

FRANCHISE GRANTED HAYDEN

County Board Says He May Build Suburban Railway Lines.

IMPOSES FEW SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

Changes His Proposition in Such Way as to Hasten Construction and Relieve County from Any Additional Expense.

There is at the county commissioners' chamber in the court house a franchise for a suburban electric road or roads through Douglas county and for a telephone line in connection with the same.

Changes Hayden's Proposition.

Mr. Hayden filed his first request with the board two weeks ago, and it was hinted that the $1,000,000 capital required had been offered him while he was in Boston and New York a month or more ago, and that he could begin building inside of a year.

CUTS DOWN TEACHING FORCE

One Room is Closed at Each of Six of the Public School Buildings.

Six rooms in six of the different schools have been closed by the Board of Education within two weeks, the last closing being ordered Monday evening at a session of the teachers' committee.

How the Resolution Reads.

The resolution passed by the commissioners reads: Resolved, That said William Hayden and his assigns be and he hereby is granted the right, privilege, permission and franchise to construct, operate, control and maintain over, on, along, across and under the public highways, roads, bridges, crossings and waterways in Douglas county single or double track railways, with all necessary and proper appurtenances, conduits, switches, poles, wires and other appurtenances, including, but not limited to, tunnels, trestles and crossings, said right to be in full force and effect, being granted, however, upon the following terms, to-wit:

Then are given the stipulations, with the petitioner always referred to as "William Hayden and his assigns." The stipulations, stripped of the legal verbosity, read thus: All powers, rights and franchises shall terminate and expire on December 31, 1903.

Hayden is given the privilege of operating with overhead wires, storage batteries or whatever else he may desire, but not including steam. There is to be no change in the grade of any public road or highway, except with the consent of the commissioners.

WARRANT IS OUT FOR ALIEN

Charges of False Swearing to Naturalization Papers Against Charles Gautier.

RECORDS SAID TO DISPROVE HIS STORY

First Arrest Growing Out of Registration This Year—Others Who Make Declarations Too Late to Vote.

On complaint of democratic campaign managers a warrant was issued yesterday afternoon for the arrest of Charles Gautier, a resident of Omaha, charged with registering illegally in the Second district of the Sixth ward on October 24, at which time he gave his place of residence as 4817 North 32nd street.

It is charged that in answer to the questions of the registrars Gautier swore that he took out his first or declaratory papers in New York City in 1890. An examination of the records of the clerk of the district court showed that the first papers of Mr. Gautier had been issued at Omaha on the same day that he registered in the Sixth ward.

The law requires foreign persons who desire to vote in the state of Nebraska to take out their first papers at least thirty days before the day of election.

A number had taken out declaratory papers this fall to take to acquire citizenship in the state in time to vote at the coming election. A list of their names with the date that their papers were issued is as follows:

Joseph Jacobson, October 5; John Olson, October 8; Christian Raasmussen, October 11; Christian Carl Christiansen, October 18; Albin Koster, October 16; Eggert Ehlers, October 17; Martin Kusch, October 17; Sigward Petrus Skas, October 23; Patrick P. Callahan, October 23; Timmo Raman, October 24; Charles Gautier, October 24. It is understood that some of these men expected to vote at the coming election and a watch has been put on the polling places to detect them if they offer to vote.

It was rallying night for the democratic voters of the northern part of the city last night and meetings were held at O'Neill's hall, Sixteenth and Cumming streets; Idlewild hall, Twenty-fourth and Grant streets, and McKenna's hall, Sherman avenue and Locust streets.

C. H. Jensen, who voted in the Fourth ward at the republican primaries September 18, and whose residence was given as 523 South Twenty-eighth street, was not found at 2307 Park street. He says that the reason he could not be found at the address given in the poll book is because he moved and had his mail delivered at the Union Pacific headquarters, where he works.

With Ostrom, O'Keefe, Connolly and Harte present, the Board of County Commissioners yesterday unanimously approved the following, introduced by Connolly:

Whereas, it has been publicly reported in the press that efforts are being made to convince voters and the attempt will be made to poll a large number of illegal votes at the election next Tuesday, November 4, and

Whereas, the report is generally believed to be true, and there are evidences pointing to such an attempt to violate the sanctity of the ballot and bring fraud to bear on the election, it is the duty of the board of commissioners of Douglas county, Neb.,

Resolved, That all persons not legally entitled to vote in November 4, 1902, are hereby warned against violating the provisions of the election law and all law-abiding citizens are urged to give their personal attention to this matter and to assist the election officials and law officers in protecting the purity of the ballot and securing a perfectly free and fair expression of the will of the lawful citizens of Douglas county. Be it further

Resolved, That the sheriff of this county is hereby requested to cause the names of the reported conditioners existing, particularly in the county precincts of Douglas county, and the names of the law-abiding citizens to be ascertained and reported to the election officials and to the law officers of Douglas county, and that the sheriff be and he is authorized to employ such deputies as may be necessary to safeguard the election and to prevent the violation of the laws of the state.

