SOCIETY GREETS THE BUDS

Coming-Out Parties Occupy the Center of the Local Stage Now.

ONE PLACE WHERE MEN LOSE OUT

Afternoon Receptions Closed to the Masculine End of the World of Much Brilliance and Genuine Pleasure.

Despite the estimate ordinarily placed upon the before dinner gathering by the average society man, the debut reception of the week past and those scheduled for the near future have made the men wish that they were eligible to afternoon affairs. It has been many a season since so many daughters of such prominent families have been brought out and society seems unable to do enough in honor of these girls.

Miss Faith Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Potter, and Miss Jeanne Wakefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wakefield, are to be introduced within the fortnight, and besides the receptions to be given by Mrs. Potter and Mrs. Wakefield, there are to be numerous other gatherings that will keep society busy.

Evelyn Dear: Of all the things with which a girl has to contend nowadays—and there are plenty of them, too—these college fraternities are the most trying. Really, Evelyn, I for one never could see the consistency of an organization of a lot of people who have nothing in the world in common but some secrets and a pin that is as devoid of beauty as it is of sense. That sort of thing may be all well enough while one is at college, but when one is through with it and has gone into society I think it is awfully inconsiderate to keep dragging in one's fraternity and with it a lot of people that any girl knows right well have no claims upon her, excepting that they belong to the same "frat." Its awfully aggravating not to be invited to a house party or a luncheon or something else given by one's best friend, just because one doesn't happen to "belong," and then when one resents being left out, as she has every right to do, to be looked at as though the cause for offense was all on the other side and be told that the affair was "just for the frat girls." And the men, Evelyn, are even worse than the girls, and it's come to such a pass that unless a girl wears one of those enamel or some other kind of ugly pin that doesn't mean anything except to members, she is really looked upon as incapable of appreciating half the larks that people have nowadays. Nobody ever thinks of asking her to go to a foot ball game, and if she does get to go, she is sure to be mortified to death by having somebody undertake to explain the game to her, just as though any girl didn't know about foot ball. It really takes most of the pleasures from the anticipation of Thanksgiving, for all the college folks will be at home then, and the girls who don't "belong" might as well make up their minds to being second, if not third, to even those who have nothing else but one of those horrid pins to recommend them to the favor of those who will be doing things then. Your own KAROLYNE.

The season for the afternoon gathering, the table de hote dinner and the week's-end hop at the County club closed on last Saturday evening with a large gathering of the fashionables who made up numerous dinner parties and danced until very late, improving their last opportunity of enjoying the club until next spring—that is, the last general gathering, for there are ever so many who fancy the idea of small affairs out there after the weather gets cold—and the season will make possible gatherings limited by invitation. Among those who entertained dinner parties were Mr. James Paxton, whose guests were Miss Allen, Miss Edith Smith and Miss Hoagland, Mr. Benn and Mr. Heth. Mr. and Mrs. Pritchett entertained Mrs. Everett, Mrs. Ned Everett, Miss Pritchett, Mr. Fred Hamilton and Mr. George Pritchett. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kountze had as their guests Mrs. Van Natta, Miss Preston and Mr. John Eastman of Chicago. Miss Moore, Miss Gore, Mr. Keogh and Mr. Charles Pratt made up another party.

The patronage of so large a gathering of the smart people at the initial serving of the table d'hote dinner at the Omaha club on Monday evening promised to insure to this institution the favor that has in months past been shown the Saturday evening dinner at the Country club and, incidentally, to supply society, in a measure at least, a substitute for those week-end gatherings that, now that they are over for a time, would otherwise be sadly missed. The dinner was served in the men's cafe and adjoining rooms, and besides numerous individuals and couples there were several dinner parties. Mr. and Mrs. Deuel had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Lomax, the Misses Warren, Miss Lomax, Dr. George Dandy, Dr. Fred Lake and Mr. Ezra Millard. Mr. Tom Creigh, Mr. Charles Pratt, Miss Moore and Miss Peck formed another party. Mr. and Mrs. Cowgill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kountze, Mrs. Van Natta and Mrs. Pennick were at another table; Miss Rogers, Miss McShane, Mr. Will Burns and Mr. Louis Nash at another; Mr. and Mrs. Kirkendall, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Reed and Mr. and Mrs. Wattles at another.

AN UNPLEASANT EXPERIENCE.

