WILL VANISH TODAY

Prediction is of Fair Weather Today and Warmer in Omaha Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Forecast: For Nebraska and North and South Dakota—Fair Tuesday and Wednesday; warmer Tuesday in west portion, and in east portion Wednesday. For Iowa—Fair in west, showers and cooler in east portion, Tuesday; Wednesday fair. For Wyoming and Montana—Fair Tuesday and Wednesday. For Kansas—Fair Tuesday and Wednesday; Colorado—Fair Tuesday, warmer in east portion; Wednesday fair.

Local Record.

OFFICE OF THE WEATHER BUREAU, OMAHA, Sept. 29.—Official record of temperature and precipitation compared with the corresponding day of the past three years:

Table with 4 columns: Year (1902, 1901, 1900, 1899), Maximum temperature, Minimum temperature, Mean temperature, Precipitation. Lists weather data for Omaha.

CONDITION OF THE WEATHER.

Table with 2 columns: Location, Temperature. Lists weather conditions for Omaha, North Platte, etc.

REPORTS FROM STATIONS AT 7 P. M.

Table with 2 columns: Location, Temperature. Lists weather reports for Omaha, Valentine, etc.

MANEUVERS WELL EXECUTED

Despite Rain the Engagement at Fort Riley is Brilliant One.

BATES CARES FOR THE NATIONAL GUARD

Gives Its Officers Advantageous Viewing Point, that They May Learn the Lessons of the Mimic Warfare.

PORT RILEY, Kan., Sept. 29.—Marching over a soggy field, swept at frequent intervals by blinding rain driven by a forty-mile gale, the men of the maneuver division carried out their day's program in splendid style. The work was without a flaw and at its conclusion the umpires pronounced it the most satisfactory undertaking that has so far been carried out in the maneuvers. In working out the problem of the day it was presumed that a Blue force, with headquarters at Abilene, Kan., was operating against a Brown force advancing from the east. A division of the latter was presumed to have already reached Stockdale, Kan. Colonel George B. Rodney, of the artillery corps, was in command of the Blues and was camped on the banks of the Republican river on the Port Riley reservation. His command comprised the Sixth battalion of engineers acting as infantry, the Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-eighth batteries of field artillery and the First squadron of the Eighth cavalry.

The plan of the day for Colonel Rodney was to make a demonstration in force toward Stockdale, Kan., and to gain information of the enemy, said to be about 10,000 strong. The Brown division was supposed to be encamped near Stockdale, under the command of James Miller of the Twenty-second infantry. It was reported to Colonel Miller that the command of Colonel Rodney was moving north by way of the Port Riley reservation. He decided to attack and capture the Blue enemy if possible, or at least to drive the enemy from his direct line of retreat through Junction City.

Getting Into Action. The troops left the camp at 8:30 o'clock and thirty minutes after that time the scouts of the Blues, under command of Captain Farber of the Eighth cavalry, were sweeping northward, covering a front of nearly two miles. The Blues gained an advantage at first by seizing Mars Hill, the highest point on the reservation. It was in the direct line of advance and was too strong a position to be abandoned. It was therefore determined to hold it firmly. One company of the Eighth cavalry was dispatched to the southern end of the Mars Hill, where it was employed as infantry. A few minutes later Mars's battery came tramping through the long grass at heading speed. The horses were urged to their utmost speed and the wheels of the carriages bounded frequently a foot from the ground as the battery dashed into position on the crest. It was ready for action in a marvelously small space of time and then issued a wait of nearly forty minutes before any of the Browns made their appearance. Glasses were trained on the horizon to the north and Captain Farber with his scouts pushed straight on to the front believing that the main force of the Browns would be developed in that direction.

However, instead of operating in front Colonel Miller was marching around the right flank of the Blues and endeavoring to gain their rear. The main force of the Brown line a form about one-half size of a pin could be seen. These were the Brown scouts working in toward the right flank and rear of the Blues.

