

CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

Volume of Business for October Broke All Previous Records. BUT FEW IMPORTANT CHANGES IN PRICES

Outlook for Spring Business Shows More Favorable Each Week and Jobbers Making Big Preparations to Handle It.

October has been a busy month with Omaha jobbers and manufacturers. Each week they have reported business as being very brisk and now that they have figured up the total for the month...

Canned Goods Continue Strong. So far as the canned goods situation is concerned, local grocery jobbers report this as being one of the worst seasons they have ever experienced...

There have been no important changes in the market on canned goods, but the tendency is toward a weaker market. Tomatoes are still a little weak in the east, but a reaction at any time would cause no surprise.

Reports were received last week to the effect that the market for Muscatel raisins will be advanced, but just what line will be affected is not definitely known.

There has also been an advance in walnuts and soft-shell walnuts. The market for these goods is very strong, with advances on Brazil, Florida and California walnuts.

The sugar market has been a little weak last week, but raw and refined being affected. In the line of fish, the market on Holland herring is reported to be very strong.

House Trade Quiet. House trade with local dry goods jobbers has been rather quiet during the last two weeks. That is partly due to the fact that retailers are not buying as much as they have in the past.

The general market situation is much the same as it was a week ago. Wire and nails are being sold at a profit, but other commodities are being sold at a loss.
