WOMEN LOSE DRESS GOODS

Proprietor of Tailoring Establishment Leaves the City with Material Missing.

L. Rosenstein, who until recently conducted a women's tailoring establishment in the Victoria hotel, has left the city and several women who had dealings with him are mourning his departure.

Among these is Mrs. Sinclair, head of the millinery department of the Boston store, Mrs. Simpson and discovered that Rosenstein had left the city. Four other women who had left material for dresses there called during the day.

Rosenstein came to Omaha about six weeks ago and purchased two machines from the Siger Manufacturing company on the installment plan.

Since his departure he wrote to the company from 523 West Third street, Des Moines, giving it authority to take possession of the machines.

A Good Move. The members of the Conservative Savings and Loan association calling at the new office, No. 205 South Sixteenth street, express themselves well pleased with the new location.

The room is light and airy and well adapted to the needs of the association, and, more important still, is centrally located in the retail district of the city.

The officers feel that within the next few months the business of the association will run past the one million point, the present assets being considerably in excess of $900,000.

BURGLARS LEAD THE POLICE

Crippled Force is After Perpetrators of a Number of Small Jobs.

Several small burglaries were pulled off Thursday night and the sixteen policemen on the beats today are making strenuous efforts to locate the perpetrators.

The harness shop of M. R. Weirs, 1524 Vinton street, was entered and fifteen buggy whips were taken. Officer Indra discovered that the burglars had entered through a rear window, which had been broken out. A room in the Royal lodging house at Sixteenth and Chicago streets occupied by Ben Holt and Dan Carter was entered while the men slept and Carter was robbed of $15 and Holt of a watch.

At the barber shop of William Kirkine, 623 Pacific street, burglars took several razors, clippers and other barber supplies. Tom Casey reported that he went to sleep, he didn't remember where, and was robbed of $7.

DYING ALL THE TIME.

Assessment Life Insurance Association Going into Receivers' Hands. The Chicago Tribune of November 13, says:

"Receiverships are numerous for assessment life insurance companies. The Railway Passenger and Freight Conductors, Mutual Aid and Benefit association was placed in the hands of Philip J. Maguire as receiver yesterday by Judge Haney, and this morning a receiver will be appointed for the Marquette Mutual Life association.

"Special interest attaches to the latter because of the prominence of the men connected with it. William Penn Nixon was its president, Eghart Bunker was vice president and the late A. F. Seeberger was treasurer. While started as an assessment company, the intention was to develop it into a legal reserve company, but in the attempt to do this without the promoters setting up the $100,000 required by law, the concern became involved in complications which have plunged Mr. Nixon and his associates into litigation. The association had reinsured the Western Reserve Life association, and had done some business for itself, at the legal reserve rate, and the insurance department required that this insurance should be taken care of. At a conference held yesterday it was announced that nothing would be done by the association, and so a receiver will be appointed today."

A recent issue of the New York Sun notes that "There are more than 5,000,000 members of benevolent fraternal organizations in the United States, but the sums applicable to payments to members in sickness or to their beneficiaries after death are less in amount than was the case twenty years ago. Life insurance companies, on the other hand, are steadily increasing the number of the insured and steadily reducing the premiums charged for insurance and they have a constantly growing surplus. The accumulations of which are a positive protection against those financial disasters which occasionally overtake even carefully managed benevolent orders.

"The chief obstacle which bars the success of the benevolent orders is the fact that when they are started the original members are young men, 'good risks' in insurance parlance, and during the first years of the organization, the members are all or nearly all young men. Through prompt payment of premiums the reserve fund then rapidly increases. After ten or fifteen years, however, it is almost invariably found that the drafts on the surplus begin to exceed the premiums collected. Deaths outnumber the admissions to membership, and as the surplus is depleted, there is less inducement for new members to join. As a consequence either the organization languishes or by speculative investment its permanence is imperiled."

CHANGES IN THE SCHOOLS

New Arrangements in Rooms and Grades to Be Made by the Board.

An important meeting of the teachers' committee of the Board of Education will be held Monday afternoon for the purpose of rearranging the rooms and grades in some of the buildings. It is proposed to close one of the rooms at the Columbian school and to open one at the Saunders school. At present a number of pupils who really live in the Saunders school ward are attending the Columbian school. It is believed that if they are returned to their own building there will be a large enough number to warrant the opening of another room, while one at the other school may be closed. The transfer of these pupils has caused the grades in both schools to be greatly disarranged, and satisfactory results, it is said, are not being secured under existing conditions. As soon as they are sent back the grades in both buildings will be rearranged.

