Deuncilmen Busy Devising Means to Prevent an Overlan.

THREE FUNDS PRACTICALLY EXHAUSTED

Mercer Meeting Proves to Be Much of a Front, but Congressman Declares Himself on Postoffice Matter.

At an informal talk among the members of the city council yesterday afternoon the question of taking up the overlap was discussed. The water, fire and light funds are practically exhausted at this time and other funds will soon be depleted.

What the city officials want is legislation which will permit the council to issue general indebtedness bonds for $79,000 to clean up this overlap and thus reduce the rate of interest now being said. At the present time the city is paying 6 per cent on its outstanding warrants. It is asserted that if the legislature grants the relief which is to be asked for the rate of interest will be reduced and the city practically placed on a cosh busts.

City Attorney Murdock expressed very emphatically an opinion yesterday afternoon that the city officials must not go over the limit allowed by the appropriation liable on their bonds. With the idea of preventing any suits and kidneys.

the council will soon get together and see that a committee for the revision of the charter is appointed. As matters stand now Mayor Koutsky proposes to inwist that the various departments cut down expenses in order that the present overlap may not be increased.

Under the direction of Rabbi Simon and the teachers of the school the pupils went through a service of special sengs and responsive exercises appropriate to the occasion. The children did not sing or speak singly, but a chorus of about fifty suns mentioned in The Bee several days ago, Attorney Sutton, acting for the board, served notice on the contractor to proceed at once to complete the building according to the plans and specifications. The five days' notice elapsed yesterday and acting under orders, a locksmith was sent to the building to make a change of keys.

CONTROL OF CONGRESS NO USE

Senator Morgan Says Democrats De Not Wish to Clog Legisletion.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17 .- In an interview here today Sepator John T. Morgan of Alabama said:

I do not see that the democrats have anything to gain by controlling the next house of representatives. I do not believe the democrats of this country want to constitute themselves a clog to legislation, but that result would naturally follow. With the two branches of opposite political faith the government would be seriously embarransed. There is nothing to gain by a condition of this kind. It would not be of any advantage to anyone.

Asked what he though of the prospects Senator Morgan said

Sensitor Morgan said:

I have always felt confident that when the whole matter has been gone over the Niearaguan route will be accepted as the only practical location. The money has been appropriated and I do not believe any combination of men of scoundrels will be able to prevent it and cause the money to be put back in the treasury. Mr. McKinley, with the wisest policy which was ever exhibited by any president, was a firm friend of the plan, and Mr. Roosevelt, who is unmistakably sincere and honest, is carrying out his policy.

Recent railway developments indicate that Mr. J. P. Morgan and the other great financiers have accepted the fact that the isthmian canal must be constructed.
