A Grand Autumn Carnival of Unsurpassed Values

THERE'S life and activity in every section these days. People throng the aisles to see the latest and best ideas of the style makers, and they are astonished at the vast number of exclusive effects, but the greatest marvel is the price concessions which we are extending to customers. We invite inspection to this page of bargains with the fullest confidence that they cannot be equaled. Careful economy rules our buying and selling, and the advantages we offer earn for themselves quick recognition among the best posted shoppers. Excellence in quality is the first requisite at the Brandeis store—the lowest possible prices next, and absolute reliability and candor in our claims for our merchandise.