SCALDED BY AN EXPLOSION

Water of Threshing Boiler Runs Into Firebox and Engineer is Fully Burned.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—John McDougald, engineer of a threshing outfit belonging to Horace Wheeler, was perhaps fatally scalded by the explosion of the boiler. The accident occurred on the farm of a man named Storvik, about twenty-five miles northeast of Sioux Falls. The outfit had just commenced threshing on the Storvik place, when the explosion occurred. The engine, which was of twelve-horse power, was running at full speed when the crown sheet of the boiler was torn from its stay-bolts, forcing the contents of the boiler into the fire-box.

The flames, steam and water were blown out of both ends of the boiler, the engineer receiving the full force of the explosion. Frank Wheeler, the 17-year-old son of the owner of the threshing outfit, who was in the cab with the engineer, escaped without serious injury. The cause of the explosion is unknown, but was probably due to the engineer permitting the water in the boiler to become too low.

OPEN CORN BELT EXPOSITION

Large Attendance and Fine Weather for First Day of the Mitchell Show.

MITCHELL, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—This evening the fourth annual Corn Belt exposition of Mitchell was thrown open to the public. The large building, elegantly decorated with corn, contained an immense crowd of people for the opening night. The invocation was delivered by President Johnson of Dakota university and the address of welcome was delivered by Mayor George A. Sitsby. Debaugh's concert band of Chicago occupied the evening with his concert. It was a successful opening and augurs well for the rest of the ten days. The weather is fine and large crowds are expected during the week. The exposition closes on the evening of October 5. A large number of free street attractions have been provided.

PLUCKY WOMEN SAVE A LIFE

Visitors Drag Their Hostess from Burning Gasoline, Though Badly Burned.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Mrs. A. M. Harris, a resident of this city, and two friends who visited here on a remarkably warm day, were rescued from a horrible death while fleeing a gasoline stove, the gasoline becoming ignited. Mrs. Harris, in attempting to escape, stumbled over a bicycle and was precipitated into the burning gasoline. In an instant her clothing was ablaze. Mrs. Frank Moore and George O'Brien, visitors, succeeded after a desperate fight in saving her life, but not until all three were seriously burned.

FOOT BALL PLAYER IS DEAD

Young Man of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Victim of Injuries Received in Game.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Harry Wilson Jordan, 19 years old, son of Charles Jordan, a Sioux Falls contractor, died last night as the result of injuries received last Thursday in a foot ball game here between the eleven of the Vermillion university and the Sioux Falls Baptist college.

He was a member of the latter team and was injured in the neck and spine. He was partially paralyzed and suffered horribly up to the time of his death.

Files Petition in Bankruptcy.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The firm of Brown, Morse & Co., which owns stores at White and Elkton, upon proper petition has been adjudged bankrupt by Judge Carland of the United States court in this city. The liabilities of the firm are scheduled at over $11,000. W. H. Dickinson, credit man for Tibbs, Hutchinson & Co., wholesalers of St. Paul, has been appointed receiver for the property.

The fact that the son of Charles Jordan, a Sioux Falls contractor, died last night as the result of injuries received last Thursday in a foot ball game here between the eleven of the Vermillion university and the Sioux Falls Baptist college.

Meade County Fusionists.

STURGIS, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The democrats and populists of Meade county held a joint convention this city at the court house Saturday and nominated the following ticket: Representative, J. D. Hale; judge, Geo. T. Payne; auditor, M. F. Hill; register of deeds, B. E. Flathers; treasurer, William Bradley; clerk of courts, Frank Burroughs; sheriff, Jesse Brown.

MANEUVERS WELL EXECUTED

Despite Rain the Engagement at Fort Riley is Brilliant One.

BATES CARES FOR THE NATIONAL GUARD

Gives Its Officers Advantageous Viewing Point, that They May Learn the Lessons of the Mimic Warfare.

PORT RILEY, Kan., Sept. 29.—Marching over a soggy field, swept at frequent intervals by blinding rain driven by a forty-mile gale, the men of the maneuver division carried out their day's program in splendid style. The work was without a flaw and at its conclusion the umpires pronounced it the most satisfactory undertaking that has so far been carried out in the maneuvers. In working out the problem of the day it was presumed that a Blue force, with headquarters at Abilene, Kan., was operating against a Brown force advancing from the east. A division of the latter was presumed to have already reached Stockdale, Kan. Colonel George B. Rodney, of the artillery corps, was in command of the Blues and was camped on the banks of the Republican river on the Port Riley reservation. His command comprised the Sixth battalion of engineers acting as infantry, the Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-eighth batteries of field artillery and the First squadron of the Eighth cavalry.

