Electric Light Company Promises to Begin Working Wires

IMPROVES AT M STREET SUB-STATION

Transformers to be lowered into place to let heavy lines be under the Street-Magic City Gas Co.

The Thompson-Houston Electric Light company completed arrangements yesterday for extensive improvements at the sub-station at 234 M street, South Omaha. Local Manager, J. M. Smith, states that the large transformers now on the ground floor of the company's building will be moved to the basement in order that the heavy lines now crossing M street might be placed under ground. A conduit is to be constructed for these feed lines and it is expected that excavating will be commenced Monday. Arrangements have been made for material and a large force will be put to work with a view of completing the change within two weeks.

This change in overhead wiring will make a difference in the appearance of M street, as all wires to the victrols of the proposed library building and the Antine Hotel, now building, will be placed in the conduits to be laid. Three large manholes will have to be provided in order to give access to the conduits. Heavy wires will be used. The cost of these improvements will amount to several thousand dollars.

With the placing of these electric light wires underground the first step toward burying all wires in the business portion of the city will have been taken.

Remonstrances Filed

Just before noon yesterday Ed Capen-haven filed with City Clerk Shrigley remonstrances against the granting of franchises to two proposed telephone companies. The first remonstrance filed was against the Magic City Telephone company. This petition contained the names of 503 voters, while the petition against the granting of a franchise to the Home Independent Telephone company contained the names of 440 residents and voters. The city clerk stamped the remonstrances and filed them with the records to be presented to the city council Monday night.

German-American Club

The German-American club, which is made up of prominent Germans in South Omaha, will meet at the club headquarters on Twenty-fourth street this afternoon and discuss the acts of Congressmen Harter. A majority of the club members favor turning Harter down for the simple reason that he has, so it is asserted, already promised the postmaster to not less than a dozen people. Members of the club say that Harter is not to be trusted and it was noticeable that very few Germans were present at the Blackburn-Burkett-Merrell rally Friday night.

One prominent German stated to a Bee reporter last night that while he had voted for Harter for five consecutive terms he proposed to vote off and vote the other way this fall.

Teamsters Meet Today

A special meeting of the Teamsters' Union has been called for 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the rooms over the Farmers' National bank. At this meeting the discussion of a regular scale of wages will be the feature. It is expected that employers of teamsters will be present with the scale as soon as a committee, to be appointed, can make its report.

Sacred Concert Tonight

Tonight at St. Bridget's church, Twenty-sixth and F streets, a sacred concert will be given under the direction of Ed P. Baker, and it is stated that the chorus will consist of forty voices. Among those who will take part are: Mrs. Frank J. Moriarty, Miss Margaret O'Toole, Mrs. Charles Gibson, Fred Lehman, Dr. Charles Heston, Edgar Brown, Hans Jensen and Miss Jessie Carpenter.

Will Give Presentation

At a meeting of about forty citizens of South Omaha last night, at which Joseph Garlow presided and the taxpayers' league was well represented, it was determined to proceed with the presentation against the four members of the school board against whom charges of bribery have been made. The four accused men appeared at the meeting and offered to resign if the charges were withdrawn and the steps at prosecution abandoned, but their overtures were disregarded.

A fund of $500 was raised at this meeting with which to aid in the prosecution of

of A Remedy that Will Cure You.

I want to send all rheumatic sufferers a box of my remedy as they will know that they can now be cured. I am going to send out 10,000 free boxes before this offer is withdrawn.

I have a remedy that will positively cure rheumatism. It performs a cure quickly and permanently and the disease will never return.

Rheumatism is caused by an excess of uric acid in the system. This must be dissolved and eliminated without disturbing the kidneys or digestive organs. My remedy does this perfectly and I have to learn of a case in which it has failed.

It doesn't matter how severe or how long standing your rheumatism may be, my remedy will remove it. I am positive of this and am willing to send you a box FREE to start the proof. I want you to be so satisfied as I am that a cure is within your reach and there is no better way to do this than to send you the trial at my own expense. Simply write me and the free box will be promptly sent to your address.

C. E. HOWARD, Box 510, Station B, St. Louis, Mo.

These officials and a committee was appointed to call on County Attorney Shields Monday and urge that action be instituted at once and carried out vigorously.

Amusements

At the Boyd

The Bostonians in a new and magnificent production of "Robin Hood" by Reginald Dwyer and Harry B. Smith. CAST OF CHARACTERS (AFTERNOON): Sheriff of Nottingham, Henry Clay Barnabee; Little John, W. H. MacDonald; Robin Hood, W. H. MacDonald; Maid Marian, Florence Wolcott; Friar Tuck, George B. Frothingham; Guy of Gisborne, Campbell Donald; Danter Burden, Josephine Bartlett; Anabelle, Alice Judson; Sheriff of Nottingham, Henry Clay Barnabee; Little John, W. H. MacDonald; Robin Hood, W. H. MacDonald; Maid Marian, Florence Wolcott; Friar Tuck, George B. Frothingham; Guy of Gisborne, Campbell Donald; Danter Burden, Josephine Bartlett; Anabelle, Alice Judson; Sheriff of Nottingham, Henry Clay Barnabee; Little John, W. H. MacDonald; Robin Hood, W. H. MacDonald; Maid Marian, Florence Wolcott; Friar Tuck, George B. Frothingham; Guy of Gisborne, Campbell Donald; Danter Burden, Josephine Bartlett; Anabelle, Alice Judson.

After hearing all the musical effects and nonsense-rhymes and trivial flingings which masquerade under the caption of comic opera, it is refreshing to go back once more and lo! in the restful greenness of old Sherwood forest, to lie flat on the velvet sward and look through interlacing tree-boughs and see blue sky and dreamy clouds—but after all, the real thing. It is easier to imagine the haunts of Robin Hood and his men, than a foreign courtyard with Oriental aromas and impossible complementation of costumes. Yes, after all "Robin Hood," with its now-old joke, its well-worn quips and its very familiar music, is still "about and hale" like the famous "brown October ale" of which Little John sings, or is it W. H. MacDonald?

