

RAILROAD MAGNATES CONFER

High Officials of Milwaukee Road Here to Consult Union Pacific.

DISCUSS TRAFFIC TO PACIFIC COAST

Question of Whether Milwaukee Will Run Through Trains over Union Pacific Tracks is to Be Determined.

An important meeting of railroad officials was held yesterday at Union Pacific headquarters. Those present at the conference are: J. C. Stubbs of Chicago, traffic director of the Harriman lines; President A. J. Eastling, Vice President A. C. Bird, General Passenger Agent F. A. Miller and General Superintendent J. N. Barr of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, all of Chicago; President Horace G. Burt, E. L. Lomax, general passenger agent; J. A. Monroe, general freight manager, and William A. Kelly, general solicitor for the Union Pacific.

The object of this conference was to fix passenger schedules for the Union Pacific and the Milwaukee under the provisions of the new traffic agreement recently entered into by these two roads. The contract by which the Milwaukee is to run through trains over the Union Pacific to the Pacific coast, if it chooses, has been approved and confirmed, and is in fact now effective, but there remains a vast amount of work to be done in the adjustment of the combined schedules.

May Not Take All Privileges.

While the contract specifies that the Milwaukee shall have the same rights and privileges extended to the Northwestern or any other road entering into similar agreements with the Union Pacific, it is not yet certain that the Milwaukee will see fit to avail itself of all these concessions, especially that of running its trains on to the coast. Some obstacles are still in the way of fixing the schedules so as to make this arrangement mutually profitable.

It may be deemed expedient for the Milwaukee simply to run through cars instead of putting entire trains on. The volume of traffic will be a determining factor in this problem. As has been shown before, if the Milwaukee puts on through passenger trains it would mean the extensive enlargement of the service from here to Chicago and passenger officials have been quoted who deprecate the wisdom of such a plan. The traffic is thought to be not sufficient to justify doubling the train service between here and Chicago and that is what must be done if this plan is carried out without some changes.

The conference yesterday did not take up the freight question, since there seems to be little to add along that line. Through cars are already in service for freight and all these matters are already in a satisfactory state.

President Eastling Talks.

President Eastling, after the conference ended, said: "Our deliberations today were merely preliminary to an arrangement of train schedules and other details that will be attended to later. The plans are incomplete and will not be perfected at this time. We have been assured by the Union Pacific people that our traffic arrangements with their road will be made as satisfactory as the arrangement of the Northwestern has had for some years."

General Passenger Agent Miller said: "We will hold another meeting soon, when we expect other representatives of the Southern Pacific, as well as the Union Pacific, present. Mr. Stubbs was the only one from the Southern Pacific today and he is not familiar with the operating department. At this meeting we will decide the amount of the additional equipment to be supplied by each road. Our affairs are in such a shape that it will require time to settle all the details. We can say now that the new train service will not be installed before January 1st. The Milwaukee officials left for Chicago at 2 o'clock."

PAST SEVENTY AND ABUSIVE.

Old Man Gets Twenty Days' Sentence for Ill Treating His Wife.

Charles McCarthy, past 70 years of age, gray-haired and bent, was before Judge Berka in police court yesterday morning on a charge of abusing his wife. Mrs. McCarthy, apparently much older, and trembling with the pale, staid beside him, the complaining witness. In a voice that was scarcely audible she told the court that McCarthy had come home Tuesday night intoxicated and had beat and kicked her and had threatened to kill her. She cried as she told the story, and laid the blame upon the saloon keeper who sold the liquor. "I served notice on all of them in our neighborhood," she said, "that my husband could not stand to drink and for them not to sell him liquor. When he went after our can of beer last night he bought whisky and got drunk." Judge Berka sentenced McCarthy to twenty days in jail.

charged with refusing to give him up. The matter was settled yesterday by stipulation. Mrs. Walters surrendering the boy who was with her at the home of her father, Jerry Dee of South Omaha. Mrs. Dee has been at the Millard hotel for several days, coming from Denver on this special grand when she heard that Mrs. Walters was here.

ELOPEMENT COMES TO NAUGHT

Clyde McCreary and Minnie Kaplan Agree to Have Their Marriage Annulled.

