

CRIMINAL COURT GETS BUSY

Fifteen Prisoners Appear Before Judge Baxter and Say "Not Guilty."

DALZELL'S ICE HOUSE GETS ATTENTION

Owner is to be Tried Before a Jury for Erecting Frame Building Within Fire Limits—Murder Trial Coming.

Figuratively speaking, the criminal branch of the district court rolled up its sleeves yesterday and began grading that way of the transgressor which is said to be hard.

The structure complained of is an ice house at the northeast corner of Nineteenth and Cumings streets. When last fully Judge Berka fined Mr. Dalzell $25 the latter grew warm over what he considered a cold deal and early announced that he would take his ice house, or the complaint against it, into district court, where a jury could sit on it.

When the case is disposed of the county attorney probably will begin his action against William Heap, brought here from Wyoming some months ago on the complaint of the Perry Commission company of South Omaha, that he had lunched in a cattle deal.

The case to be called next is not yet decided upon, but very soon Anton Christianson is to face the charge of murdering his wife at their apartments on Dodge street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth, a few weeks ago. He was not among those arraigned yesterday morning, however.

Principally minor offenders. The list included principally minor offenders, all of whom pleaded not guilty and for most of whom counsel had to be furnished.

John Penton was charged with robbing William Edwards of $5 on August 1. Emil Branding with breaking and entering in the day time the shop of Mortenson & Norgreen and taking therefrom $10 worth of staves and $200 worth of old coins; Patrick Malloy with stealing $50 worth of jewelry from a residence September 3; James McDonald with relieving Margaret Bolin's core of many Virginia cigarettes, valued at $2 per box, and some Montana incense sticks, valued in the dark, at $1 per box; Charles Cavanaugh with burglary committed at the expense of the Dunning Hardware company; Alfred Liebercher with criminally assaulting Hattie Pickard of Valley; Joseph Nelson with similar crime, twice committed, upon Florence Moore of North Omaha, aged 11; James Williams with breaking and entering John H. Carr's residence with intent to steal; Albert McIntosh with crimes against nature; Harry Tannebaum and Arthur Adams with burglary; Minnie Lynch with intent to wound Blanche O'Neill; Frank Svoboda with short-changing Scott D. Dunn out of $25 worth of cigars by doing a little trick with a short crowbar. Svoboda is only a youngster, apparently, but he is real pert and blandly assured the judge that he had paid "a whole lot" of money to the lawyer to do the trick, but that the latter had apparently "slid out of the game and took the ten bucks with him." The court appointed counsel.

Martin S. Rowley, former timekeeper at Armour's, in South Omaha, pleaded not guilty in two counts of forgery, the instruments named in the complaint being an employe's receipt for $21.87, signed with the name "J. Kaley" and dated February 15, 1902; another signed "J. Walker," dated November 23, 1901, and for $84.75.

Measuring Depth of Sleep. Recent investigations by two physicians at Rome as to the depth of sleep have been carried on by means of an instrument called an "ethiometer," invented by Prof. Grisebach. This instrument probes the flesh of the sleeper with pins of steel, varying in sharpness. A register of the depth of sleep is thus provided by means of the amount of pain inflicted necessary to awake the subject.

INJURED BY RUNAWAY TEAM

C. C. King Has Shoulder Dislocated by Being Thrown from Buggy.

A team driven by William Smith, employed by the Booth Oyster company, became frightened at Eleventh and Howard streets at 8 o'clock yesterday morning and ran away. At Twelfth and Howard the team collided with a buggy driven by C. C. King, a salesman for a wholesale grocery firm, upset that, three King out and badly injured him. His head was cut and one shoulder was dislocated. King was taken to his home, 1513 South Twenty-sixth street, by friends and medical aid summoned. King's buggy was completely demolished, in one wheel not a spoke being left. The team was caught and no other damage was done.

ONE COAL STRIKE IS SETTLED

Miners in Northern Missouri Will Return to Work Friday Morning.