Has it ever been your unhappy lot to be told by your physician that you must go to a hospital and submit to an operation? If so, you remember with what dread and shrinking you awaited the day when you must endure the knife. The present day surgeon appears to be possessed by a mania for operating, especially in cases of hemorrhoids or piles, and while the greater number of the profession do not recommend this "last resort" unless they honestly believe it necessary, the fact remains that much needless operating is done, and the patient put to much expense and suffering for what? To obtain a possible temporary relief; these words are used advisedly, because in nine cases out of ten the affliction returns and the patient is just where he started from. Oftentimes he could be cured much more simply and easily by the use of such a remedy as the Pyramid Pile Cure; this has come to be recognized as the best remedy on the market for the painful disease named, and the druggists now sell more of it than all other pile remedies combined. The writer personally knows people who were afflicted with the worst form of bleeding and protruding piles and who were permanently cured by the use of Pyramid Pile Cure. In every one of these cases the attending physician had assured the sufferer that only by an operation could he rid himself of the disease; so much for the infallibility of the doctors. This remedy, which is sold by all druggists at the low price of fifty cents, is in suppository form, is applied directly to the parts affected, and performs its work quietly and painlessly. The Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., will mail free to any address a book telling all about piles or hemorrhoids, their cause and cure.

A suggestion is offered that if the reader is afflicted, or knows anyone who is, this book be sent for, as it will be found invaluable.

Weddings and Engagements.

Mr. William Livingston McClague, formerly of Omaha, but now connected with one of the principal banks of Chicago, was married, Wednesday, October 29 to Miss Harriet Hypes Hagan, at the home of the bride in Evanston. They will be at home after December 5 at 296 Winthrop.

Last Wednesday evening the marriage of Mr. James W. Bouk and Mrs. Addie Lellie Fitch was solemnized at South Omaha, Neb., by Rev. Head, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of that city in their new home, 2115 N street. Only the immediate relatives were present. Immediately after the wedding ceremony a dainty supper was served and the newly wedded couple left for a few days sojourn with relatives in the country.

A very pretty wedding took place Thursday afternoon at the residence of C. F. Hastings, when his sister, Miss Kate M. Hastings, was married to Mr. Edwin F. Welch of Delavan, Wis. Only the immediate family being present. The house was prettily decorated with ferns and chrysanthemums. The Rev. Dewitt Long of Knox Presbyterian church performed the ceremony. The bride was attired in a gown of gray crepe cloth, with trimmings of chiffon and Irish point lace. After a dainty luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Welch left for a short wedding trip, after which they will be at home at Delavan, Wis.

On Wednesday, November 5, at 8 a. m. Catherine Rush, daughter of John Rush, and Charles P. Moriarty were quietly married in the chapel of Mount St. Mary's convent, Fifteenth and Castellar streets, Rev. D. W. Moriarty, brother of the groom, performed the ceremony, at which only immediate friends and relatives were present. Among the latter were Mr. and Mrs. James Hartnett of Hubbard, Neb., and Mrs. John Duggan of Goodwin, Neb. The bride, attired in grey peau de soie, was attended by her sister, Miss Anna Rush, who wore rose color. James Rush attended the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Moriarty left on the evening train for Chicago and other eastern points.

Cards have been received in Omaha this week for the marriage of Miss Blanche Deuel Estabrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Estabrook of Chicago, and Mr. Karl G. Roebling, which is to occur on the afternoon of Thursday, November 20, the reception hours being from 5 until 7 o'clock at the Estabrook home, 524 Dearborn avenue, Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Roebling will be at home the first and third Thursdays in February at 206 State street, Trenton, N. J. Miss Estabrook is widely known in Omaha, this having formerly been the home of her people, and is one of the most popular members of the most exclusive younger north side set of Chicago. Mr. Roebling is the son of Mr. Ferdinand M. Roebling and is a director of the John A. Roebling company. He is a Princeton man, having graduated in 1894 and was a member of the Cottage club, one of the most exclusive organizations of the university.

Miss Jemima R. Wise and Robert D. Johnston, prominent young people of Clifton Hill, were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's brother, R. J. C. Wise, Tuesday evening, October 21, 1902. Only the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties were in attendance at the wedding ceremony, which was performed by Rev. R. M. Dillon of the Clifton Hill Presbyterian church. The ring ceremony was used and Helen Johnston, a niece of the groom, carried the ring on an American Beauty rose. The bride was attired in a gown of white, trimmed with point lace. The house was tastefully decorated in greens and carnations. Following the ceremony a luncheon was served in the dining room. The bride and groom left immediately for a trip through Colorado and Kansas. They will be at home to their friends after the 15th of November at 4203 Burdette street.