The plan of the day for Colonel Rodney was to make a demonstration in force toward Stockdale, Kan., and to gain information of the enemy, said to be about 10,000 strong. The Brown division was supposed to be encamped near Stockdale, under the command of James Miller of the Twenty-second infantry. It was reported to Colonel Miller that the command of Colonel Rodney was moving north by way of the Port Riley reservation. He decided to attack and capture the Blue enemy if possible, or at least to drive the enemy from his direct line of retreat through Junction City.

Getting Into Action. The troops left the camp at 8:30 o'clock and thirty minutes after that time the scouts of the Blues, under command of Captain Farber of the Eighth cavalry, were sweeping northward, covering a front of nearly two miles. The Blues gained an advantage at first by seizing Mars Hill, the highest point on the reservation. It was in the direct line of advance and was too strong a position to be abandoned. It was therefore determined to hold it firmly. One company of the Eighth cavalry was dispatched to the southern end of the Mars Hill, where it was employed as infantry. A few minutes later Mars's battery came tramping through the long grass at heading speed. The horses were urged to their utmost speed and the wheels of the carriages bounded frequently a foot from the ground as the battery dashed into position on the crest. It was ready for action in a marvelously small space of time and then issued a wait of nearly forty minutes before any of the Browns made their appearance. Glasses were trained on the horizon to the north and Captain Farber with his scouts pushed straight on to the front believing that the main force of the Browns would be developed in that direction.

However, instead of operating in front Colonel Miller was marching around the right flank of the Blues and endeavoring to gain their rear. The main force of the Brown line a form about one-half size of a pin could be seen. These were the Brown scouts working in toward the right flank and rear of the Blues.

SCALDED BY AN EXPLOSION

Water of Threshing Boiler Runs Into Firebox and Engineer is Fully Burned.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—John McDougald, engineer of a threshing outfit belonging to Horace Wheeler, was perhaps fatally scalded by the explosion of the boiler. The accident occurred on the farm of a man named Storvik, about twenty-five miles northeast of Sioux Falls. The outfit had just commenced threshing on the Storvik place, when the explosion occurred. The engine, which was of twelve-horse power, was running at full speed when the crown sheet of the boiler was torn from its stay-bolts, forcing the contents of the boiler into the fire-box.

The flames, steam and water were blown out of both ends of the boiler, the engineer receiving the full force of the explosion. Frank Wheeler, the 17-year-old son of the owner of the threshing outfit, who was in the cab with the engineer, escaped without serious injury. The cause of the explosion is unknown, but was probably due to the engineer permitting the water in the boiler to become too low.

OPEN CORN BELT EXPOSITION

Large Attendance and Fine Weather for First Day of the Mitchell Show.

MITCHELL, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—This evening the fourth annual Corn Belt exposition of Mitchell was thrown open to the public. The large building, elegantly decorated with corn, contained an immense crowd of people for the opening night. The invocation was delivered by President Johnson of Dakota university and the address of welcome was delivered by Mayor George A. Sitsby. Debaugh's concert band of Chicago occupied the evening with his concert. It was a successful opening and augurs well for the rest of the ten days. The weather is fine and large crowds are expected during the week. The exposition closes on the evening of October 5. A large number of free street attractions have been provided.

PLUCKY WOMEN SAVE A LIFE

Visitors Drag Their Hostess from Burning Gasoline, Though Badly Burned.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Mrs. A. M. Harris, a resident of this city, and two friends who visited here on a remarkably warm day, were rescued from a horrible death while fleeing a gasoline stove, the gasoline becoming ignited. Mrs. Harris, in attempting to escape, stumbled over a bicycle and was precipitated into the burning gasoline. In an instant her clothing was ablaze. Mrs. Frank Moore and George O'Brien, visitors, succeeded after a desperate fight in saving her life, but not until all three were seriously burned.

FOOT BALL PLAYER IS DEAD

Young Man of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Victim of Injuries Received in Game.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Harry Wilson Jordan, 19 years old, son of Charles Jordan, a Sioux Falls contractor, died last night as the result of injuries received last Thursday in a foot ball game here between the eleven of the Vermillion university and the Sioux Falls Baptist college.