Yesterday morning at Kansas City the strike of the coal miners in the Danforth and Novinger districts, in the northern part of Missouri, was declared off and the men are to resume work Friday morning. The settlement of this strike ends the trouble in the Missouri fields.

COMPLAINT AGAINST KITCHEN

Mrs. Whalen Joins in Suit for Receiver for Faxon Hotel Property.

Mrs. Elizabeth Whalen has joined Rome Miller in his suit against J. B. Kitchen and the Kitchen Hotel company for an accounting and the appointment of a receiver for the property. She alleges that at the time the lease of the Kitchen Hotel was held 250 shares and J. B. Kitchen 250; that Richard gave 157 shares to her sons, and that of the remaining ninety-three she held five; that notwithstanding her interest in the property no accounting has been made to her, and that the recent sale of the adjoining strip of property to the hotel company for $75,000 was $40,000 in excess of a fair purchase price.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

How long will it take the man to fill the sack if he does not stop the leak? To attempt to enrich the body when the stomach is diseased is like trying to fill the sack with the hole in it. When the stomach is diseased, varying in other digestive and nutritive organs are diseased, there is a constant loss of nutrition. Enough is eaten but the body loses flesh, plain proof that the food eaten is largely wasted because it is not digested and assimilated. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It stops the leaks by which nutrition is lost, and enables the building up of the body by the nutrition derived from food. The gain in weight proves the cure.

TO GOVERN BURIAL PLACES

Cemetery Association Urges the City Health Department to Adopt Rules.

An urgent appeal has been made to the health department for the adoption of rules to govern cemeteries and burial places and the question will be presented before the Advisory board at its next meeting. This question is being pushed forward chiefly by the Prospect Hill Cemetery association, to whom it is of vital interest by reason of recent developments in its business affairs.

When the Prospect Hill Cemetery association not long since acquired additional land adjoining its former holdings for the purpose of enlarging the cemetery and increasing the burial facilities litigation arose in an attempt on the part of property owners in that vicinity to prevent the use of the newly acquired land for burial purposes and the decision of the courts was in effect that the property could not be so used until regulations had been established to preclude any possibility of unsanitary conditions in the cemetery and danger to those residing in that vicinity. At present there are no rules governing the management or conduct of cemeteries in this city and the Prospect Hill association is engaged in an effort to induce the health department to adopt such rules. To that end C. A. Baldwin, president of the association, called yesterday upon health Commissioner Ralph, who has promised that he will bring the matter before the Advisory board at its next meeting.

Dr. Ralph said: "The city certainly should have rules for the government of cemeteries and the department of health is, I presume, the proper authority to make the rules. The depth of graves should be definitely determined and there are many other equally important regulations that should be rigidly laid down to preserve the sanitary condition of a burial ground and prevent contamination of wells in the neighborhood."

TRIBUTATIONS IN MATRIMONY

Divorce Calendar in District Court is Having Unusually Strong Run.

By the terms of an order signed by Judge Sibaugh Harry Easton is restrained from molesting, entering the apartments of or even speaking to his wife, Hattie E. Easton, resident in the Dunning flats, pending the decision of the divorce case she has instituted. Matias Pelan has secured from Judge Baxter a decree that frees him from Marie Pelan, who had, he alleged, abandoned him. Judge Dickinson has given Anna E. Bennett divorce from John C. Bennett because of alleged drunkenness and cruelty and Cora Belle Deubery similar severance from Frank H. Deubery, who, she charged, was extremely cruel in his treatment of her. The latter is restored her maiden name of Collier.

Ann Scharchuk has dismissed her suit against Edward Chesnek, the latter having decided, since she went into court, to marry her and assume night patrol duty on the nursery carpet without further protest. Julia Vogel has filed a petition for divorce, relating that Charles Vogel, who, less than a year ago at Pembina, N. D., married her for better or for worse, has already deserted her "for good."

