Expected Effect of Thorough Change in Local Pelice Force.

CITY COUNCIL GIVES IN TO RAILROAD

Discharges Police Officers Who Have Been Friendly with Strikers and Replaces Them with Company's Men.

Reports from North Platte indicate that the Union Pacific has at last broken the mit to remove a one-story frame building strike has separated the people of that town street property in question. This strucand the railroad company, the former arthrowing out of employment 200 men.

details of this latest act in the continuous drama of industrial warfare in which the art of coercion apparently forms an important feature on one side.

Favorable to Union Pacific.

Kennedy's informant says that the city authorities have discharged the old police force, appointing men who, it is believed, will be less aggressive in behalf of strikers and more favorable to Union Pacific interests. This change of policemen was made, it is said, upon the assurance from certain sources that it would restrain the company from radical action. Or, to put it as the correspondent did, the theory was that if Injunction Tying Up Twenty-Five the old police force was supplanted by a new one composed of men satisfactory to the Union Pacific, Mr. Burt's arbitrary edict to remove the shops would be withdrawn. Whether the Union Pacific actually did warrant any such promise cannot be definitely learned.

The matter is said to have been called Smith, Jacob Smith is said to have appealed to the city council for some action tending to check or restrain the railroad in its expressed determination of "wiping North Platte off ate the sentiment of the people there road. against the company. Smith is said to have based his appeal upon the fact that suffer by the removal of the shops.

City Council Acts. According to Kennedy's correspondent the mayor of North Platte took the matter up and advised the council that if the police protection was numerically increased the Union Pacific would not move its shops. And then the council simply had a new force appointed.

What effect this actually will have on the Union Pacific's plane is not known. Presideat Burt, General Manager Dickinson and Superintendent of Motive Power McKeen all are out of the city. Mr. McKeen has been in North Platte, it is reported, within the week. The others are east. Strikers contend, however, that North Platte will continue to be a shop town and that since the shop buildings there are delapidated they doubtless will be destroyed, but new ones erected in their places. The strikers regard the attitude of Mr. Burt in this case bluff has worked pretty well-thus far. Local strike leaders are positively informed that Thomas B. McGovern, a striker at North Platte, accused by the Union Pacific of committing assaults last week upon mion men, is not guilty, and can supply ample evidence of his innocence.

SAVES NORTH PLATTE SHOPS TROUBLE OVER MOVING PERMIT

Building Inspector Says It Was Obtained from Him by Misrepresentation.

Building Inspector Carter has been for the last few days involved in an active controversy with Charles Blixt and J. A. Lovgren as to their intentions with regard to a piece of property at the corner of Douglas street and Twenty-seventh avenue and if these gentlemen carry their present threats into execution the matter will be carried into the courts.

Recently Messrs. Blixt and Loveren applied to the building inspector for a perhostile barrier which from the first of the from 2957 Harney street to the Douglas ture, which was one of the exposition rayed on the side of the strikers as against buildings, was designated in the permit as the Union Pacific. This victory, which the a barn and Mr. Carter says the owners company evidently has gained, is believed represented to him that it was to be added to be a direct result of Mr. Burt's avowed as a kitchen to a handsome frame residetermination to close the North Platte dence which was to be put up on the lot shops permanently and move the machinery and it was with that understanding that out of that town, thus depriving it of its he granted the permit. Since then, howlargest and most important industry and ever, Mr. Carter has been informed that the building which was moved is to be President Edward Kennedy of the local left on the Twenty-seventh avenue front and district lodges of boiler makers is in of the lot and rented by itself and that receipt of a letter from one of his co- the owners of the property intended to workers in North Platte which gives the erect other frame buildings of cheap construction. Therefore he has revoked the removal permit and now finds himself between two fires. Messrs. Blixt and Lovgren insist upon the right to remove the building under the permit granted them and the owners of other property in the neighborhood protest against the contemplated building operations. On the lot next to the one owned by Blixt and Lovgren is a new house which cost $3,500 and there are a number of other fine residences in that immediate neighborhood, Hayden Bros. Announcements of the Theaters.

The regular Saturday matinee will be given at the Orpheum this afternoon and with such a pleasing and varied assortment of entertainment as the talented artists embraced on the roster present, those who attend will find equal if not superior to any seen at this cozy playhouse this season. Carroll Johnson, a favorite with the women throughout his steller career in minstrelsy, never was more magnetic. He delights with pretty songs, among them that late success "The Rose of Killarney;" dances gracefully, creates laughter with funny stories and winds up with a recitation of a boxing match with enough pathos to draw a few tears. Rapoli, the juggler, is a sensational hit and in fact nearly everything on the bill could be meted out a little laudation. Comnencing matines tomorrow and for the ensuing week an entirely new bill, embracing eight varied acts will hold the boards.

Tomorrow afternoon, night and Monday Hal Reid's great pastoral play "The Night Before Christmas" will be given at the Boyd. It is a simple play of simple people. Its ecenes are laid in an interior town in Ohio. It is a new departure from the conventional rut of pastoral plays. Following t the Boyd will present the great musical "The Storks," which ran for five consecutive months in Chicago. The company numbers seventy people and is one of the musical hits of the current season.
