QUEEN'S WILL IS OPENED

Late Spouse of Belgium's Ruler Leaves Property to Friends—ignores Relations.

(Copyright, 1902, by Press Publishing Co.) PARIS, Oct. 11.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—Marie Henriette, queen of the Belgians, whose will has just been opened, stipulated that her body should not be embalmed or lie in state, but that her funeral should be conducted with the utmost simplicity and that she be laid at rest close to her son.

The unhappy queen, who left to her children only what was required by law, was singularly thoughtful of the few friends who were near to her in affection.

To her god-daughter Marie Henriette left all the diamonds of the crown, Baron La Fontaine, is remembered with a reliquary and considerable sums of money are left to faithful servants.

The executors are Baron Goffinck, who has one of the three copies of the will, and Count Henri de Gramme, formerly chevalier of honor to the queen.

DRINK MORE IN ENGLAND

Bettlers Now Use Perfumes as Stimulants with Disastrous Results.

(Copyright, 1902, by Press Publishing Co.) LONDON, Oct. 11.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—The effects of the archbishop of Canterbury has called a special conference of the Women's Temperance society to consider the increase of inebriety among the women of England and to take means to check it.

Of the 13,300 inebriate drunkards in London in 1870, 10,000 were women. Between the years of 1877 and 1897 deaths among women from chronic alcoholism increased 100 per cent.

"The spread of this evil," says Mrs. Temple, "is due in the upper classes to the growing habit of using all volatile, eau de Cologne and other essences or perfumes as stimulants, among the middle classes to the facilities for getting drunk secretly and among the lower classes to the attractiveness of the public house under modern conditions."

ROYAL MURDERER GROWS MAD

Luccheni is Rapidly Losing His Reason as Result of Solitary Confinement.

(Copyright, 1902, by Press Publishing Co.) PARIS, Oct. 11.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—Luccheni, the assassin who slew the empress of Austria, is likely to become a hopeless, violent maniac. Two days ago, says a Geneva correspondent of the Reuepel, who recently saw him in prison there.

He has been removed from the dungeon where he was first put to a cell on the first floor. He will not submit to prison rules.

Local newspapers were refused him because so violent he had to be placed in a straitjacket. He is now undergoing solitary confinement. Even the doctor and the chaplain no longer visit him.

THINKS OF SWISS PRELATE

Archbishop Guidi Has New Candidate in Mind as Archbishop of Manila.

(Copyright, 1902, by Press Publishing Co.) ROME, Oct. 11.—Since the alleged interpreter language used by the Rev. Sebastian G. Messner, archbishop of Green Bay, Wis., regarding the negotiations between the United States and the vatican on Philippine matters, has rendered his candidature as archbishop of Manila impossible, Archbishop Guidi has in mind a Swiss, belonging to a religious order.

In view, however, of the present uncertainty as to whether the appointment of a member of any religious order is advisable Archbishop Guidi does not wish to mention the Swiss prelate's name.

of the board of directors of the Erie railroad, that the reports to the effect that there was likely to be on Tuesday next week a further conference with Senators Quay, Platt and Penrose were incorrect.

The statement issued by Mr. Thomas at the conclusion of the conference on Friday morning definitely covered the situation.

It was explained that in the early conference with the Civic federation certain propositions had been submitted by Mr. Thomas. These propositions are understood to be the basis of all the negotiations on the part of the operators ever since and to which the operators adhere.

These propositions were: 1. The anthracite companies do not undertake in the slightest manner to discriminate against members of the United Mine Workers of America, but they do insist that members of that organization shall not discriminate against non-members of that organization.

2. That there shall be no deterioration in the quantity or quality of the work and that there shall be no change in the individual exertions of men working by the ton or car, may for reasons satisfactory to themselves and their employers produce such a quantity of work as they may desire.

3. By reason of the different conditions, varying not only with the districts, but with the mines themselves, the anthracite companies are unable to produce uniform conditions, each mine must adjust itself individually or through its committees, with the superintendents or managers any question affecting wages or work.

On the other hand, the Associated Press has received the following from an authoritative source on the other side of the dispute:

The two days' conference between the presidents of the coal carrying roads and Governor Odell and Senators Platt, Quay and Penrose was not the failure which is reported to be. The operators practically agreed to a certain number of propositions that would result in the resumption of coal mining. The authority here mentioned mentions nothing of the conference was not adjourned because an agreement apparently could not be reached, but because the operators were not willing to have it appear that they were yielding under pressure.

The conference, according to the present plan, will be resumed on Tuesday, but a settlement is not expected to be reached until the end of the week. It is reported that the settlement may be said or done while the present efforts are being made that would wipe out the work already accomplished.