He was a member of the latter team and was injured in the neck and spine. He was partially paralyzed and suffered horribly up to the time of his death.

Files Petition in Bankruptcy.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The firm of Brown, Morse & Co., which owns stores at White and Elkton, upon proper petition has been adjudged bankrupt by Judge Carland of the United States court in this city. The liabilities of the firm are scheduled at over $11,000. W. H. Dickinson, credit man for Tibbs, Hutchinson & Co., wholesalers of St. Paul, has been appointed receiver for the property.

The fact that the son of Charles Jordan, a Sioux Falls contractor, died last night as the result of injuries received last Thursday in a foot ball game here between the eleven of the Vermillion university and the Sioux Falls Baptist college.

Meade County Fusionists.

STURGIS, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The democrats and populists of Meade county held a joint convention this city at the court house Saturday and nominated the following ticket: Representative, J. D. Hale; judge, Geo. T. Payne; auditor, M. F. Hill; register of deeds, B. E. Flathers; treasurer, William Bradley; clerk of courts, Frank Burroughs; sheriff, Jesse Brown.

MANEUVERS WELL EXECUTED

Despite Rain the Engagement at Fort Riley is Brilliant One.

BATES CARES FOR THE NATIONAL GUARD

Gives Its Officers Advantageous Viewing Point, that They May Learn the Lessons of the Mimic Warfare.

PORT RILEY, Kan., Sept. 29.—Marching over a soggy field, swept at frequent intervals by blinding rain driven by a forty-mile gale, the men of the maneuver division carried out their day's program in splendid style. The work was without a flaw and at its conclusion the umpires pronounced it the most satisfactory undertaking that has so far been carried out in the maneuvers. In working out the problem of the day it was presumed that a Blue force, with headquarters at Abilene, Kan., was operating against a Brown force advancing from the east. A division of the latter was presumed to have already reached Stockdale, Kan. Colonel George B. Rodney, of the artillery corps, was in command of the Blues and was camped on the banks of the Republican river on the Port Riley reservation. His command comprised the Sixth battalion of engineers acting as infantry, the Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-eighth batteries of field artillery and the First squadron of the Eighth cavalry.

The plan of the day for Colonel Rodney was to make a demonstration in force toward Stockdale, Kan., and to gain information of the enemy, said to be about 10,000 strong. The Brown division was supposed to be encamped near Stockdale, under the command of James Miller of the Twenty-second infantry. It was reported to Colonel Miller that the command of Colonel Rodney was moving north by way of the Port Riley reservation. He decided to attack and capture the Blue enemy if possible, or at least to drive the enemy from his direct line of retreat through Junction City.

Getting Into Action. The troops left the camp at 8:30 o'clock and thirty minutes after that time the scouts of the Blues, under command of Captain Farber of the Eighth cavalry, were sweeping northward, covering a front of nearly two miles. The Blues gained an advantage at first by seizing Mars Hill, the highest point on the reservation. It was in the direct line of advance and was too strong a position to be abandoned. It was therefore determined to hold it firmly. One company of the Eighth cavalry was dispatched to the southern end of the Mars Hill, where it was employed as infantry. A few minutes later Mars's battery came tramping through the long grass at heading speed. The horses were urged to their utmost speed and the wheels of the carriages bounded frequently a foot from the ground as the battery dashed into position on the crest. It was ready for action in a marvelously small space of time and then issued a wait of nearly forty minutes before any of the Browns made their appearance. Glasses were trained on the horizon to the north and Captain Farber with his scouts pushed straight on to the front believing that the main force of the Browns would be developed in that direction.

However, instead of operating in front Colonel Miller was marching around the right flank of the Blues and endeavoring to gain their rear. The main force of the Brown line a form about one-half size of a pin could be seen. These were the Brown scouts working in toward the right flank and rear of the Blues.