One has grown so accustomed to the old faces that in but a few seasons more we will read in the cast of characters that the sheriff of Nottingham will appear as the villain, that MacDonal will be played by Little John and that Friar Tuck will sing the part of Frothingham. And the same old Samuel Stoddley, with the baton in his hand, brings the same good results, or nearly so, although the present production of "Robin Hood" at the Boyd theater is a little short on the women's voices in the chorus.

Naturally there was a great deal of disappointment at the withdrawal of "Maid Marian" from the bill, but sympathy for the afflicted Miss Von Buddiford overweighed the disappointment.

The audience was enjoyable in that it introduced to Omaha a singer who was most acceptable, in the person of Harold Gordon. His voice is rather of the robust order, his high notes were well up, out and forward, when he brought them out, but he resented, like most light opera tenors, to a falsetto production frequently. However, he was better than most that one hears and with a comfortable stage manner, that the music, the other support was generally speaking, adequate.

At the evening performance another voice new to Omaha, but none the less delightful, was heard—that of Allen C. Hinchley, in the song made memorable by Eugene O'Neill. Mr. Hinchley has a powerful and melodious bass voice and sings with finish, but lacks the spirit and dash that ought to mark the armorer's song.

More hard luck has overtaken the company, two of its leading ladies having been taken ill here. Miss Florence Wolcott, who alternates with Miss Von Buddiford, went to the hospital, where she will probably be compelled to undergo an operation. After singing at the matinee, Mr. Harold Gordon was found to not himself under the doctor's care and will not be able to go with the company to Kansas City. Word was received last night by Manager Bacon from Miss Von Buddiford, who is now at St. Louis, that she may be able to join the company by Wednesday or Thursday.

CONGON ON JUSTICE TANEY

Local Secretary Addresses Bar Association After Frequent Postponement—Banquet Plans Made.

After many futile attempts to read to the members of the Omaha bar association a paper on Chief Justice Taney, J. E. Congdon succeeded last night. He told of incidents in the life of the great jurist from the time he was born in a log cabin until he wrote the famous Dred Scott decision and died at the age of 81 years. He compared him favorably with Chief Justice Marshall, whom Taney succeeded as presiding justice. Mr. Congdon gave the latter credit for the throttling of the national banks during Jackson's administration and said that his every act was founded upon right and justice.

Proceeding the reading of the paper it was voted that the bar association join with the State bar association in its annual banquet, to be in Omaha on the evening of January 9.

BONDING COMPANY SEEKING RELIEF

Forced to Pay for Failure of Contractor on the Norfolk Asylum—Other is a Reminder of Second Exposition.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(Special Telegram.)—It is somewhat unusual that two such men as E. G. McGilton and W. D. McHugh of Omaha should appear before the supreme court of the United States and ask for writs of certiorari upon totally different cases, but affecting interests of citizens of Nebraska. Mr. McGilton will appear in the supreme court on Monday to ask for a writ certifying up to the supreme court the case of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company of Baltimore, Md., against the Omaha Building and Construction company and others. The case grows out of construction of an addition to the insane asylum at Norfolk. The Omaha Building and Construction company, according to the brief of plaintiff in error, in the person of J. E. Kelly, the contractor failed to pay labor and material bills and the guaranty company was compelled to do so under its bond, and seeks to recover. Mr. McGilton, an attorney for the guaranty company, seeks to transfer the case from the circuit court of appeals to the supreme court, for the reason that there has been no authoritative utterance by the supreme court on the question involved. W. D. McHugh will put a motion for a writ of certiorari to the supreme court on Monday on behalf of the Chicago House Wrecking company against Otto C. Birney. The Chicago House Wrecking company purchased the Transatlantic ship exhibition buildings after the close of the exposition and in dismantling one of the buildings Birney was severely injured by reason of an order issued to him which he thought brought about his injury. He began suit against the wrecking company and recovered $5,000 in the circuit court of the United States. The case was taken to the circuit court of appeals and the judgment of the lower court was affirmed by a divided tribunal, Judge Sanborn dissenting. Judge McHugh seeks, in transferring the case from the circuit court of appeals to the supreme court, to obtain an opinion from the highest tribunal having direct bearing upon the legal status of the fellow-servant or vice principal.

Postmasters appointed: Nebraska—Mrs. Rosa Timmerman, Ingels, Holt county; Mrs. C. Wheeler, resigned, Iowa—James E. Ripley, Harrison, Madison county, Wyoming—Marie C. Wolf, Elk, Union county.

A civil service examination will be held November 15 at Lead, S. D., for the positions of clerk and letter carrier in the postoffice at that place.

The postoffice at Spring Valley, Decatur county, Ia., and Kendall, Johnson county, Wyo., will be discontinued after November 1.

Wellington B. Johnson of Omaha has been appointed fourth assistant examiner in the patent office.

Miss Helen Fraker of Des Moines has been appointed copyist in the patent office.

Bert E. Forbes of Beatrice, Neb., has been appointed assistant engineer in the geological survey service at $1,000 per year.

Nebraska's Wonderful Power.

A few years ago the idea of using the power of Niagara Falls would have seemed ridiculous, but the wonderful progress of invention has made it possible and today many industries are operated by it. In medicine, we also see wonderful progress, especially since the introduction of Hinchley's "Militars" about 15 years ago. It is strictly a family medicine and will positively cure heartburn, flatulency, indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, malaria or liver and kidney troubles. Be sure to try it.