When the above was shown to Mr. Thomas he said:

This statement is unqualifiedly wrong. No conclusions were reached through that channel. The incident may be considered as absolutely closed, the operators positively refused to accept anything suggested. Nothing will be done on Tuesday.

Odell Still Working.

Close friends who saw Governor Odell before his departure for Newburgh today were inclined to believe that he has formulated a plan of action in the event that the strike is not settled at an early day.

This plan, however, is not believed to have any direct bearing on the settlement of the dispute between the operators and miners, but looks to a project by which coal may be supplied to the suffering part of the state.

The conference is held during the day, chief among them that between Secretary of War Root and J. P. Morgan on the latter's yacht. This lasted for several hours and then the two drove to the Union club. Mr. Root did not stay long and it is reported that he was not in Washington. D. H. Bacon of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company and Chairman Thomas of the Erie railroad were at the club.

Mr. Thomas subsequently had a talk with Senator T. C. Platt, but what was said at any of the interviews of the day was not made public.

Walter W. Ross, general attorney for the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, today gave out a statement reinforcing that given out by David Wilcox yesterday in his letter to the president of the United States attorney general of the United States who proceeded against the United Mine Workers as an illegal combination. He recites at length the alleged testimony obtainable in support of this position and says that the president may either direct the attorney general to file a bill in the United States on the equity side of the circuit court of the United States in Pennsylvania and let the court hear the evidence, and make such order as to whether it shall meet and just, or he may, as commander-in-chief of the army, order the troops to quell the insurrection, domestic violence or combination, to abate the great public nuisance and protect life, liberty and property.

No Change at Wilkesbarre.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 11.—Another week of the strike closed today without any incident worthy of note. It was extremely quiet throughout the valley. Some of the coal company superintendents assert that they have made up the number of men employed since last week, but also admit that there have been a few desertions. The shipment of coal is still going on in a small way. How much, cannot be learned, as the company officials generally keep this a secret.

The small stockade built on the camp grounds of the Ninth regiment was completed today. It will be used, Colonel Dougherty says, as a prison for all persons arrested for breaking the peace in connection with the strike.

The military officers to hold without ball all persons who are arrested by the soldiers until such time as the authorities feel justified in releasing them, providing they have committed no serious crime.

The decision of the military officers not to turn prisoners over to the civil officials has stirred up a hornet's nest among the strikers. It is claimed by their attorneys that to arrest a man and hold him without ball and not permit him to institute habeas corpus proceedings is illegal. It is the intention of the miners' local unions to test this in the courts.

A canvass of the coal brokers made by a representative of the American Press discount the idea of any great excitement in the trade.

A representative of one firm, said: "Our New York agents telegraphed us today not to save any coal on their account. According to our information from New York, the speculative purchasers have rather overbought themselves already."

Would Hang President Baer. LYNN, Mass., Oct. 11.—At a mass meeting here today called for the purpose of aiding the striking coal miners, Mayor Hurley of Salem, Mass., created a sensation by saying that if he had his way he would hang President Baer and the other operators on the nearest tree.

He said he did not mean to kill them, but would hang them as he would use a dog by putting a collar around their necks and raise them on a limb of a tree two or three times until they were willing to arbitrate.

A large sum of money was collected.

BRINGING COAL BY WATER

Cincinnati Receives One Consignment, but Another is Wrecked on the Way.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—The first of the fleet of coal barges from the Pomeroy and Kanawha districts arrived tonight. These fleets have followed routes from Pomeroy to this city and will continue moving south-

Valley Coal company, were shipped from Lyons yesterday. There was no demonstration as the cars were started for Harrisburg, on their way to Philadelphia. The breakers at Lyons and Williamstown are being operated without interference.

No Special Session.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—It is stated on excellent authority that Governor Stone will not call an extra session of the legislature, BEADING, Pa., Oct. 11.—During the day and last night the Reading company claims to have sent through this city 5,000 tons of anthracite coal, a good proportion of which was washery. Not a pound of this was delivered this side of Philadelphia.

The officials declare that this week's shipments aggregated over 20,000 tons and that 2,500 tons will be sent down tonight. Before the strike the daily shipments were from 60,000 to 70,000 tons.

House of Deputy Dynamited.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 11.—The house of Albert Dey, a Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company deputy, near Minersville, was dynamited about midnight and his daughter was injured. A neighbor named Ditzel and two others are held under suspicion.

Strikers Attack Soldiers' Camp.

MOUNT CARMEL, Pa., Oct. 11.—Early today persons on a hill close to the Sixteenth regiment encampment began hurling rocks and discharging revolvers at the officers' quarters. After half a dozen bullets fell into camp Lieutenant Colonel Richards and four of the staff officers, who had been apprised that an attack was to be made on the camp, left their quarters and ran in the direction the firing came from. The officers shot several times ahead of them, but at daybreak no signs of the soldiers' assailants were found.

