MONSTER STRIKE IMPENDS

Chicago Switchmen and Trainmen Voting on Proposition of Companies. INDICATIONS FAVOR ITS REJECTION To Do Otherwise Would Be to Turn Down Their Committee-Follows Plan Outlined in Bee in July.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Chicago is facing a tremendous crisis in railroad affairs, a crisis that may be felt by the entire country. If not speedily averted, it will be the greatest strike of several years ago the present trouble if it reaches the breaking point, will be of much greater proportions and more widespread in its ramifications.

A week ago the 3,000 men of the Chicago switching district presented a demand for an 18-cent increase in wages for the 18-month period. The men of the Chicago switching district presented a demand for an 18-cent increase in wages for the 18-month period.

Witness said he did not wear an overcoat on December 23, 1901. In reply to a question by ex-Governor Black, Cornish said he was positive he did not wear an overcoat at that time.

During the fall and winter of 1901, I wore the same overcoat that I have got over there, indicating a chair in the rear of the court. It is a brown overcoat. I did not wear a white hat at all last year.

Cornish said he was sure it was before 3 o'clock when he reached Sullivan's office. When Mr. Black referred to the minutes of the last trial he found that Cornish then placed the hour of his visit at Sullivan's office before 4 o'clock.

Contradicts Mr. Stephenson. Howard Adams, called by the prosecution, said he was sitting near Mrs. Stephenson in court yesterday and saw two men indicate Cornish to her as soon as Cornish entered the court room and she said: "Is it?"

Witness also said: "A man with grey hair said to Mrs. Stephenson: 'That's Cornish' and she replied: 'Is it?'"

Later a young man said "That's Cornish," and again she said: "Is it, where?" Mr. Osborne announced that the prosecution rested and ex-Governor Black called Mrs. Stephenson in her rebuttal.

HENDERSON TO MAKE FIGHT

Report He Will Seek Nomination for Governor of Iowa. SAID TO FEEL BITTER TOWARD CUMMINS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Administration and political circles in Washington were greatly interested today in a story which appeared in eastern newspapers this morning from Des Moines stating that it was Speaker Henderson's intention to try conclusions with Governor A. B. Cummins in Iowa for the gubernatorial nomination in that state next year.

The story also coupled the name of Henderson's interest. The secretary of the treasury refused to be stamped, however, when The Bee correspondent asked the general issue.

It is asserted that there is no great love between Secretary Cummins and Governor Henderson, but it is not expected that the secretary of the treasury will do anything to embarrass the administration.

MASON MYSTERY INCREASES

Identified in New Case, While Old Case Halts. SHADOWED JACK THE SLUGGER ALWAYS

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—While no direct evidence has been found implicating Adam J. Mason with the murder of Miss Clara Morton, numerous facts have come to light connecting him, indirectly, with various Jack the Slugger crimes.

At the same time the police are again beginning to doubt his connection with the charge on which he has been arrested, because the pawnbroker to whom the murdered woman's watch was sold fails to identify him.

Some One Murdered Both. The signatures of the checks kept on file by this pawnbroker to identify the persons who pledged him the articles were written by the same person, thus supporting the theory that Miss McPhee and Miss Morton were murdered by the same man.

Another late incident was the arrest on suspicion tonight at Watertown of a young mulatto. He was brought here, but the pawnbroker, Nemeser, failed to identify him and he was released.

An apparent coincidence was noted in connection with the pawning of the watches in that the address given in the McPhee case was 23 Grove street, and in the Morton case the same number, 23, in Greenwich street, was given.

In probing the case at Waverly the state police have found evidence that Mason had made at least two attempts to have women meet him at night at "The Oaks," a section of the Metropolitan park reservation not far from the McLean insane asylum, where Mason was a patient, and on the grounds of which Miss Morton was killed.

Nemeser yielded the jail during the day, but failed to identify Mason. At the jail Mason was placed among six other men and Nemeser carefully scrutinized each one. He picked out one man as the person who pawned the watch, but it was not Mason.

The negro who has charge of the house where the Masons live was about his house as usual today, although the police claimed he had gone away. He said that he was found there after the police had looked for him.

