Yesterday morning's meeting was called for the especial purpose of discussing with the directors of the Woman's Christian association the latter's proposition for a general thanksgiving offering toward the proposed new hospital, the donations to be handed in at the union Thanksgiving day services, but to be entirely separate from the day's collection, which it had been decided was to be denated to the Associated

The attendance of ministers at the meeting was not what had been anticipated, but those present expressed themselves as opposed to the proposition as being outside regular church work. Mrs. O. H. Lucas, president of the Woman's Christian association, and Mrs. L. W. Ross were present or behalf of the association. Miss Carrie Dodge was present as president of the Associated Charities and spoke against the Ministerial association entertaining the proposition of the Woman's Christian association. Miss Dodge contended that for the ministers to entertain the proposition of the Woman's Christian association would inevitably result in a falling off in the general collection to be taken for the Asso-clated Charities. After a discussion lasting two hours th ministers present decided to take no formal action in the matter, but to defer it to the next regular meeting of the Ministerial asociation, which will be held October 27. In the event of the Ministerial association declining to entertain the proposition of the Woman's Christian association the directors of the latter organization will take the matter up with the trustees of the different churches.

Criminal matters are now engaging the attention of Judge Macy in the district court. The trial of John Murphy, who is alleged to have attempted to pick the pocket of Robert Huntington at the Elka' street fair and was caught in the act, was begun yesterday afternoon. The technical charge against Murphy is assault with intent to steal.

The case of Ben Woods, charged with picking the pocket of Niels Boysen of Glenwood, had to be continued, as anticipated, owing to one of the state's principal witnesses being quarantined for diphtheria. The case will go over to the term, and in the meantime Woods will languish in the county jail unless he is able to furnish a bond, which he has not succeeded in doing up to date. W. H. Rippon, indicted on a charge of stealing a watch, chain and charm from the tollet room of a Broadway saloon, entered a plea of guilty to larceny from a building. Sentence was deferred.

Following the trial of Murphy the trial of Otto Roderick, charged with killing Clark Moyer, the railway mail clerk, will be commenced.

MOODY HAS GOOD CROWD AT DES MOINES

City Sets a Precedent in Refusing to Remit Taxes on Property Swept Away by the Floods of Last June.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Oct. 13 .- (Special.) - The Iowa supreme court today vindicated the long-distance telephone by deciding that when a judge of the district court notifies an attorney over the toll line that he has decided a case a certain way the attorney has a right to rely on the telephone having accurately transmitted the information. The case was a complicated one from Adair county, involving trouble over a sidewalk in Greenfield. Judge Applegate had issued a temporary injunction to prevent the building of the walk, and afterward Judge Gamble dissolved the injunction. But at the time Judge Gamble was in another city and he notified the attorneys over the telephone line. Acting on this, the city council caused the sidewalk to be built. Then the supreme court revived the injunction, and two members of the council were called before the court and fined by Judge Gamble for contempt. They paid their fines and brought certiorari proceedings to test the whole question. The court held that the temporary injunction was in fact dissolved at one time and the notification over the telephone was sufficient. The fining of the aldermen was therefore illegal and the action was annulled.

In the case of Sankey against the Rock Island railway, an action for damages for personal injuries, the court gave a reversal of Judge Green of the Pottawattamie court. The plaintiff was a freight brake-
