THAT ONE HUNDRED DOLLAR PRIZE

THAT ONE HUNDRED DOLLAR PRIZE. We gave the outlines for six words and offered $100 to any Gregg writer who could use a briefer outline and yet write the words in full. While hundreds of writers and teachers of the Gregg system examined them not a single one was able to shorten them. This opportunity was also extended to you. Two weeks ago you said: "Next week we will attend to the challenge." Gregg writers of Nebraska were looking to you for a solution of the problem, but instead of giving a solu-tion you have endeavored to divert their attention from these "preposterous" outlines by issuing a series of challenges to us under the title of "Thirteen-Inch Shells." You admit you cannot shorten these outlices and yet write the words in full. This shows where your system is weak and undeveloped. You say a Gregg writer would laugh at the outlines; so he would. He would also be disgusted. Tou leave the im-pression that you would write them differently. By looking on page 296 of the Sep-tember number of the Gregg Writer, of which you are editor, you will find an out-tie for one of the words we gave you, namely, Grand Rapids. Please look at it and tell us how it differs from the one which you say is preposterous. You perhaps re-member that at the Gregg convention held in Chicago in 1900, you were asked to write on the blackboard the word Portland. The outline you gave corresponds er-sewel." Please try again. We extend the time indefinitely. YOULR "THIRTEEN_INCCH SHELLS."

YOUR "THIRTEEN-INCH SHELLS."

YOUK "IHIRIEEN-INCH SHELLS." In last Sunday's Bee you graciously made us a few challenges and we accept all but two of them for fear we lose the opportunity. We like this sort of reciprocity, or change of courtesies, because it promises substantial reward. To remove any doubt that your challenges were made in good faith and that you did not intend to bluff us or deceive our people, please deposit in one of the Omaha banks the amount you have offered and we are ready. Challenge No. 1 accepted. Challenge No. 2 not accepted. The Practical Stenogra-pher was published for our own use and was never put upon the market. Challenge No. 6, first part accepted. Challenge No. 7, this is ridiculous. You might as well expect a goose to swim without going into the water, as to expect Mosher to write that article correctly in Mosher shorthand without using the principles of his sys-tem. Mosher will write this article correctly in the Pitman, Graham, Gregg or Mosher systems. Will that be satisfactory?

A SUGGESTION.

A SUGGESTION. In conclusion permit us to say that your generosity suggests the thought that we ought also to be generous. In an endeavor to do so we make you an offer which if accepted, will do more toward terminating our present delightful relations than anything you have thus far said or done. It is as follows: We will name a place and date for a public debate between you and Prof. Mosher upon the following resolution: Resolved, "That the Mosher system of shorthand is more legible and rapid than the Gregg." Affirmative, F. W. Mosher; negative, John R. Gregg. All preliminaries to be arranged. We agree to pay your fare to and from Omaha, your hotel bills while here for this purpose and the expense of a hall. Now if you are not willing to go into court to determine your legal rights, will you not have the cour-age to come to Omaha and have a public discussion with Frof. Mosher under the above named conditions for the purpose of determining the merits of the respective rystems? By accepting this opportunity you will convince our people that you are willing to conduct an honorable campaign. If you continue to remain five hundred miles away from Omaha and induige in your "mud-sitinging" tactics, for the soile purpose of injuring Prof. Mosher and induige in your "mud-sitinging" tactics, for the soile purpose of injuring Prof. Mosher and the Omaha Commercial College, you deserve the condem-nation of all persons who love justice and deprecate the use of despicable means to attain an end. We have the courts to attain the starts.

A Plain Statement.

No. Mesars. Rohrbough, we are not worried about the "improvements" (save the mark) that "Professor" Mosher has made, nor are we trying to "tear down schools long established." On the contrary, we are doing all we can to build up all the reputable commercial schools of Nebraska which are teaching Gregg Shorthand in its standard form-and we are succeeding wonderfully. Of course we are not recommending a clumsy, inefficient imitation of Gregg Shorthand.

Everyone who has read this column understands that we are simply protecting our good name from being associated with such a word as "Mosher Shorthand." We will not permit the name GREGG to be used in that connection. If Messre. Rohrbough Brothers believe "Mosher Shorthand" to be an improvement, why do they not let it stand on its merits instead of attempting to bolster it up by the use of the well earned reputation of Gregg Shorthand.

To the Shorthand Student.

We cordially recommend to the intend ing shorthand student the schools in Nebraska teaching Gregg Shorthand from the REVISED EDITION, which contains all the improvements that are sanctioned by the expert writers of the system throughout the country-the style in which the splend id records of the system have been made and which will stand the stress of rapid note-taking. In that style the student will have open to him our magazine and literature for reading and writing practice.

On receipt of a postal card we will be pleased to send you an interesting booklet.