Announcements of the Theaters.

Klaw & Erlanger's big beauty show "The Liberty Bells" numbering 100 will be seen tomorrow and Sunday nights. No matinee will be given because of the company's inability to reach Omaha in time from Denver. The comedy is in three acts. The first act is shown in the dormitory of young ladies' seminary, the second in the room of a cooking school and the third on the lawn of a fashionable hotel in Florida. Harry Gilfoil heads the company, which includes Violet Dale, Catherine Carr, the McCoy sisters, Maude Napier and others.

The Orpheum will give a matinee today and the women and children will be afforded an opportunity to see the famous jockey club girls, who headed by the Countess von Hatzfeldt, have the honor of breaking the record for the season. Next week opening with a matinee tomorrow promises some very good things. The leading features will be Miss Lillian Burkhardt, who with her company present her new comedietta, entitled, "The Salt Cellar." Another prominent number and a sensation and novelty is Riccoboni, "Good Night Horse."

Hot bargains all day Saturday at Hayden Bros. Read about them on Page 7.

DAMAGE TO CONDUIT LINES

Wet Weather Causes Trenches to Cave in Before Work is Completed.

The rain and snow of the last few days have proved a serious drawback to the work upon the underground conduits of the Thomson-Houston company, which it has been expected would be finished some time in the coming week. In a number of places the street excavations and embankments have been caused to fall in by the wet weather and the conduits have been filled with mud and water. One place where particular damage has been done is the alley between Harney and Farnam streets. It is estimated by the general superintendent in charge of the work that the damage in the last three days has reached $500, or perhaps $600. Naturally this destruction will delay the completion of the work.

Ping Pong Gallery Changes Hands.

The Bee building ping pong gallery has been transferred to new proprietors. The young men who established it and made a success of it have found that it takes more time and personal attention to run an amusement gallery than anticipated. They have sold their interests to Dr. Grantner and Mr. Hyatt, former tennis players. The latter will devote all their time and energy to pushing the game this winter, and promising good bunch of tournaments and ping pong parties. With the arrival of cold weather, the popularity of the game and of the only gallery in town is expected to greatly increase.

UNION PACIFIC CHIEF QUILTS

Having Been Discharged, He Says Company Has Been Whipped.

COMPANY ACCUSES HIM OF BEING FALSE

Strike Leaders, However, Deny that Captain of Shop Guards Has Been in Collision with Them at Any Time.

"The company is whipped. I don't know why it does not give in. The conditions at its shops are something awful," said W. H. Esterline, who has been chief of the Union Pacific's private guards at the shops since the strike began last June. Mr. Esterline's services have been dispensed with and he has packed his effects preparatory to leaving for his home in St. Louis. Mr. Esterline does not deny that his resignation was enforced.

"The company has suspected my loyalty for some time; the officials have accused me of being in collusion with you fellows," Esterline is said to have remarked to William Richelien and other strikers as he left the shops. "But," he continued, "that accusation is false, just as false as it can be. I have tried to do my duty and have been loyal to the interests of the Union Pacific."

William Richelien has charge of the strikers' pickets and has been one of the most active promoters of the strike all along. He has incurred the special disfavor of the company by his constant vigilance. Mr. Richelien says, with other strike leaders, that if Esterline has been false to the trusts imposed in him by the Union Pacific it never became known to the strikers. They have found in him a strong champion of his employers' interests.

Eleven more men were added to the shop's force here yesterday, while fifteen more went out. The force now at the shops is said to number a little over 200. Reports from Cheyenne say twenty more men have given up the ghost there and walked out.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S QUEUE.

It Hid a Luxurious Suit of Straight and Very Dark Hair.

The father of his country concealed a luxurious suit of hair beneath his queue wig. Many now wish the old fashion was in vogue, to conceal thin hair or baldness. Yet no one need have thin hair or be bald, if he cure the dandruff that causes both. Dandruff cannot be cured by scouring the scalp, because it is a germ disease, and the germ has to be killed. Newbro's Horplidie kills the dandruff germ--no other hair preparation will. "Destroy the cause you remove the effect." There's no cure for dandruff but to kill the germ. Sold by all druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps for sample to The Herplidie Co., Detroit, Mich.