The elopement and marriage of Clyde McCreary and Minnie Kaplan, the expenses of which were paid with money taken from their employers, came to naught yesterday, morning by the consent of the young people to the annulment of the marriage. They consented to this upon the promise of the father, Albert Kaplan, not to prosecute either of them for the robbery, W. H. House, for whom McCreary worked, also agreed not to prosecute after McCreary had admitted that the holdup story which he told the police was not true and that he had taken the money from the cash register.

The couple were arrested Tuesday night by Officer Brady upon complaint of the father of the bride. Mrs. McCreary was taken to her home and McCreary was locked up. The peace negotiations between Kaplan and his wife, to go to Council Bluffs with the father and have the marriage annulled; to remain away from her in the future and never upon any occasion to speak to her, but he refused to refund the $40. It took considerable argument and the intervention of the police captain before Kaplan finally agreed to take his daughter and leave the $40 alone.

Strike Leader Talks of Contract for Disposition of Old Engines.

SAYS UNION PACIFIC FAILS TO KEEP IT

Workmen in Repair Shops Threaten to Strike if Any Old Locomotives Are Sold Back to Harman Road.

B. Z. Milligan, secretary of the district lodge, International Brotherhood of Boiler-makers, is in the city after a trip east in the interest, especially, of the Union Pacific strikers. Mr. Milligan is one of the strikers himself, having been at work in the North Platte shops when the trouble began. Mr. Milligan reports that some two years ago the Union Pacific contracted to sell to the Hicks Repair Locomotive works of Chicago a number of its outmoded engines of the 500 and 700 class, and that many of the engines were delivered to the Hicks people, repaired by them and then sold to other roads, but that when the strike came on there remained a large number yet to be delivered under the contract. The company, however, has not delivered any of these, and will not, as it is held they are all needed since the strike has been a strain on the motive power of the road. Hicks has endeavored to force the delivery of these engines, but without avail. It is said also that the Union Pacific not only refuses to let any more of these engines go, but that it is repairing all it possibly can and putting them into service and still further has attempted, since the strike began, to buy back from Hicks some of the old engines that have been sold to that firm and repaired. This enterprise has likewise been foiled, as the mechanics at Hicks' are all union men and have given their ultimatum that if a single one of these engines is sold back to the Union Pacific while this strike is on they will strike.

As to Injunction Decision.

Strikers are still kept in the dark as to when a decision in the injunction case heard before the federal court will be rendered. Some of the leaders called on Judge Munger and were told that he would have to defer any action until Judge McPherson, who sat on the case jointly with him, returns to the city. Judge McPherson is in Iowa and has been for some time. The strikers are anxious to have this matter settled, yet are not worrying over it, for they are convinced nothing else could do would have any tendency toward hastening the decision. In the meantime the injunction is working without a hitch. "There is one thing I cannot understand," said a striker yesterday. "The newspapers have quoted President Burt, General Manager Dickinson and Superintendent McKee as saying the strike was over so far as they were concerned; that they had almost forgotten there had ever been a strike, so insignificant was its influence. Now what puzzles me is this: Why is it the law department of the Union Pacific cannot feel the same way about this strike. Baldwin, the author of this injunction, has magnified the effect of the strike beyond all reason; he makes out it's the biggest thing that ever happened, and yet the face of his extravagant statements the president, general manager and superintendent of motive power are utterly oblivious to the fact there is such a thing as a strike."

LAUGH AT HOFELDT'S EXPENSE

Mirror on Stairway Landing in Hotel Helps to Make the Fun.

Already the county commissioners are discussing the coming state meeting of those holding offices similar to their own, and with the talk is revived a memory of a meeting at Grand Island, when Commissioner Hofeldt of the Fifth district afforded them a laugh. The Douglas county duds were stopping at the Palmer house and in the course of the late evening Peter the Silent was stricken with a burning thirst that extended from his tonsils to his mustache and made his tongue feel like a hot roasting ear. Others also had the craving, and after futile raving for the bell boy, Hofeldt grasped the wash pitcher kindly but firmly by the neck and trudged down to the tank in the office. He got what he was looking for and started back up the main stairway. At the first landing and facing the stairs as one climbs them is an immense mirror. Peter was half way up, when glancing above him he espied what appeared to be the figure of someone coming down the steps. Hofeldt is prompt to save others trouble and, waving his free hand decorously, he called: "Oh, you needn't come down now. I have it got already." Then he looked a second time and discovered that he had been speaking to his own reflection.

The ex-firemen will meet at the office in the city hall on that evening at 8 o'clock and march to the restaurant.
