COLOMBIA STOPS THE CANAL

Action of Naval Officers Angers Government of that Country. SOME OTHER ROUTE MAY BE SELECTED

Or United States Government Might Purchase Outright Franchise of French Company and Pay No Attention to Colombia.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The status today of the Colombian canal negotiations is that both sides here are awaiting a decision of the Colombian government as to whether Minister Cuzco shall proceed under his original instructions to present to the State Department the Colombian response to the department's proposal for a treaty.

When the response arrived in Washington two days ago the minister promptly notified the State Department of the fact, but he added in his notes the statement in view of recent developments (meaning events that had happened on the isthmus since the note started from Bogota, September 15) he had regarded it as his duty to withhold it until he heard further from his government.

As the State Department had in some way come to know that the Colombian response would, if submitted, go far toward meeting the desires of this government in the matter of a canal treaty, this delay was very annoying.

Accordingly a cablegram was sent to United States Minister Pratt at the Colombian capital, notifying him of the action of the Colombian minister here. No specific complaint was made, but it was desired to make sure that the Colombian government knew that the note had been held back.

A Reason of the Delay. The matter of objection by our own officers in the attempt to link the negotiations for a canal treaty, pure and simple, with the discussion of the questions of the correctness of the attitude of our naval officers on the isthmus. It is expected that the delay will not be long, for even if the Colombian answer is not satisfactory the United States government will still be bound by the terms of the Spooner act to proceed toward the construction of an isthmian canal, and the only question to be decided is as to the method.

There are two ways open, even in case of an adverse attitude on the part of Colombia, namely, either the United States government to proceed without delay to complete the franchise with Nicaragua and Costa Rica necessary for the construction of a canal in those countries, or, and this latter course would be adopted with reluctance, the government might purchase outright the franchise of the French Panama Canal company and go on resolutely with the construction of the Panama canal, taking the ground that it would have a right to improve its own property without reference to any other government, and taking no further notice of Colombia.

MUSTERING OUT GUARDSMEN

Tecumseh Company in Second Regiment Has Lost Interest in Soldier Life.

CATHEDRAL COMPANY INCORPORATES Organization Designed to Have Charge of Construction of New Edifice for the Omaha Catholic Diocese.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Adjutant General L. W. Colby today issued an order mustering out Company B, 10th Infantry, Nebraska National guard, stationed at Tecumseh. Captain Bennett, now bookkeeper in the state auditor's office, resigned several months ago. Captain William H. Ray resigned last week, leaving the company in command of First Lieutenant Clarence A. Kessler. The company was ordered to elect a new captain and did try to do so, but no one could be found who would accept the office. The company has been going down ever since October 1901, and the adjutant decided to muster it out. If the Millard Rifles of Omaha were in proper condition it is believed they would be assigned to the Second regiment to fill the vacancy. The Millard Rifles are still unassigned.

Cathedral Board Incorporates. The Roman Catholic Cathedral Building board, an association of the Roman Catholic denomination organized to erect a cathedral for the diocese at Omaha, has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. The board of directors, chosen to serve for a term of one year, comprises Right Rev. Bishop Richard Scannell, Rev. A. M. Palmer, Canon John A. Creighton, Messrs. C. G. Warth, Frank Murphy, F. A. Nash, Frank Burkley, T. C. Byrne and T. J. Mahoney.

The Campaign Lives Up. No public meetings have been held in Lincoln so far in the interest of any of the candidates for office, but the next few days will furnish some fireworks. Next Friday evening W. H. Thompson, ex-Governor of Nebraska, will speak at the Lincoln Auditorium, and Monday evening J. H. Mickey and Congressman Burkley will make addresses at the same place. The republicans are preparing to make it a big affair and to end the campaign with a big battle.

INVESTIGATE LILLIE KILLING

Coroner's Jury Completes Its Labors but Fails to Indicate Guilty Party.

