FLOWER PARADE A BIG EVENT

Forty Thousand 1 copie Are Attracted to Hastings to Witness It.

HASTINGS, Neb., Oct. 8 .- (Special Telegram.)-Nearly 40,000 people thronged the streets of Hastings today to take in the street fair and carnival. An excursion came in from Oberlin, Kan., and all incoming trains were crowded. The weather continues to be favorable and everybody seems to be out for a good time. Old men, young men, women and children are swarming the streets tooting horns, throwing confetti or dropping rice down the inside of somebody's shirt collar. The city is ablaze of lights and a bunch of innocent merriment.

The special feature for today was the flower parade. It came off promptly at 3:30 and was by far the finest attraction of the kind ever witnessed in this section. Many visitors who had seen like parades in Lincoln, Kansas City and Denver are authority for the statement that it surpassed anything of the kind ever produced in the above named cities. There were twentyone carriages in line and each one was a work of art, and they brought forth great applause from the thousands of people who vere lined up on either side of the streets for two miles. At the rear of the parade was an unique rig. It was an old broken cart covered with sunflowers, moss and weeds. An old, bony horse was driven by Mrs. George Tyler, who was appropriately made up, and Mrs. Harry Clarke, who was the burlesque queen. As the parade is to sions. ## FULLETON NOT THE AGGRESSOR

Coroner's Inquest Throws New Light on the Killing at Willford.

GERING, Neb., Oct. E .- (Special.)-Later developments in the murder affair at Willford postoffice give reason to believe that the first reports as to the immediate facts regarding the tragedy were misleading to some extent. The testimony of the witnesses at the coroner's inquest brought out the evidence that the story young Houston told when he came to town and gave himself up was untrue and that Fulleton was not chasing him at all. The latter did go up to where Houston was standing outside the postoffice and make a remark to the boy about the quarrel a few days before between himself and Donahue, when Houston had intervented with a pitchfork, and the witnesses say a motion was made toward the boy which might have been solely in fun, but the boy immediately drew his revolver and shot Fulleton through the body. It was at such close range that his clothing was burned. These facts are more in keeping with the general opinion of Fulleton, who was regarded as a good citizen and by no means quarrelsome.

It is intimated by persons acquainted with all the parties that the boy musthave been inflamed and excited by persons old enough to know better, and some go far enough to say that there may be accessories brought into court yet. The verdict rendered by the coroner's jury was that Clarence N. Fulleton met his death by reason of a gunshot fired by Walter Houston with felonious intent. While no formal complaint has been prepared by County Attorney Mann yet, it is believed it will charge murder in the first degree. The age of the prisoner will, however, tend to make the extreme punishment unlikely, even if the testimony substantiates the charge to that degree. A had been working. I had a miscarriage six years ago and it seemed to break down my general health and I was in misers and pain for two years although destring. health and I was in misery and pain for two years, although doctoring constantly. I then took Wine of Cardui for eleven weeks and it changed me so I hardly knew myself again. I felt so well and happy. I now became pregnant again and the anticipation of the coming event kept me in rapture and yet dread that the first experience would again be my lot, but thank God and Wine of Cardui, in due time a lovely boy came to my home, a cute, healthy, happy child, fat and good natured enough to satisfy any fond mother's pride. I had no serious trouble after his birth, but felt well and so glad it seemed the choicest blessings had fallen to my lot. I feel that a happy married couple with a child have something to live for and I look forward to the joy which only parents know. My thanks are due you. I only wish I could speak to every individual wife and I would say, take Wine of Cardui and you will be well.