Identified in Other Case. During the afternoon a Mrs. Sayer called at the jail and identified Mason as the man who annoyed her last summer in a city library. This is chiefly important because the Jack the Slugger case in which Miss R. A. Soderquist was assaulted took place in the same library.

Miss Soderquist was assaulted in the same manner as Miss Burton and Miss McPhee. The attention of the chief of police was called to an interview with Nemeser in the local papers. In it Nemeser said he was paid to stick to his story, but a mulatto had told the watch, but it was not Mason.

"This is perfectly outrageous," said the chief. "The story is all both. Nemeser was told he would be paid for closing his shop and going about with the officers. He will be reimbursed also for what he gave for the two watches. He is a poor Jew and very much excited, and he told me that he was besieged by so many reporters that he did not know what he was saying or what he had said."

Nemeser's hysterical condition is also shown by the fact that he told the police positively today that "the man who pawned the watch was a white man and later admitted that he might have been a colored man, in fact he rather thought he was. A similar change of opinion was noted with regard to the man he claims tried to pawn the watch on Saturday night.

At first he was positive it was a negro, then he said he was of light complexion and might have been a mulatto. Later he admitted he might have been a Spaniard or an Italian.

The story that a strange negro was in Waverly on Saturday evening was made known by a woman who saw a negro purchase a ticket for Waverly.

Two detectives tonight interviewed this woman, who is a nurse. She says she was at the Cambridge station from 7:30 until 8 on Saturday night.

During this time she had excellent opportunity of observing the actions of two white men and a negro who were at the station. The two white men were looking at a photograph, when one of them said: "Well, we might as well buy a ticket."

They purchased a single ticket to Waverly and handed it to the negro, although previously they had shown no sign of recognition.

This places the negro in Waverly at 8:15 or about three quarters of an hour before the assault on Miss Morton. At first they were positive it was a negro, then he said he was of light complexion and might have been a mulatto. Later he admitted he might have been a Spaniard or an Italian.

Thieves Rob a Residence. NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Emanuel Jacobus, a lawyer of this city, reported to the police today that his residence in Madison avenue was entered by thieves last night while the family was at dinner and that $5,000 worth of jewelry and a quantity of valuable clothing was stolen.

Many received saber wounds.

A VILLAGE WONDER

THE HATLET OF BIG SPRING, WIS., HAS A SENSATION. Agitation Over the Story of a Woman Who Wanted to Die—Her Condition Due to Ill Health.

Big Spring, Adams county, Wisconsin, is much the same as other country villages where every resident's affairs are pretty well known to everybody else. It was no secret, therefore, that Mrs. Jennette Wilber led an unhappy life and has wished for death as a relief from her suffering.

"Everyone in the village knows of my long sickness. After each meal gas would form in my stomach and cause me great distress. So great was my suffering that I thought many times it would be a relief to die. Of course I was treated by the best doctors in our section, but they help they gave me was only temporary. I was very careful of my diet, but as I became worse I had difficulty in retaining the simplest food, in fact, the smell of food often nauseated me. One day I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People mentioned in a newspaper and, although I had tried many medicines without being benefited, I decided to try them. I knew that my condition was of long standing, could not be cured in a day and I gave the pills a thorough trial. I began to improve slowly after taking the first box and in a few minutes I was entirely free from indigestion and could eat anything I wanted. Since that time I have been troubled but once when I became run down from overwork. I reported to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills again and was soon entirely well."

Anyone having indigestion or dyspepsia can be cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People as given a sufficient trial. These pills act, not on the symptoms, but on the cause of disease and have cured not only indigestion, but are an unfailing specific for all diseases arising from impoverished blood, such as rheumatism, nervous partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, nervous headache, after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion and all forms of weakness. At all druggists, or direct from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., five cents per box; six boxes for two dollars and a half.

WOMAN REMAINS OBDRATE

She Goes to Jail Rather Than Give Road to Comply with the Law. DUBLIN, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Annie O'Mahoney, the first woman imprisoned under the crimes act during the present campaign, was arrested at Waterford this morning and sent to jail, where she will undergo a two-months' sentence.

Mrs. O'Mahoney, who is the proprietor of the Waterford Star, refused to furnish bail to guarantee that she would cease the publication of boycotting notices. H. P. Lynch, editor of the same paper, was also arrested and sent to jail for a similar term.
