

REVIEWS OLD WAR ON TARIFF

Cleveland Reiterates Denunciation of Protection He Made as President.

SAYS EVILS ARE YEARLY INCREASING

Trusts Fatten on High Duties and Everyday Consumer is Robbed by Law to Aid Favored Manufacturers.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Oct. 30.—Former President Cleveland spoke here tonight in Lyceum hall. He said:

I am especially pleased to learn that tariff reform has been made the principal issue in the canvass you have on hand. Of course the source of government maintenance until after plan is devised, but a tariff, constructed for the purpose of protection is, in my opinion, an unjust burden upon the masses of the people.

Renews Old Battle.

It was not long since the democratic party in advocating the reduction of tariff taxation to the revenue needs of the government, based its insistence upon the duty of cheapening the price of necessities and withdrawing so much protection from a favored few as allowed them an enormous profit. But the extensions of protection were made in such a steady manner that it was difficult to impress the view on purchases.

While this process was going on imported articles were charged such high duties as to create a surplus revenue. This surplus represented a small proportion of the necessary price of the article, but it was pocketed.

Proceeding he sketched the history of the tariff movement since 1887, when he urged a reduction in customs duties, to the present time.

Less than a year after that message it was made a target, he said, for all sorts of attack in a presidential election, and acting on the idea that the tariff must be reformed by its friends, the people were persuaded to keep those friends in political control, and they forthwith constructed a new scheme of high protection.

The bill then passed was so full of abominations and so plainly showed the heedlessness of its authors of the interests of the people, that voters were prompt in their repudiation. But soon the tariff was again in control, and they forthwith constructed a new scheme of high protection.

Capitalists Framed Law.

He had heard it said upon excellent authority that expectant beneficiaries were actually allowed to construct the schedule by which they expected to profit.

He believed this last exploit of the so-called friends of the tariff in its revision would simply satisfy any thoughtful citizen that the spirit of a high protective tariff is not indulgence and favors what it feeds upon, and that its progressive greed and heedlessness is a menace to the welfare and happiness of the people.

OPERATORS WILL MEET MEN

Object to Arbitration, Which Men Insist Upon, as Premature in French Strike.

PARIS, Oct. 30.—A renewal of minor disturbances between strikers and non-strikers was reported today from the mining districts.

At Denain the strikers demolished a coal yard, broke the windows of buildings and sent a threatening letter to the mayor. At Lens there was also much petty destruction of property. At Dunkirk fourteen arrests were made. The national committee of the Miners' Federation has adopted a resolution asking the miners to stand together and insist that the companies will unconditionally accept arbitration.

The managers of coal mines in the Department du Nord have written to the prefect of that department promising to meet the miners, but objecting to arbitration as premature.

Replying to a question asked by M. Jaures (socialist) in the Chamber of Deputies today, M. Combes said the answers of the companies to the arbitration proposals had not yet been received, but that it must be taken into account that negotiations were proceeding between the prefects of the mining departments and the managers of the mines.

He explained that the mine managers must refer the matter to their respective directors and said he hoped an agreement would be reached.

MUSICIANS OUT ON A STRIKE

Movement is Successful in Paris and Most of the Theaters Meet Their Demands.

PARIS, Oct. 30.—The strike of the members of the orchestras of the theaters and opera houses of amusement began at noon today.

The strikers assembled at the Labor exchange bearing their instruments. Although the theater managers announced their purpose of fighting the strike, a number of them have already yielded, rather than risk the loss which would ensue from a protracted struggle.

Most of the large music halls and cafes have also yielded, and their orchestras have returned to duty, though a number of them continue to resist and are giving performances without orchestras.

The prefect of police, having been advised of the intention of the strikers to invade theaters and wreck the instruments of substitutes, posted a large force of police to preserve order at the threatened places of amusement.

Almost all the theatrical managers having accepted the terms of the musicians, the evening passed without incident.

The theaters and music halls which are standing out against the strikers' demands have either dispensed with orchestras or replaced them with pianos.

ROOT TALKS ON THE TRUSTS

Prosperity Which Has Come to All is Shared by Big Combinations.

CAPITAL IS GETTING LARGER PROFITS

On the Other Hand the Labor of the Land is Receiving Higher Wages and More Steady Employment.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Cooper Union was filled tonight at a republican meeting, at which the principal speakers were Mayor Root, Governor Odell and Secretary of War Low.