When Sheriff Power was shown the resolution adopted by the commissioners he said:

"I am glad they took this action and I freely promise to do all in my power to prevent illegal voting by members of either party. I wish it distinctly understood that if the managers of the republican party know of any person who is voting illegally by any demagogue and will notify me, I shall be glad to pay immediate heed to it."

"By their resolution the commissioners shoulder the burden of paying an indefinite number of deputies, but let it be understood that my office is not to become a United States army recruiting station. I shall appoint for each precinct only the number of men that reliable parties living in those precincts will inform me as likely to be required."

"These deputies will be instructed to arrest forthwith any and all persons found attempting illegal voting, regardless of party."

The managers of the Mercer campaign are getting ready for the last day of registration and have apparently decided that the "scab" element of the Union Pacific shops would look better living at other places. Monday there was a considerable exodus from the temporary boarding house conducted by the company. Seventeen of the strike breakers were removed to the State hotel and eleven of them to the Metropolitan hotel, while, it is understood, others went to other boarding houses in the Third ward.

The strikers' pickets lost no time in locating the breakers and in discovering the names of those who removed for the purpose of acquiring residence outside of the Union Pacific yards. Members of the strikers' committee were yesterday making arrangements to take photographs of the strike breakers who have moved to the hotels, for the purpose of identifying them on election day and thus preventing them from repeating at the polls.

"The men seem to be making more money loafing than they were working," said a member of the strikers' picket force. "They are keeping close around the hotel and do not seem to be reporting at the shops at all. We have spotted every one of them and know of their whereabouts. Some came from the east, while others may have been residents of the state before they came to Omaha."

The question of the legality of the strike breakers by reason of their living at the Union Pacific shops has been raised, and it is argued that the boarding house opened by the company at the shops is not such a place as may be legally termed a place of residence under the Nebraska statute. So far as the marriage program and refreshments were the order of the evening. The affair, which was the first of the kind held by the club since moving to its new quarters, was a most pleasant one.

The members of the Tri-City Press club and their ladies met last night at the club rooms in the Range building for an informal social gathering. About fifty were present. For a number of years the refreshments were the order of the evening. The affair, which was the first of the kind held by the club since moving to its new quarters, was a most pleasant one.

The fact that the province of this official on the Union Pacific has been so restricted as not to extend beyond the limits of the operating department, lends strength to this theory. In the minds of many it even suggests the possibility of abolishing the office of general manager, which under the conditions, they consider a misnomer and substitute instead that of general superintendent.

statute strictly provides that where a man has a place of business in one place, and his family resides in another the place where his family resides shall be his legal place of residence. As to the single man the question is not so well settled, but the man who works in the shops and resides in the same place must have come with the intention of making this their permanent place of residence, something which seems impossible in the light of the fact that the boarding house was opened by the company as an expedient to avoid trouble with the strikers, and that the men themselves have little or no voice in saying how long or under what circumstances they will reside there, and that their removal depends not so much upon themselves as upon the will of the railroad company.

Announcements of the Theaters. One of the most notable theatrical events of the season will be the appearance of Louis James and Frederick Warde at Boyd's theater tonight in Wagelande and Kompar's big production of "The Tempest." No more elaborate and gorgeous series of the pictures in the city has ever been attempted by a traveling organization. The company which is augmented by a chorus and ballet, includes a number of prominent players, the more important being Mr. Norman Hackett, Wadsworth Harris, Thomas Cooke, Miss Teresa Maxwell and Edith Pansel.

The bill at the Orpheum this week embraces a number of pleasing features that will be enjoyed by those who attended the matinee this afternoon. The Heras family, whose remarkable work has elicited so much favorable comment, includes in their number a small boy and the woman who are just as good as the men. "The Two Julietts" a little farce enacted by Merville, Booth and Elmore, come first of the laugh-making feature. As a drawing card Midge Fox is turning out well. At every performance she is greeted by a number of hat and scarf-clad, and she has been the recipient of a number of beautiful floral offerings.
