VENTILATES ROWE CONTRACT

School Beard Warms Up Over Heating and Ventilating Job.

ARCHITECT LATENSEH RESENTS CHARGES

W. F. Johnson Repents Story of Suspleious Action, Which Architect Declares to Be Paine-Salary Question Up Again.

Variety characterized the meeting of the Board of Education last evening and so rapid and marked were the changes in the mood of the body during its proceed ings as to be at times almost startling. From seriousness so intense that it closely approached the tragic to levity of the Hightest character the members passed with one accord in almost instantaneous transition. Discussion in terms of most pretentious rhetoric was without any intermediate stage thrown aside for argument in the slang vernacular. Rigid economy in the treatment of one measure was closely followed by liberality in the action upon another. Even the members in presenting a question were at a loss to know in what spirit it would be received.

Almost at the outset of the meeting the proceedings took on a very serious aspect. The committee on buildings and property reported recommending the payment of the balance due John Rowe & Co. on the contract for the heating and ventilating plant in the High school, amounting to $2,076, and also the sum of $100 on a bill of extras, that being the amount agreed upon in settlement of an original claim of $390.26 The report also recommended that the amounts mentioned be included in the claims report for the evening. Brings Animated Discussion.

This report provoked an animated discussion as to the performance of the contract, during which was reviewed a great deal of the history of the differences which had occurred beteween Rowe & Co. and John Latenser, the architect who drew the plans and specifications. W. F. Johnson vigorously upheld the claim of Mr. Rowe Admitting that Mr. Rowe had departed from the specifications of the architect. Mr. Johnson declared that unless he had done so the plant could never have been made to operate successfully. Some of the members contended that Mr. Rowe had no right under any circumstances to depart from the plans and specifications under which he had accepted the contract, and Mr. Latenser was given the floor to state that had the contractor followed the plans and specifications implicitly no trouble would have been experienced, but as some changes had been made others were found necessary. Mr. Latenser, in the course of his remarks, stated that the representation that changes were necessary were entirely false. Then W. F. Johnson said he had beeen informed that Mr. Latenser had asked Mr. Rowe what he would give to get this contract, and when Mr. Rowe replied that he would take his own chances, relying entirely on his bld, Mr. Latenser had BOYS' used all the influence he could bring to bear to get the contract for another bidder whose bid was not the lowest. He had also been informed that Mr. Latenser had done everything in his power to embarrass Mr Rowe in the performance of the contract. This Mr. Latenser denied as being entirely false. After some further discussion a motion by J. J. Smith to refer the report to a special committee was adopted by a vote for the boys' rally, to be held at the asof 8 to 4, the members who were absent being Theodore Johnson, Mr. Maynard and

Mr. Wood. Some Salaries Raised.

The question of salaries, which has given the board much concern of late, came in for still further attention at this meeting. When the report of the committee on claims approving the payroll was presented, W. F. Johnson moved to amend by making the salary of Nathan Bernstein, head of the department of physics at the High school, $130 Instead of $120. Mr. Bernstein, he said, was made acting director of that department last year, but the salary was not increased at that time. He had since been given the position permanently and should get the full salary of his position. Robert Smith moved to amend the amendment by raising the salaries of several other members of the High school staff, among whom was mentioned Prof. Waterhouse, to be advanced to the salary of $2,500 per year, but that amendment was ruled out by President Barnard as "not amending anything." The amendment of Mr. Johnson was adopted. Later, by resolution introduced by Robert Smith, the salary of Arthur Pearse, who was appointed acting director of the biology department this fall, was increased from $90 to $110 per month.

The committee on high school reported recommending that nine additional typewriting machines be secured for use in the commercial department and Mr. McIntosh immediately moved an amendment abolishing the teaching of typewriting in the schools. This amendment carried, only Robert Smith and Mr. Cermak voting in the

The recommendation of the committee on high school that the biology department of the High school be moved to the new building was adopted. Mr. Homan moved to amend by including the department of physics, but his motion was lost.

Junitors Want More Money.

To the committee on heating and ventilating was referred a petition from the janitors of the schools, twenty-six in number, asking the board to restore their salaries as they were before the cut of 1895 and stating that owing to the increased cost of living they felt themselves justified in making this request. Appended to this petition were two notations in lead pencil, as follows: "Me too, C. E. Herring:" "Me too, J. F. Burgess."