The marriage of Mr. Clinton R. Miller and Miss Margaret Anna Gleason took place last Wednesday morning at St. Philomena's cathedral, the pastor, Rev. P. A. McGovern, officiating. The cathedral choir under the direction of Miss Swift, rendered a specially prepared musical program. Mrs. T. A. Corby and Miss Genevieve Croft, being soloists. The bride was attired in a dainty gown of white chiffon, over white silk. Miss Nora Gleason, acted as bridesmaid and wore a very handsome tucked creation in silk mousseline, over blue silk. Mr. M. P. O'Connor was groomsman. The ushers were Messrs. T. Swift, John Brennan and A. Criger. The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the newly married couple, 2064 North Eighteenth street. Revs. J. A. Fitzpatrick and P. A. McGovern and a few immediate relatives and friends partaking. The house was artistically decorated with cut flowers, ferns, potted plants and autumn leaves. During the evening reception from 7 to 10, the house was crowded with friends of the young couple.

The members of the Chafing Dish club were entertained for the first time this season at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Smith on Park avenue, on Tuesday evening. Ping pong and a flower guessing contest followed the supper, several prizes being given.

The dancing party given by Miss Margaret Hitchcock on Monday evening at her home at Twentieth and Dodge streets, complimentary to Miss Pritchett and her guest, Miss Shattuck, was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the week among the members of the younger set. It was wholly informal and about fifty young people were present.

The members of the Charmante club held the first of their series of meetings for the winter on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Edith Snell. The club is larger this winter than last and as cards are the diversion another table will be added for the new members. The next meeting will be held on Thursday afternoon, November 20, at the home of Mrs. Guy French.

The Strollers were most delightfully entertained by Mrs. Frank Green at her pleasant home on Poppleton avenue, on Wednesday afternoon. After eight games of cards an elaborate luncheon was served. The prizes were awarded to Mrs. Sol Hopper, Mrs. J. Walter and Mrs. H. J. Gondon. The club will meet next with Mrs. A. C. P. Farrell for a Thanksgiving luncheon.

Mrs. William Hill Clarke gave the first of the really large card parties of the season this week, the first on Monday afternoon and the second on Wednesday. Sixty guests were present at Monday afternoon's gathering, six-handed euchre being the game for which two beautiful prizes were awarded. On Wednesday, twelve tables were employed. On both occasions red flowers and red shaded candles were used in decoration, the score cards being of white monogramed in gilt.

In compliment to her guest, Miss Campbell of Texas, Miss Mary Livesey gave a card party on Thursday afternoon at her home at Twenty-eighth and Capitol avenue. High five was the game of the afternoon, seven tables being arranged through the rooms, which were prettily trimmed, the parlors with pink and white chrysanthemums and the back parlor with red and white carnations. Four very handsome prizes were given to Miss McKenzie, Miss Hanlon, Mrs. French and Miss Patterson.

On Tuesday evening, November 4, the Friendly Greeting club was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hussie, in Bemis park. At the card games Mr. J. H. Reilly was awarded first gentleman's prize and Mrs. P. J. Corcoran first lady's prize. Mrs. E. W. Norris and Mr. Walter McKenna were awarded consolation prizes. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess, after which several musical selections were rendered by Mrs. Hussie and Miss Mary Hussie. The club will next be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Norris, on Clifton Hill, Tuesday evening, November 18.

In compliment to Mrs. Van Natta and Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Beesen entertained 100 guests at a buffet luncheon on Wednesday. White and yellow chysanthemums in profusion trimmed the drawing room, while the dining room was decorated with white and green. A handsome lace center strewn with fern leaves, formed the base of the mound of white chysanthemums in the center of the table and was surrounded with green shaded candle sticks. Mrs. Beeson, Mrs. Miller, and Mrs. Van Natta received together. Among the assisting women were Mmes. Charles Kountze, Reed, Baum, D. Baum, Robbins, Remington and Kirkendall.

Prominent among the fashionable gatherings of the week was the reception given from 3 until 5 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. John D. Creighton at her residence, 1918 Cass street, at which about 300 guests were present. Mrs. Creighton was assisted in receiving by her daughters, Mrs. Allison and Mrs. John Doherty. With the exception of the dining room the decorations were of pink, though the windows were darkened and the lights shaded with green. In the dining room the trimmings were of white and green, a mound of white carnations embedded in ferns rested upon a centerpiece of lace over green satin. Here Mmes. Charles Kountze, Van Natta and Joseph Barker presided, assisted by Misses Peck and Lomax. Miss Edith Smith, Mrs. Henry Clarke, jr., and Mrs. Cudahy served punch, while Mmes. Charles Creighton, Fred Nash, Frank McGinn and others assisted through the rooms.