SCALDED BY AN EXPLOSION

Water of Threshing Boiler Runs Into Firebox and Engineer is Fully Burned.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—John McDougald, engineer of a threshing outfit belonging to Horace Wheeler, was perhaps fatally scalded by the explosion of the boiler. The accident occurred on the farm of a man named Storvik, about twenty-five miles northeast of Sioux Falls. The outfit had just commenced threshing on the Storvik place, when the explosion occurred. The engine, which was of twelve-horse power, was running at full speed when the crown sheet of the boiler was torn from its stay-bolts, forcing the contents of the boiler into the fire-box.

The flames, steam and water were blown out of both ends of the boiler, the engineer receiving the full force of the explosion. Frank Wheeler, the 17-year-old son of the owner of the threshing outfit, who was in the cab with the engineer, escaped without serious injury. The cause of the explosion is unknown, but was probably due to the engineer permitting the water in the boiler to become too low.

OPEN CORN BELT EXPOSITION

Large Attendance and Fine Weather for First Day of the Mitchell Show.

MITCHELL, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—This evening the fourth annual Corn Belt exposition of Mitchell was thrown open to the public. The large building, elegantly decorated with corn, contained an immense crowd of people for the opening night. The invocation was delivered by President Johnson of Dakota university and the address of welcome was delivered by Mayor George A. Sitsby. Debaugh's concert band of Chicago occupied the evening with his concert. It was a successful opening and augurs well for the rest of the ten days. The weather is fine and large crowds are expected during the week. The exposition closes on the evening of October 5. A large number of free street attractions have been provided.

PLUCKY WOMEN SAVE A LIFE

Visitors Drag Their Hostess from Burning Gasoline, Though Badly Burned.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Mrs. A. M. Harris, a resident of this city, and two friends who visited here on a remarkably warm day, were rescued from a horrible death while fleeing a gasoline stove, the gasoline becoming ignited. Mrs. Harris, in attempting to escape, stumbled over a bicycle and was precipitated into the burning gasoline. In an instant her clothing was ablaze. Mrs. Frank Moore and George O'Brien, visitors, succeeded after a desperate fight in saving her life, but not until all three were seriously burned.

FOOT BALL PLAYER IS DEAD

Young Man of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Victim of Injuries Received in Game.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Harry Wilson Jordan, 19 years old, son of Charles Jordan, a Sioux Falls contractor, died last night as the result of injuries received last Thursday in a foot ball game here between the eleven of the Vermillion university and the Sioux Falls Baptist college.

He was a member of the latter team and was injured in the neck and spine. He was partially paralyzed and suffered horribly up to the time of his death.

Files Petition in Bankruptcy.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The firm of Brown, Morse & Co., which owns stores at White and Elkton, upon proper petition has been adjudged bankrupt by Judge Carland of the United States court in this city. The liabilities of the firm are scheduled at over $11,000. W. H. Dickinson, credit man for Tibbs, Hutchinson & Co., wholesalers of St. Paul, has been appointed receiver for the property.

The fact that the son of Charles Jordan, a Sioux Falls contractor, died last night as the result of injuries received last Thursday in a foot ball game here between the eleven of the Vermillion university and the Sioux Falls Baptist college.

Meade County Fusionists.

STURGIS, S. D., Sept. 29.—(Special.)—The democrats and populists of Meade county held a joint convention this city at the court house Saturday and nominated the following ticket: Representative, J. D. Hale; judge, Geo. T. Payne; auditor, M. F. Hill; register of deeds, B. E. Flathers; treasurer, William Bradley; clerk of courts, Frank Burroughs; sheriff, Jesse Brown.

Light Biscuits; Light Cakes; Light Pastry; and, Light Hearts, Quick-as-a-Wink!

And the demand is such that we doubt if you can buy it.

The H-O Company

Rock Island System G.A.R.

TO BUILD ANOTHER TRACK Union Pacific Railway to Be a Double Track System from Omaha to Salt Lake.

Washington (and return) $28.05

The Official Route for Nebraska and Iowa

Two solid through trains of standard and tourist sleepers and chair cars, without change, from OMAHA.

Tickets on sale October 2, 3, 4, 5. Final return limit, November 3.

LIBERAL STOPOVER PRIVILEGES.

For further information call at or address Rock Island System City Ticket Office, 1323 FARNAM STREET, OMAHA.

All the Parts the Living Animals of the World

the World NOW READY