A communication from Superintendent Pearse stated that reports which he had received from principals of schools showed the total membership on September 26 to have been 15.875, which was 364 pupils less than at the same period of last year. He further stated that he had learned from these reports that there were four rooms in which the membership exceeded fiftyfive, and, including suburban schools nineteen rooms in which the membership was

On recommendation of the committee on uildings and property a bill of John Latenser, amounting to $109.80 for drawing plans for the new smokestack of the High school, was allowed and included in the appropriation resolution. On the same ecommendation and in the same manner provision was made for the payment of $100 to J. Y. Craig, landscape gardener, and George Craig, engineer, for laying out the

RALLY IS ARRANGED

It Will Occur at Young Men's Christian Association October 18.

The Young Men's Christian association and the Christian church convention committee have completed the arrangements sociation rooms at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, October 19. The leaders of this rally will be Rev. B. B. Tyler and A. W. Connor, editor of The Boys Friend, of Indianapolis, Ind. Mr. Connor will speak upon the subject of "The Boy World and Its Inhabitants," while the subject to be treated by Dr. Tyler has not been anrally, which is intended to be the largest of its kind ever held in Omaha. A slight hitch has occurred in the arrangements for the Young Men's Christian association rally, to be held Sunday October 19. It was the desire of the Chris tian church committee to have the meet ing held at the Collecum, where room would be ample for all persons to hear the speakers. Members of the local association, however, have desired to change the meeting place from the Collseum to the First Methodist church. In favor of the change it is said by the association members that they desire the meeting for Omaha people and do not care for the attendance of the visitors, as they hope by the rally to strengthen the local organization and to assist it in its efforts to maintain a missionary in China; that the people of the city will be more likely to attend the meeting at the First Methodist church than at the Coliseum and that those who can obtain seats in the building will be better cared for. On the other hand the church committee maintains that features of the convention, that the delegates from the different states will come expecting to hear addresses by men who to hold the meeting in a building where the delegates could not be accommodated.

WEST ABLE TO STAND ALONE

Omaha Bank President Says New York Help is Not Needed.

MONEY TIGHT AT EASTERN METROPOLIS

Resources of Western Bankers Ample to Take Care of All Legitimate Business-No Enstern Securities Wanted.

Gurdon W. Wattles has returned from New York, where he has been for a week or more. He was with Mr. Murphy and Mr. Morse in the work on the sale of the street car lines of the city, but on that subject will say nothing definite. "Mr. Murphy and Mr. Morse have the matter in charge," he said, "and while I have been advised of the present situation I prefer to say nothing and let Mr. Murphy speak for publication when he returns."

On general conditions in New York Mr. Wattles said: "Banking circles in New York are very much excited, as you are aware. While there is no danger of failures among the associated national banks and the entire strength of the clearing house association will be used to protect each and every one, there is some danger to be looked for among the trust companies, which are not so closely allied. Conservative bankers in New York who keep a close watch upon the trend of events are not exactly satisfied with the plan of Secretary Shaw to permit the bankers to ignore the 25 per cent reserve clause in regard to government deposits. While the government is fully protected as far as its deposits are concerned, by reason of the bonds deposited with the treasurer by the bankers, the commercial depositors are not so well protected as when the government deposit is taken into account in making the reserve These conservative bankers say the secretary has played his last card in the interests of extending the credit of the banks and if worse times come he is unable to do more, so they question the expediency o walving the reserve clause at this time.

Independent of New York. "As far as I can learn, western bankers are far more independent of New York than they have ever been before. We have enough money to care for legitimate bustness and none for speculative enterprises which, however, do not exist to any extent in this part of the country. New York could not help us if we needed help, so we have to stand on our own resources. oughbreds in the country, and base ball It is fortunate for us that those resources are as large as they are at this time, as practically every bank must stand by itself and protect its own business. So far as the west is concerned the banks were never in better condition to show their strength-never were as strong. A crisis in New York would have less effect today than it would have had at any other Western deposits in New York are comparatively large. When we went into the fall season of activity those deposits were generally larger, but they have been reduced.

"As a general thing the western banker is afraid of New York securities and while there are some good securities which are calling for money from any source, the western hanker has not the time nor the desire to investigate those securities and select the good from the bad. As long as present opportunities continue for the investment of money in western securities, which he knows are all right, he will not attempt to select the good from the bad, but will let them all alone."