Mr. Root said: Unfair and oppressive trusts are weeds in the garden of prosperity. It is easy to kill them if you will. You can keep the weeds down by pulling them out, but you must devote yourself, not to desperate measures, but to pulling out the weeds and leaving the useful parts of the plants. The trusts of capital, care must be taken not to stop great enterprises which have legitimately acquired the right to exist. The trusts of America out of the race of competition for the markets of the world and deprive the farmer of the fruits of his own industry.

Tracts Accompany Property.

The evils complained of are an outgrowth of the process of industrial development. Their regulation is also a necessary part of that process.

The wonderful scientific discoveries and inventions of the last half century have enormously increased the productive power of mankind. The same great progress in productive power during the last century has increased the productive power of labor was due first to the brains that made the great combinations of capital necessary to use the new powers and the new methods necessary for their use, and second to the capital that built the machines and the mills and the railroads and the great manufacturing establishments and took the chances of loss to gain the rewards of success.

It is plain that in the distribution of this newly acquired wealth the brains that invent and that organize the business, and the capital that constructs and maintains should be rewarded for its risk; the laborer should receive a fair wage because his labor is producing more, and the consumer should have lower prices for the product which he purchases and produces with greater ease and at less cost.

People Benefit by Changes.

The organizers of the sugar trust made much money for less than it cost to make it before the trust was formed. The organizers of the oil trust have made a great deal of money, but the poorest American farmer, by lighting his little lamp, is getting a trifle more for his little oil than he was getting before the trust was formed. The brains and capital of the sugar company and the Standard Oil Company.

While the $60,000 wage earners of 1850 increased to $310,000 in 1900 the wages paid increased from $100,000,000 to $1,000,000,000. In 1850, about five times the number of workers received the same amount of money as wages, or wages just about doubled during the fifty years. On the other hand, while the $60,000 wage earners in 1850 had swelled to $3,500,000,000 in 1900, every dollar of capital so invested received less than one-third the return received in 1850. Thus, while the returns of capital seem great because they are measured in dollars, the returns seem small because they are scattered, capital's proportionate share of the wealth is decreasing and labor's is increasing.

The result of this process is a diffusion of wealth among the people. The large fortunes seem of trifling importance. In the United States, the total income of the United States is $10,000,000,000. The total income of the United States is $10,000,000,000. The total income of the United States is $10,000,000,000.

MOODY SPEAKS ON CANADA

Would Give Reciprocity if Arrangements Satisfactory to This Country Were Made.

CHELSEA, Mass., Oct. 30.—William H. Moody, minister of the navy, was the principal speaker at a republican rally here tonight. He confined himself to the subject of reciprocity with Canada. He said:

In entering into any system of reciprocity with any other country, we should regard American interests in the first place. I would not enter into any reciprocity with Canada which would injure our fisheries, whose existence I conceive to be of the highest concern in the public mind. Our exports to Canada have increased by leaps and bounds, although there is a 31-32 per cent tariff against our goods. I have purchased $200,000 more from you than from Great Britain in the world. The balance of trade is constantly in our favor and it would be a pity to have no reasonable ground for complaint.

URIBE-URIBE'S SURRENDER IS CAUSE

Negotiations Start in Costa Rica, but Are Now to Be Transferred to Panama on Suggestion of Vargas-Santos.

PANAMA, Colombia, Oct. 30.—There is reason to believe the Colombian revolution will now end with little or no bloodshed. Confirmation from a reliable source has been received that General Vargas-Santos, the military director of the revolutionists, has been negotiating a treaty of peace in Costa Rica with a representative of the Colombian government.

Last week General Vargas-Santos sent a cable message to Governor Salazar, asking leave to come here to confer with the governor personally. Today he repeated this telling him to come. Much is expected from the approaching conference.

It is also a fact that on Tuesday the revolutionary general, Herrera, sent a communication to Governor Salazar insisting upon a conference with the governor of Panama and saying that from it he believed peace would result. This message was answered by Governor Salazar yesterday.

He said he was ready to meet General Herrera, whose desire for a peace conference is said to be a result of the recent surrender of General Uribe-Uribe, who was one of the most active of the revolutionary leaders.