Oney Rates Coal Barons.

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—The Hon. Richard Oney, addressing a democratic banquet here tonight, praised President Roosevelt for his action in attempting a settlement of the strike.

"The president's overtures to the coal operators were prompted by the best motives," he said, "and should have been treated with respectful consideration."

"But he was treated as a rash intermeddler and lectured upon the law and facts of the case, and, to crown all, was notified that the cause of the trouble was lawlessness, which he was sarcastically invited to suppress."

"For sheer audacity this could hardly be matched, and nothing could more strongly emphasize the disruptive influence which the law of the land has been brought."

"Yet who are they whom we so insist upon the suppression of lawlessness? Why, the most unblushing and persistent law breakers. For years they have defied the law of Pennsylvania, and were common carriers engaging in the business of mining. For years they have discriminated between customers in the freight charges on their railroads in violation of the interstate commerce law. For years they have unlawfully monopolized interstate commerce in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law."

"Indeed, the very best excuse and explanation of their astonishing attitude is that, having violated so many laws they might think they were immune from either punishment or reproach."

"When someone urged in extenuation that they were enraged at the recognition of labor unions and the presence by invitation of their representatives. If that be so, they must be as blind to the salient facts as they are oblivious to legal obligations."

"In these days of combination by capital, can they possibly imagine that labor is to be denied an equivalent right of combination? If they do, it is only another instance of their complete indifference to the law."

"Some years ago Pennsylvania made it a criminal offense to deprive a man of work because he belonged to a labor union. In 1898 congress not only did the same thing, but in a statute providing for the arbitration of labor disputes, expressly made labor organizations a party to such arbitration. This was in addition to the previous legislation by congress encouraging and providing for the incorporation of labor unions. In ignoring them, therefore, the coal operators simply ignore and condemn the law."

Portland is Very Liberal.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 11.—The unions of Portland have already pledged $2,300 to help the Pennsylvania coal miners. A meeting of the presidents of the various unions has been called for tomorrow and it is expected that $10,000 additional will be raised.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 11.—William R. Fairley of the national executive board of the United Mine Workers denied statements made by officials of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Railroad company to the effect that the company has never had any agreement not to work nonunion men in its mine. Fairley asserts that union men will continue to refuse to work with miners who have been expelled from the union because they refused to pay the anthracite assessments.

There is no change in the strike situation at the Tennessee company's mines. The company has banked some of its Bessemer furnaces.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The mayor of Toronto has called an appeal to the mayor of Cardiff to induce the coal mine operators to give agreement not to work nonunion men in an emergency arising from the American coal strike.

The critical condition of the French mining strike has caused a considerable rush of coal orders to the Clyde today for France, and the American demand has much abated. The continental orders are for all classes of coal and sent up prices on the Newcastle exchange. The tons of the Cardiff market strengthened and were tonnage plentiful there is no doubt that prices would be made very high. The coal market in London is unsettled.

A canvass of the coal brokers made by a representative of the American Press discount the idea of any great excitement in the trade.

The decision of one firm, said: "Our New York agents telegraphed us today not to save any coal on their account. According to our information from New York, the speculative purchasers have rather overbought themselves already."

EVANS DIES AT HOT SPRINGS

Pioneer and Prominent Promoter in Black Hills Region Passes Away at His Home.

HOT SPRINGS, S. D., Oct. 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Fred T. Evans, who conducted the first freight outfit into the Black Hills and who for years was one of the principal promoters and builders of Hot Springs, died at his home here this afternoon. He built the Evans hotel here and has been a conspicuous figure in the Black Hills since their first settlement.

Andrew Malcolm McPhail.

Hon. A. M. McPhail, whose sudden death occurred in Omaha on Monday last, was for upwards of fifty years identified with the stirring business world of Boston, where he was known as the head of one of the oldest piano houses in this country—originally the house of Lemuel Gilbert—and where he figured prominently in local war time politics.

A native of St. Andrew's, New Brunswick, he came to Boston in the early '30's as a boy, making for himself a place in the world. Educated at Oberlin and filled by nature with a compassion for all that suffers, he was almost as kind as a father to the poor, and he took a vigorous part in the anti-slavery agitation, and especially in the "underground railway" movement that made Oberlin famous. In the '60's he represented the county of Suffolk in both houses of the Massachusetts legislature, and was a devoted personal friend and admirer of Charles Sumner, then at the zenith of his power.

He married Hannah Wallingford Wilson in 1845, continuing to live in Boston until after her death in 1859. In 1891 he came to Omaha, where he has since made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Rogers Kimball.

Always active in his unbounded sympathy for the oppressed, it is little wonder that his path through life was marked by those, both man and beast, whose load had been lightened by this generous spirit, now gone to its reward. Death has stopped the heart.