Taking precedence over everything else of the week and among the largest affairs of the year was the reception given by Mrs. Thomas Rogers and Mrs. John Brady from 3 to 5 o'clock on Thursday afternoon at Metropolitan club, at which the former introduced her daughter, Miss Janet Rogers and the latter her daughter, Miss Bessie Brady and her niece, Miss Lucy Gore. The first of the bevy of young women to make their debut this season and their presentation was one of exceptional elaborateness. Their coming out was an occasion that promises to retain a prominent place among the social functions of the winter. The masses of flowers that were everywhere in evidence, attested the host of friends the young women have won during their brief social career and give promise of its most happy continuance. Mrs. Brady and Mrs. Rogers, with the debutantes, received in the drawing room, surrounded by chrysanthemums and American beauty roses. The gowns of the young women were of white mull with lace trimmings and each carried American beauty roses. Out in the hall punch was served by the young women presented the last two seasons and in the small dining room a number of women presided alternately at a most effectively trimmed table. Throughout the house the lights were shaded in rose pink shades, while the chandeliers were wound with southern smilax. Among the assisting women were Mmes. Wattles, Kirkendall, Cudahy, Guiou, John A. McShane, Charles Green, Charles Kountze, Luther Kountze, Lawton, Charles Keller, Cowgill, Wheeler, Wilkins, Colpetzer, Lomax, C. N. Dietz, Cummings; Misses Edith Smith, Lomax, Warren, McShane, Moore, Brinker, Ford, McConnell, Ella Mae Brown, Potter, Shattuck, Pritchett, Wakefield and Holdrege. In the evening the ~~assemblies~~ were transferred to the ball room, where amid flowers and brilliant lights one of the most enjoyable of dancing parties was held. Down stairs, the large dinner room, which had been screened off during the reception, was furnished with numerous small flower trimmed tables from which refreshments were served. While the evening's guests consisted largely of the members of the younger set, there were many of the young married people present and all of the women who assisted during the afternoon.

Amusements.

At the Boyd.

Stuart Robson and company in Bronson Howard's American comedy, "The Henrietta." Cast of characters:

Nicholas Vanalstyne, "Old Nick" in the street.....Mr. Edwin Holt
Dr. Parke Wainwright...Mr. Adolph Jackson
Nicholas Vanalstyne, jr...Mr. Charles Lane
Bertie Vanalstyne, his brother a lamb.....Mr. Stuart Robson
Lord Arthur Trelawney, another.....Mr. Clifford Leigh
Rev. Dr. Murray Hilton, a shepherd.....Mr. Joseph P. Keefe
Watson Flint, a broker.....Mr. Walter Pennington
Musgrave, an old clerk...Mr. Cecil Kingstone
Mrs. Cornelia Opdyke, a widow.....Miss Eleanor Barry
Mrs. Rose Vanalstyne, wife of Vanalstyne, jr...Miss Frances Grahame Mayo
Agnes, her sister, in love with Bertie.....Miss Victoria Addison
Lady Mary Trelawney, old Vanalstyne's daughter.....Miss Laura Thompson

Bertie the Lamb is no stranger to Omaha, but he never came accompanied as he did last night, nor surrounded by companions more welcome to his hosts. In his revival of "The Henrietta" Mr. Robson has outdone any of his former efforts, and, surrounded as he is by the best company he has ever brought to Omaha, his performance last night will long be remembered by those who were present as one of the best things they ever enjoyed at the theater. In former times Mr. Robson has apparently been content to present the good old Bronson Howard comedy for laughing purposes only, overlooking or ignoring its great dramatic possibilities. In the present instance it seems to have been the star's study to throw into the high lights the really tragic features of the piece and, without subordinating the humor, to give more emphasis to the strong love story that lies in the woof of the fabric from which the piece was wrought. Thus, the great scene at the end of the second act, where Bertie allows himself to be forced into a false position and assumes the onus of his brother's sin, the sextette involved by the action of the play last night worked up one of the most forcible climaxes that ever compelled applause, and were well rewarded by most hearty curtain calls. And this is only one instance of the excellence of the whole performance. Indeed, those who remained away because they have seen the piece so often will never know what they have missed, while those who went saw "The Henrietta" as they never saw it before, at least in Omaha.