A married woman, uncertain as to whether she is Ella J. Reed or Ella J. Reed Hines, concluded to be neither and has succeeded in persuading the district court to make her Ella J. Newton, whom she was before she married. In its decree the court states that it has been shown that the husband came into the world as Frank Hines, was adopted into the Reed family as Frank Hines Reed, conducted business as Frank Reed, but married as Frank Reed Hines. He was, it is further found, not just the gentle, kind, "well-broke" marital mate that a woman might be entitled to demand and so the decree was given.

FIRST CHURCH WANTS PASTOR

Methodist Pulpit Supply Committee Meets, but Takes No Definite Action.

The pulpit supply committee of the First Methodist Episcopal church held a meeting yesterday, but nothing definite was accomplished toward securing a pastor. A number of possibilities were discussed, but any decided action was postponed till the receipt of replies from several "feeders" which are now out from the committee to different ministers over the country. Mr. A. T. Austin reports results from his scouring trip through the east.

It has just been learned that Rev. R. L. Harburt, of the First church at Burlington, Ia., will be able to come and preach in the Omaha church next Sunday. He stands very high in the church and is just commencing his seventh year in his present position. The pulpit committee was very desirous of securing him for this place, but was a few days too late, he having accepted the unanimous call of his board for the seventh year.

Price of Feders.

With the prospect of lower prices for feeders and the good prospect for winter feed, the range grass steers will compete with corn and alfalfa for the feed that will be used in the winter. The prices will be lower than the price for the same grade of cattle are now.

Announcements of the Theaters.

"The Wizard of Oz," the new extravaganza which will be seen here at Boyd's tonight, is described as a skillful fusion of the most attractive elements of comic opera, extravaganza, pantomime and up-to-date musical comedy. The play opens on a Kansas prairie, showing the yokels at work in the hayfields adjoining the old homestead. The number of a distant storm is heard, and in full view of the audience a realistic cyclone descends upon the Kansas farm, carrying away the house with the heroine, little Dorothy inside of it. Then by means of a marvelous mechanical effect, the cyclone is disclosed to the audience in all its fury and potency, as it whirrs the old house over villages and prairies, over steeples, rooftops and towering trees until the storm subsides and the house descends in a mysterious region known as the "Land of the Munchkins," which is only another name for fairyland. The third act transpires in the throne room of the queen of Dreamland, and this is said to excel any stage picture ever shown in a modern spectacle.

MARGIN ON FINISHED FEEDERS

Financial Outcomes of Feeding Cattle Hard to Forecast at Present.

ENOUGH CATTLE TO SUPPLY ALL DEMANDS

Price of New Corn Will Largely Determine the Cost of Making Cornfed Beef for the Market.

An insurance company that would insure cattle feeders a profit in their operations would receive, as it would deserve, a large patronage. Probably there is no business of the same magnitude in the country that is subject to more vicissitudes of fortune than involves the same risks at feeding cattle. Perhaps there has never been a time when the financial outcome has been harder to forecast than the present. There is an old maxim, "That goods will be bought were half sold." That goods will be bought were half sold. Those who practice this bit of wisdom are the ones who will come out ahead.

Many of those who bought feeders up to October intended to feed them about three or four months and put them on the market after the supply of grass beef is exhausted, when they probably find a favorable market and bring good prices. Those who bought feeders expecting to feed them through until spring months have paid a price that will require good management to return a profit.

Big Supply of Feeders. The receipts of cattle at six principal western points last week were beyond 250,000. It is fair to estimate that one-half of these were feeders and that in the months of August and September 1,000,000 head of cattle went into feed yards. The prospect is good for as many more to follow, thus making 2,000,000 rangers that will be cornfed. This number added to the farm-grown steers will give a heavy supply of cornfed cattle next spring. It would be a bold prophet indeed who should forecast the price of beef so far in advance, but unless all laws of supply and demand are set at naught lower prices must prevail.

