W. C. Rabe, pastor, and Augusta Busch, a missionary. An open gas jet attached to a small stove, and a ruom full of gas, told the cause of death.

The bodies were rigid and stiff and death had evidently occurred during the carly hours of the previous evening. The coroner has taken charge of the remains and will hold an inquest.

Miss Busch roomed at the home to Berndes, 2635 Seward street, and Rev. in the center the very small study the bodies lay, the heads just a few feet from the door. The woman's face was covered with froth and had begun to turn purple. One gas jet above the pastor's table was turned off and from a stove gas was slowly escaping. The door from the study opening into the auditoritim of the church was slightly open and the auditorium was filled with gas. Officer Cullen notified the coroner and the remains were taken to the morgue.

Death Not Due to Suicide.

It was thought at first the two had committed suicide, for on the table was an open letter, a neatly arranged bouquet, his watch and glasses, and his hat, her gloves and handkerchief, and nearly folded upon the back of a chair was her jacket, and the room was orderly as though it had just been cleaned. The letter was written in German and when interpreted was found to be an answer to another letter which Rev. Robe had received, and there was nothing in it to indicate that the two had intended taking their lives.

Rev. Rabe was 54 years of age and came to Omaha from Buffalo, N. Y., last January, when he was chosen pastor of the German Baptist church. In that city he left a wife, who is attending a missionary school and one son. He was held in high esteem by his congregation and recently upon the occasion of his birthday a church party was given in his honor. He roomed with two young men named Dirkson and a housekeeper. The parents of the young men re cently died and Rev. Rabe remained with the boys to take care of them.

Miss Busch was 31 years of age and had been a missionary in Omaha for the last five years. She came here from Chicago, sent by the church missionary school. She, oo, was held in high esteem and was very popular. She had a brother, believed to be in Michigan, but for some time she had had no trace of him and his address is unknown to her friends. Her trunk, containing many letters which will likely lead to the location of her relatives, has been taken charge of by the coroner.

Hospital Matters

A meeting of the directors of the South Omaha Hospital association was held at An sudience of good size witnessed the the office of Dr. C. M. Schindel last night for the purpose of making arrangements to incorporate the association. Some time ago the women of the association called the attention of the public to the necessity for more commodious quarters. It is asserted that the present building on Twenty-sixth street is entirely inadequate to the needs of the institution. What is wanted is a building suitable for bospital nurposes. When the association made its wants known a committee of physicians took the matter up and appointed a committee composed of Howard Meyers, C. A. Melcher and Dr. C. M. Schindel to investigate and report. Last night's meeting was called for the purpose of hearing the report of this special committee. It was agreed that the first step toward securing better quarters would be the incorporation of the association, and this was practically agreed upon at the meeting last night. As soon as this is done it
