

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Two City Meat Inspectors Continue to Work Despite Mayor's Protest.

ONE OF THE MEN IS ASKED TO STEP OUT

Mayor Koutsky Orders Removal of Clark Howard, but Letter Refuses to Take Edict Seriously and Works On.

John McIntyre has been working for two days as city meat inspector and so has Clark Howard. The latter has worked at the job for many years and he declines to take the mayor's order seriously regarding his removal.

This is why South Omaha has at this time two meat inspectors. Under the order of the mayor McIntyre gets $50 a month and is supposed to inspect the butcher shops a certain number of times a week. In addition to the salary paid Howard by the city he is supposed to draw a stipend from the Union Stock Yards company for his work in performing in killing cattle and hogs here and there in the yards.

Mayor Koutsky informed a Bee reporter last night that he was putting a man to work who would attend to the duties of the office. He said further that he proposed to see to it that the butcher shops in the city were inspected thoroughly and that a written report was made to the council each month. Friction about this matter is possible as some of the members of the council have given notice that they are opposed to the appointment of McIntyre.

Clark Shrigley has looked up the ordinances as far back as the records go but he fails to find the one giving Howard a life job. At the next meeting of the council Shrigley will make a report of what the records show in relation to the appointment of a meat inspector.

St. Martin's Guild.

Mrs. B. E. Wilcox entertained the guild of St. Martin's church yesterday afternoon. Luncheon was served and reports of the year's work were submitted. Under the management of Mrs. Wilcox, who has been the president of the guild for the last year, about $500 has been collected which has been used in the decoration of the church.

Delegates to the National Live Stock meeting to be held at Pittsburg, Pa., on Thursday and Friday of this week left last night. A portion of the delegates traveled over the Rock Island while some went over the Burlington. Those who left were Captain D. S. Parkhurst, Bruce McCulloch, E. S. Harrell, M. R. Murphy, J. D. Guild and Eli Cox.

Willis Brown Inquest.

Coroner Bratley held an inquest yesterday afternoon over the remains of Willis Brown. Considerable testimony was heard and the jury took some time to consider the matter. It was determined that the Pacific freight train which caused the death of Brown was running at a more rapid rate than permitted by city ordinances. The jury did not make any recommendations.

Two Additional Lights.

The Thomson-Houston Light company is making arrangements to place arc street lights at Seventeenth and Z streets and at Twenty-first and Y streets. These lights probably will be installed next week. When they are in the total number of such lights will be 106 for the city at a monthly rental of $10.50. At the present time the lighting fund will not stand any additional lights during the fiscal year.

WILL INTEREST EVERYBODY.

Of At Least Everyone Who Suffers From Catarrh.

Catarrh in its various forms is a national disease and the fact that nearly everybody suffers from it more or less leads many to neglect its proper treatment.

Nasal catarrh is a common cause of headaches, destroys sense of smell and if neglected reaches the throat, causing impairment and sometimes total loss of voice. Bronchial catarrh leads easily to consumption. Catarrh of stomach and liver causes very serious and obstinate troubles while it is now generally admitted that catarrh is the most common of all causes of deafness.

All of the more serious forms of catarrh begin with nasal catarrh, the local symptoms being a profuse discharge, stoppage of nostrils, irritation and frequent clearing of the throat, sneezing, coughing and gagging.

The old style of treatment with douches, inhalers, sprays, salves, etc., simply give temporary relief and eventually cure the disease. The new method is that the cause is removed and the patient is cured. This is done by the use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets which remove the catarrhal taint from the blood, because no cure is possible until the blood is a constitutional, a blood disease and local applications can have no effect except to temporarily relieve local symptoms.

A new remedy which has been remarkably successful in curing catarrh is a pleasant tasting tablet which is taken internally and acts upon the blood and mucous membranes.

It is composed of antiseptic remedies like Red Gum, blood root and similar cleansing specific which eliminates the catarrhal poison from the system. The tablets being pleasant to the taste are dissolved in the mouth and thus reach the throat, trachea and finally the stomach and entire alimentary canal. They are sold by druggists everywhere under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

If desired, when there is much stoppage of the nose, the tablets may be dissolved in warm water and used as a douche in addition to the internal use, but a douche is not at all necessary. A few dissolved in the mouth daily will be sufficient. Dr. Ainslie says: "The regular daily use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets (taken internally) will cure the whole catarrhal trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of a douche or an inhaler."