A cry is heard that the supply of feeders from out of the range country is running low. P. L. Decker, of South Dakota, who was on the South Omaha market last week with a trainload of feeders, says the movement from his section of country has hardly begun and that the northern rangers are still full of cattle, many of them steers 4 to 6 years old. He says the reduced prices of cattle brought in the week will sell ranchmen well and that there is a good profit for him in selling 3-year-old steers for $25.

T. C. Phillips of Alliance, Neb., says that there are still plenty of steers in northern Nebraska, the winter feed is good, that ranchmen are not disposed to sell their 3-year-olds at any lower prices, but rather hold them until spring or early summer and sell them for beef. He puts the price at $4 per hundred pounds and says a steer will run on 200 pounds from now to spring.

C. L. Christian of Kirtley, Wyo., says the bulk of feeders are shipped from his section. Price of Corn. The two items entering into the cost of finished beef are the first cost of cattle and the cost of their feed. The Bee has given some consideration to the cost of the cattle; the second item is the cost of their feed. In interviewing dozens of cattle feeders The Bee could not find one who had made a price on new corn. As corn is the main feed used in producing beef and old corn is out of the question as feed, so the price of new corn will largely determine the cost of making cornfed beef. Merely a whisper has been heard of 30 cents as the price and a rule that will come into effect at 27 cents. But many well posted men are of the opinion that later in the season sound corn cannot be bought at these prices. Now, when everything has settled down we hear reliable reports from northern Nebraska that there is a large amount of chaff and soft corn that must be fed to save it. It will take two bushels of this kind of corn to do the work of one bushel of sound corn in fattening steers.

A burnt child dreads the fire." Thousands of farmers will not part with their corn at any price. They will hold their 3-year crop on hand all this year. Fully 20 per cent of the corn crop will be held as a permanent reserve in the farmer's crib that are now empty. The question of the price and supply of corn has an important bearing on the cost of making beef and it would be well to consider what the corn to be fed in the spring is going to cost. It would seem that there will be no cheap corn then. These points will be well considered when buying feeders this fall. There will be a large number of cornfed steers that will come on to the beef markets next spring and early summer. The prices will be lower than the price for the same grade of cattle are now.

Obtaining signatures to written instruments by false pretenses is the charge in a complaint filed by Deputy County Attorney Abbott against Ed Halpin, elected assessor of the Sixth ward in South Omaha on the democratic ticket a year ago.

The complaint is the result of a tale told to Deputy Attorney by James Mullin and Walter Antrim, Halpin's assistants in the work of assessing. They allege that after they had worked twenty-five days at stipulated $2 per day Halpin's came to them and instructed them to discontinue their work, at the same time requesting them to assign their claims to him. He took them, they say, to Twenty-fifth and L streets and there pointed out a number of houses which he said he owned, as an assurance that he would be able to pay Halpin's claims. He promised them the face value of their claims. This promise was given as inducement to assign, as he assured them, they say, that if they sold the claims to brokers they would have to stand a discount.

Some days after, it was related to Deputy Attorney that Halpin had made a partial payment, but has never settled in full, although, it is alleged, he raised the amounts of the claims to much more than they were by increasing the number of days alleged to have been put in on the work, and sold the claims to brokers.

An amount drawn by Halpin. The books of the county clerk's office show that Halpin claimed $4 of the county $179 for himself, $179 for his wife, D. Halpin, $174 for each of these other deputies: William Devine, Walter Antrim and James Mullin. The books also show that on September 15 a warrant was paid the South Omaha National bank in cancellation of Halpin's and other deputies' claims for $11, each paid Pritchard Bros., brokers, in cancellation of the claims of his wife and other deputies.

It has been related to the prosecutor that one of the men named as a deputy was not a resident of South Omaha, but lived in Omaha, and never did a day's work with the assessor's book. This statement, Deputy Attorney expects to bring action against Halpin on a charge of defrauding the county.

South Omaha Assessor Charged with Being Too Strong at the Orib.

COUNTY ATTORNEY FILES A COMPLAINT Allegation is that Assessor Obtained Signatures to Assignments by False Pretenses—Another Charge in Prospect.
