After the jury had been impaneled yesterday morning in the suit of George J Williams against J. A. Seddon, the case was dismissed by the plaintiff, without prefudice. The plaintiff is the father of Roy Williams, who with other residents of Neola was indicted and convicted a year ago of creating a disturbance and otherwise misbehaving himself in Neola. Seddon is a saloon keeper and Williams alleged he had supplied his son with liquor, resulting in his arrest and conviction. Seddon's bending company was made a party to the suit.

Judge Macy left last evening for his home in Harlan to spend Sunday with his family and will reconvene district court Monday afternoop, when the personal injury damage suit of W E. Hoye against the motor company is one of the cases subject to call.

Company Incorporated to Build Warehouse for Big Implement Business.

STOCK OF THE NEW FIRM IS ALL TAKEN

Business Will Open Up as Soon as the Building Can Be Erected-Lucius Wells in the Enterprise.

Articles of incorporation of the Waretouse Construction company No. 2 of Council Bluffs were filed yesterday afternoon in the office of the county recorder. This means that the establishment of another large wholesale agricultural implement house, as stated exclusively in The Ree a few days ago, is now an assured fact. The Fuller & Johnson company of Madison, Wis., will establish a branch house in Daniel E., the infant son of Mr. and Mrs.

P. Lynch of 1723 Eighth avenue, died yesterday evening of whooping cough, aged 14 weeks. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence and burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

From The observation of Mrs. Council Bluffs as soon as the warehouse to be built by the company, the articles of incorporation of which were filed yesterday, is erected. This branch of the Fuller & Johnson company will be known as the Fuller & Johnson-Shugart company.

The incorporators of the Warehouse Comstruction company No. 2 of Council Bluffs are E. H. Merriam, C. W. McDonald, F. R. Davis, William Moore, H. W. Binder, E. W. Hart, A. Beresheim, T. N. Petersen, John Schoentgen, A. W. Wyman, Leonard Everett, E. L. Shugart, N. P. Dodge, E. E. Hart, William Groneweg, P. Gunnoude, H. A. Quinn, L. A. Casper, J. R. Reed, S. G. Underwood. This list is a representative one, each one of the incorporators being a well known business man of Council Bluffs.

The Warehouse Construction company is apitalized at $50,000, divided into 500 shares of $100 each, and it is announced that all the capital is assured. The company is incorporated for twenty years.

The Warehouse Construction company is a similar corporation to that organized two years ago by many of the business men of the city to erect a warehouse for the Warder, Bushnell & Glessner company. The site of the warehouse for the Fuller & Johnson-Shugart company has not yet been decided upon, but it is said that the company favors the site of what is known as the Deere-Wells company property on South Main street, and that in all probability the warehouse will be erected there. As previously stated, the Fuller & Johnson Manufacturing company of Madison, Wis., had agreed to take 55 per cent of the stock of the branch house here, provided the remaining 45 per cent would be subscribed for locally. It was stated yesterday that all the stock had been subscribed "The Coal Strike from the Christian for and that there was nothing now to delay the establishment of this new agricultural implement house in the city. Lucius the First Congregational church. There Wells, formerly a member of Deere, Wells & Co., and one of the best known implement men in the middle west, will be general manager of the new firm.

The new firm of Fuller & Johnson-Shugart company will be incorporated in Wisconsin. The capital stock, it is said, will be $50,000, all of which has been subscribed for. Work on the warehouse will be comp. m. Sunday school and the meeting of the Christian Endeavor society will be held completion, so that the new firm will be in position to open business here about the summer.

Mistake in Levy Certificate.

County Auditor Innes received word from Secretary Davison of the state executive council yesterday that the circular sent out by him certifying the levy for general state purposes to be 5 mills instead of 31/4 mills, was an error and that the mistake was due to a typographical error. Accompanying the letter of explanation was a corrected certificate. As soon as the corrected certificate was received work was resumed in the county auditor's office on the tax books for 1902. The county auditor was much relieved to find that the first certificate received from the auditor of state was correct and that the work on the tax books would not have to be done all over again.

Compulsory Law and Vaccination. State Superintendent Barrett has ruled. in reply to an inquiry, that there is no conflict between the law for compulsory attendance at school in Iowa and the regulations of school boards for compulsory vaccination. He holds that the boards may continue to enforce the vaccination orders, because there is an alternative in the school law, by which the pupil may be sent to a private or parochial school or be given private instruction. Therefore, if persons have conscientious scruples about ccination and refuse to permit their chil dren to be vaccinated, this does not relieve them from the requirement that the children must attend school for twelve consecutive weeks. PULPIT IS DECLARED VACANT Baptist Minister at Jesup, Ia., is Said to Be Guilty of Serious Offense.

WATERLOO, Ia., Oct. 4 .- (Special.) -The pulpit of the Baptist church at Jesup has been declared vacant by a committee from this city composed of Rev. J. A. Earl, J. R. Vaughan and I. E. Munger, who were called to that place to investigate the doings of Rev. Bryant and take action thereon.

Rev. Bryant deserted his family some weeks ago, going east, where he still remains in the state of New York. His wife and child are in this city and they are the recipients of much deserved sympathy, being innocent victims of the misdoings of the reverend gentleman who, without doubt, lived a double life. While attending the national convention of the Baptist Young People's union at Providence, R. L. he became enamored of a young woman of that city and carried on a secret correspondence with her on his return through the aid of a confederate in this city.

The letters were found in his pocket by Mrs. Bryant and this brought the rupture to the family circle. He came to this city under the pretense that he would explain all, and then escaping by a livery route he took the train from Jesup and has not re turned. He borrowed from some Jesup friends on his personal note and they are anxiously awaiting the date of payment He (Bryant) was a fast young man in his youth, but was converted and had filled the pulpit very acceptably. He was a brilliant thinker and orator and was held in high esteem by his congregation-so high that there are still some who refuse to believe that he is in the wrong. He will enter some line of trade, he writes to friends, as his doings have followed him to his new lo cation and would interfere with successful pastoral pursuits.