Mr. Robson's own work needs no comment. Mr. Leigh was a much better foil for him as Lord Arthur Trelawney than as Dromio of Ephesus. Miss Mayo has a good part in Rose Vanalstyne, and does it well, while Miss Barry is no less acceptable in a Howard part than she proved in a Shakespearean. Mr. Lane enacted the difficult role of Nicholas Vanalstyne, jr., with much taste, carrying off his strong scene in the third act with good effect. Edwin Holt as Nicholas Vanalstyne, sr., and Mr. Keefe as Rev. Dr. Murray Hilton easily realize the best conception of the not overly scrupulous money king and the clerical hypocrite whose worldly training has not been equal to his worldly ambition. In every way the cast is worthy of the efforts of the star to revive interest in the good American comedy. The Boyd theater was fairly well filled last night, and the piece was most thoroughly enjoyed by all.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

A large number of members were present at the program meeting of the Clio society held Friday afternoon. The society was organized last month under the leadership of Miss Pfeiffer and already claims over sixty members. Medieval history is studied, as it has been dropped from the high school course. The interesting program was as follows: Paper, "The Huns," by Miss Stimmack; vocal solo, Miss Gates; paper, "The Visigoths," by Miss Galloway; oration, "Vandals," Mr. Kennedy; talk, "Ostrogoths," Miss Nodgard; piano solo, Cora Evans; talk, "The Lumbards," Miss Woodward; debate, "Resolved, That the Germans were hostile to the empire." The negative, upheld by Mr. Lee and Mr. Hayward, was victorious.

The Natural History society held its regular monthly meeting Friday. The meeting opened with an address from the president, Arthur Remington, followed by a report from the secretary, Eloise Hillis. A review of the current literature was read by Elizabeth Klewit, an address was given by Frank Willis and the program closed with a talk by Mr. Pearse.

A great deal of excitement was caused last week by the Register Stock company elections for editor-in-chief, business manager and associate editors. On Monday evening Frank Creedon was elected president of the company, Ralph Hart vice president, Hugh Wallace secretary and Roy Sunderland treasurer. These officers, with the heads of the departments of the high school nominated from five to ten members of each class for class editor, two nominees for editor-in-chief, four for business manager and two for assistant business manager. On Wednesday the election took place in earnest. Each member of the stock company was allowed as many votes as he had shares. No one knew until every vote was counted who were to be elected, as in many cases it came out so close. Denton Slaughter, who was elected for senior class editor, has resigned, as he is not a senior. Miss Mary Morgan will take his place on the staff. Following is the result of the election: Editor-in-chief—Edwin Meyer, 201; Roy Sunderland, 171. Assistant editor—Bernice Carson, 265; Florence Tillotson, 106. Class editors—Senior: Denton Slaughter, 138; Leslie Higgins, 91; Mary Morgan, 90; Ida Smith, 80. Junior: Elizabeth Klewit, 104; Tom Allen, 98; Jean Fleming, 87; Arthur Remington, 66. Sophomore: Allan Lee, 143; Nona Townsend, 115; Ula Waterhouse, 91; George Wallace, 73. Freshmen: Anna Bourke, 213; Clement Chase, 112; Lake Deuel, 89; Carroll R. Belden, 72. Business manager—Ernest Kelley, 171; James Fair, 109; John Dumont, 78; Raymond Beselin, 12. Assistant business manager—Donald Kennedy, 165; William Christie, 119; Byron Eaton, 92.

Luzon Troops Behave Well.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—General Wade, commanding in southern Luzon, pays a high tribute in his annual report to the conduct of the troops there, notwithstanding the fact that their supply of fresh meat has been very scant. He says there have practically been no complaints by the civil authorities or individuals against the conduct of the soldiers.

SOROSIS

At $3.50 ALWAYS

The daily output of the Sorosis factory is 5,000 pairs.

The ordinary manufacturer of fine shoes turns out 500 pairs. The difference in quantity manufactured, you can readily see, gives us great advantage in buying leather and everything else necessary to a fine shoe. This added to the extra profit asked by most retailers brings the price of Sorosis to $3.50, for shoes that have always cost you $5 and $6.

THE PIANOLA

Its Phenomenal Success

has inspired many imitators, who sometimes represent their players as PIANOLAS, but they wholly lack the artistic musical qualities that distinguish the PIANOLA from all others.