DAVID CITY, Neb., Oct. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Excitement over the murder of Harvey Lillie last Friday morning is beginning to quiet down but a vigilant search is being made by the officers and citizens to get some clue to the criminal. The coroner's jury has been busy taking testimony behind closed doors. The jury has not separated since meeting Monday morning and is constantly in charge of Deputy Sheriff Varin.

The jury concluded the taking of testimony this evening and returned a verdict of guilty to the jury. The defense exhausted its sixteen challenges, but the prosecution let its last challenge go by default.

The jurymen are all farmers, viz.: W. F. Anderson of McLean; Chris Lerum of Dry Creek, W. J. Brown of Willow Creek, J. R. Long of Osmond, G. J. Straub of Dry Creek, C. E. North of Dry Creek, G. M. Lewis of Dry Creek, S. Harmon of Dry Creek, Louis Nelson of Plattville, J. M. Rhodes of Eastern, W. A. Parsons of Eastern and W. C. Dubbles of Eastern.

The jury, at the request of Attorney Kelley for the defense, was placed in charge of the case and forty by the defense. Mrs. Breyer was the first witness and told of the tragedy at the farm. She said she heard shooting in the yard and ran around the barn and helped her husband, who had been shot. She said Anna Peters came around the barn and told Niegenfind not to shoot her father, whereupon he turned and shot her.

Mrs. Breyer became very excited while giving her testimony. She was quieted by the state's attorney, but it was not long before she became excited again, so much so that she had to be taken out of the room without finishing her testimony.

Lena Breyer, the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Breyer, was a good witness for the state. She said she heard shots that night and ran out of the house to the barnyard and there, on the south side of the barn, she saw Niegenfind loading a revolver and then saw him shoot at her father. She then ran over to Ed Williams for help, but found no one at home. She then saw her sister, Anna Peters lying on the ground north of the water tank, shot in the right side of the head near the temple.

Henry Caranta, the bachelor with whom Niegenfind stopped the night of the shooting, was called, but proved an unwilling witness for the state. He refused to identify the hat he traded to Niegenfind the morning after the murder. The courtroom was packed and standing room was at a premium.

Wanted, a Bank. Millions of Dollars in Deposits Waiting for It. Opportunity makes the man. Opportunity makes the bank. Opportunity created bank depositors. If there are no banks there can be no depositors. If there are banks and the opportunity they offer is limited it will limit the number of depositors.

Millions of money have waited a similar opportunity in America. These millions were held in chief, the weekly wages of the great army of craftsmen the country employs. There has heretofore been no opportunity for them to deposit. The banks did not want their business, because under existing methods, it could not be handled at a profit.

But the opportunity which will reach these millions of dollars has come at last, and it was bound to come in time. The United States Bankers' Corporation has secured control of the Economic Banking System, by which small deposits can be handled at a large profit. The system has the approval of eminent financiers, among them John G. Carlisle, ex-secretary of the treasury, who figures in the directory of the corporation and is also its general counsel.

The United States Bankers' Corporation will organize trust and deposit banks in forty of the leading cities of the United States. The cities are selected. The work of organization is being rapidly pushed.

The trust company organized and established by the corporation will operate the economic system of banking. This system appeals to everybody. To the depositor, because it gives them privileges which can be given under no other banking system. To merchants, because it increases trade and reduces risk and loss in business. To employers of labor, because it promotes economy and thrift and develops business habits in their employees.

What the postoffice savings banks have done in England, gathering in hundreds of millions which otherwise would be un-reached, this new banking system will do for the United States. It will reap in one of the richest financial fields in existence.

The United States Bankers' Corporation is organized with a capital of $6,000,000. It offers 250,000 shares of treasury stock at the par value of $10 per share. No subscription is accepted for less than ten shares, or $100, or for more than 2,000 shares—$20,000.

Those who are interested should write for full information as to the corporation's plans and methods to either of its principal offices, New York City building, New York, or 27 State street, Boston.