They seem to give a healthy tone to the whole mucous membrane and it is really remarkable how soon they will clear the head and throat of the unnatural and poisonous catarrhal secretion.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is undoubtedly the safest, most palatable and certainly the most efficient and convenient remedy for any form of catarrh.

The daughter of Chris Garverson was taken to St. Joseph's hospital in Omaha yesterday for treatment.

Invitations are out for the annual ball of the city firemen which will be held at the cavalry armory on the night of November 28.

Jack Leonard, the well known character about town, is in the city for a day or two, but he proposes returning to the county poor farm today.

Funeral services over the remains of Frank Moran were held at St. Agnes' church yesterday. Interment was at St. Mary's cemetery.

The Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church will meet with Mrs. S. H. Hartney, 333 North 24th street, on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

A meeting of the Modern Brotherhood of America will be held on Friday evening, when reports of the supreme convention will be rendered by the delegates. There will also be an initiation of candidates.

COUNT CREIGHTON'S BIRTHDAY

Seventy-one Years Old and Seventy-one Children Greet Him at Home.

At his handsome Chicago street residence Count John A. Creighton yesterday celebrated the rounding out of his 71st year on earth and his forty-sixth in Omaha, with the many storms of an eventful life's passage well weathered, the "grand old man" sat in his own home last night, looking over a score and more of his relatives, and in seldom sentences outlined the philosophy that had carried him through the years gone by.

"This is the 'farm house,'" said the count. "It is the only farm house within the city limits of Omaha. Here I am always glad to see my friends and here I don't worry about my enemies. The latching is always out, and, God willing, I'll be here to answer its summons for many a day yet."

A beautiful feature of Count Creighton's birthday anniversary was his welcome home last evening. When he left the house in the morning there was nothing beside the early arrival of many handsome remembrances to remind the count especially of the event. Nothing was said of any particular festivities. But Miss Mary Cotter, his housekeeper, had a scheme already under way and its development burst upon the count when he stepped from the street car at the corner of his lawn at 5:15 in the afternoon.

Seventy-one young people, one for each year of his life, swarmed over the grass. They lined the sidewalk from the gate to the house and each carried an armful of roses. As the count approached the first line the line of roses parted by the hands of the young people, and he was greeted by the others following suit. Literally on a bed of roses the white-haired man wended his way up the winding walk to the veranda. Then all the children trooped in after him, and there was merry-making galore.

The youngest participant, a child of months of age, Creighton Crowley, named after the count. From that they ran up to 20 years. Refreshments ended their festivities.

Count Creighton is a man of mottoes. On the walls of his own particular den appear the aphorisms of the authors that he has had at hand the keynote of his life and work. A few of his more favorite ones read:

"I doubt the wisdom of being too wise, and I see much wisdom in some folly."

"The bravest are the tenderest; the loving are the fearless."

"Abolish fear and you can accomplish whatever you wish."

"Be gentle and keep thy voice low."

TALK OF FILLING VACANCIES

Democratic Executive Committee Meets, but Neglects to Name Any Candidates.

Apparently the executive committee of the democratic county committee are not a unit in the selection of a man to take charge of the headquarters of the legislative ticket, Curtis having signified his intention of withdrawing his name. The committee met last evening at the democratic headquarters over Ed Rowell's office and wrestled with the problem for an hour, it having been supposed that this committee would groom a candidate for the nomination and name his name to the full county committee, which meets Saturday and which was authorized by the county convention to fill vacancies. But the hour's labor brought forth nothing but much talk and the committee finally adjourned to meet again Friday evening at the headquarters to finally agree upon a nominee. It is assumed that he is to be a South Omaha man, as Curtis was resident there. Ed Klingman was talked of some, but it is believed that another aspirant whose name is to remain a secret until Saturday is coming to the front.

The place left vacant by Ed Cahill, it is generally conceded, will be given to Patrick McArdle, a populist already endorsed by his party. There may be some of the committee who favor Hofeld's withdrawal from the ticket in favor of Hibbard, the populist, and the matter was discussed at yesterday's meeting of the executive committee, but Hofeld is generally conceded to have the upper hand and the committee doesn't see how it could get him off even if it were unanimously in favor of so doing.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

An Imperial wheel belonging to B. H. Ball of 69 North Eighteenth street, was taken to the police station from its front of 59 North Sixteenth street.

The firemen extinguished with a few buckets of water an incipient blaze which started at 6 o'clock yesterday evening at 337 South Twenty-first street, occupied by Mrs. Augusta Klein. The fire was caused by a defective chimney. Little damage resulted.

Dr. J. K. Hoesser, librarian of the public library at Minneapolis and president of the American Library association, will deliver an address this evening at 8:15 in the lecture room of the Omaha public library, 201 North 24th street, under the auspices of the "Books, Deeds and Books Living." All interested are invited to attend.

The case of Dr. John J. Solomon, the Vinson street druggist, charged with selling drugs illegally, was on in Justice Foster's court yesterday afternoon and 10 o'clock was continued until Friday, with only a portion of the evidence in. A second complaint was filed against Dr. Solomon, charging him with not having a registered pharmacist in charge of his store.

George Alexander and Stuart Knoose of Iowa are in the city jail, charged with passing worthless checks. When searched at the police station the men had checks ranging from $2 to $45 each, which the police say are worthless. They passed one check for a small amount at a saloon at Twelfth and Farnam streets and were trying to pass one at the jewelry store of Sam Adler when Sergeants Dempsey and Rentfrow arrested them.

Onward Silver Beats Course Faster Than Any Previous Here.

LEXINGTON CROWD GROWS ENTHUSIASTIC

Greets Announcement with Round After Round of Excited Cheers When It Is Seen Time Has Been Lowered.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 15.—Onward Silver, the great chestnut son of Onward and Sylvan Maid, went two miles over the Kentucky breeders' association track today in 4:29 1/2, breaking the American two-mile record of 4:32, made by Greenlander in 1883. Hudson was the milky and Onward Silver had a running mate.

When the first mile was reeled off in 2:14 flat a hum of exclamations swept over the great crowd in attendance. When he began the last quarter, with only three minutes and fifty-five seconds consumed, excitement became intense. He had scarcely passed under the wire before the record time was posted, and round after round of cheers followed.

J. L. Pruten of Beardstown, Ky., owns the horse. The card of seven races today included two stakes. In the west, the stake record of 2:14 1/2 was reduced to 2:07 3/4, stake being hard pressed.

REPORTS ON FIELD GUNS

Lieutenant Colonel Simpson Tells What Other Countries Are Doing.

ONLY TWO TYPES AND BOTH HAVE FAULTS

Rigid Cannon Are Slow but Simple, While Recoil Carriages Add Speed, Complexity and Danger to Injury in Action.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Of especial interest, in view of the efforts of the United States army to settle a type of field gun, is the chapter in "Notes of Military Interest for 1920," today issued by Lieutenant Colonel W. A. Simpson, on field artillery.

It is pointed out that there are only two general types of field guns, guns on rigid carriages and guns with recoil devices. The greatest rapidity of fire is not obtained with the former, but they possess marked advantages in simplicity, strength and lightness of material, and their faults are in the failure of the carriage to maintain the exact firing position and the uncertain action of the spade in hard ground.

With the recoil carriage guns, where mechanism returns the gun to the original firing position, great rapidity of fire is obtained, but the weapon has its disadvantages in the complexity of mechanism, increased weight and liability to fatal injury in action.

As yet France and Germany are the only countries whose artillery is actually armed with rapid-firing field guns. France uses a gun with recoil on the carriage. Germany uses the rigid carriage type, while other countries are divided in their choice.

The importance of field howitzers and mortars for high angle firing is generally recognized abroad. In a chapter upon machine guns, attention is called to the fact that the practical use of this class dates from the primitive Gatling, used in the war of secession, and the rotary machine gun, recently manufactured in France prior to 1870.

The one-pounder Maxim, now known as the pom-pom, is the first machine gun of caliber ever used in the field. The rapid-fire gun, it is explained, is loaded by hand, while the machine gun is loaded and fired by machinery.

Other important subjects taken up are explosives, a high tribute being paid to the smokeless powder; ammunition supply, the use of carrier pigeons and mechanical transportation.
