

NIEGENFIND HEADS LIST

To Be First Man Executed in Nebraska Penitentiary Under New Law.

FIGGS SAY JUDGMENT IS ALL WRONG

sen's Deputy.

(From a Staff Correspondent)
LINCOLN, Nov. 14.—(Special)—Gottlieb Niegenfind, the Pierce county murderer, recently convicted of the killing of his wife, bids fair to be the first man to be executed under the law enacted by the last session of the legislature, requiring that all executions in the state shall take place at the penitentiary. He was lodged in the state's prison several days ago under commitment to remain until his execution, which is set for March 13, next. The honor of being the first murderer to meet death under the new law is accorded to Niegenfind by reason of the fact that Governor Savage postponed the execution of William Rhees from the 25th of last April unto the first Friday in July, next. Thus, it is that Niegenfind will get about four months the start of his fellow criminal, and that Governor-Elect Mickey will have the friends of two condemned men bombarding his susceptibility soon after he is induced into office. The commanding papers of Gottlieb Niegenfind disclose that he was born in Nebraska, 38 years old, a farmer by occupation, and a Lutheran in religious affiliation. They also show that he is temperate in his habits and has not been addicted to the use of tobacco.

Babcock Selected.

H. A. Babcock, at present deputy for the insurance department of the auditor's office, has been selected by State Treasurer-Elect Mortensen as his deputy. The position pays the same—$1,500 a year—as the one he now holds, but is less confining and less exacting. Mr. Babcock was a former business partner of Mortensen and was elected to the Valley county board. The latter was county treasurer. Mr. Babcock says the position unsolicited. Mr. Babcock was state auditor four years, and was insurance deputy under Auditor Benten, Moore and Weston.

Think It Is Wrong.

A brief in behalf of Sarah and Louis Figgs was filed in supreme court today, in support of their appeal from the judgment of a Sarpy county jury, which gave Albert Donahoe $7,500 damages because the Figgs alienated his wife's affections. The suit arose out of the spread of the Figgs cult, a few years ago. Mrs. Donahoe was one of the women who was attracted to the doctrine preached by the Figgs and left her home and followed them. He took her out of the Figgs home and locked her up several times, but she maintained that it was a sin for her to live in the married state with a man who did not belong to her religious faith. In this Donahoe declares she was supported by the Figgs. The latter assert that the verdict was the result of a passion and prejudice fanned by religious prejudice and the unprincipled and untruthful accounts of their actions in the public press.

Hard Game Tomorrow.

Nebraska will have the hardest game of the season tomorrow, when it lines up against the husky crowd from Knox college, Galesburg. The Knox eleven, with a dozen substitutes and a small band of rooters arrived today. Coach McLean says his men are all in good trim, but expressed doubts whether they would win. Only a little money has been wagered on the result, the Knox crowd wanting odds of 2 to 1. They want the better of it too on a wager that Knox will score. Nebraska's goal line has not been crossed this season and a touchdown would cause almost as much heartburn as a defeat.

McLean insists that Knox is a lighter team than Nebraska, and insists that the stories that have gone out that the four-year rule is not enforced in his college are untrue. All of his men are bona fide students, he says. Knox has won all of its games save one this year. It beat Kansas 6 to 0, whereas Nebraska whipped the Jayhawkers when the latter had improved and while Nebraska was in poor condition, 16 to 0.

There will be two colored boys in the game tomorrow, Johnson, left end for Nebraska, and Hopkins, left halfback for Knox, and the men both are expert dodgers and groundsmen. Hopkins having a big reputation as an end-runner and trick player. Shedd, Nebraska's star end, is out of it for the rest of the season, and Johnson takes his place. Mason was tried last game, but was not equal to it. The team practice the last week has been very satisfactory. The scrubs could do nothing with the 'varsity and the members of the latter are back in the fine condition they were when they beat the Indians.

Manager Wyer of the university athletic board filed a protest tonight against the playing by Knox in tomorrow's foot ball game of Martin, right guard, and Hopkins, right half, on the ground that the former is playing for a salary and that the latter has been playing for five years, contrary to the conference regulations as to the length of service of a man upon a college team. Manager Elliott of Knox said he would pay no attention to the protest and would play his men anyway. He denies that Martin receives a salary, although the Nebraska management have a letter from him, in which he refused to come here without a regular stipend. He admits that Hopkins has played five years on the team.

but says that one year he was attending an academy. He says that neither Knox nor Nebraska are governed by the conference regulations anyhow, and that Nebraska simply voluntarily adopted them. Neither Chicago nor Northwestern, against whom Knox has played, objected, and he thinks Nebraska ought not to. Both are star players and without them, Knox would be out of it.

Say They Give It Up.

N. W. Bush, assistant superintendent at Kansas City of the Pinkerton agency, who has had charge of the pursuit of the robbers who held up a Burlington train here on October 9, was in the city today to notify the local officers that every clue had been run down and that there was nothing left but to abandon the chase. The impression is growing that local talent did the trick, and it will simply be a waiting game on the part of the officers.

Guardsmen Must Be Prompt.

Adjutant General Colby is determined, evidently that officers in command of companies in the National guard shall be punctual in making the reports required by the department and in pursuit of that determination has issued an order for their guidance.

The resignation of Captain William La Holland of the South Omaha cavalry troop has been accepted, conditionally upon his making satisfactory invoices of the effects of the department within his charge, and the commander of the troop is directed to assemble his command at the first regular meeting after the receipt of this order and proceed according to law to elect a new captain.

Certificates of Election Expenses.

Certificates of election expenses have been filed by Secretary of State George W. Marsh, showing that he expended $5,50, while J. Phipps Roe of Omaha, socialist candidate for the same office, paid for what he got—nothing. The certificate of A. C. Schallenger, candidate for congress in the Fifth district, shows that he spent $420, of which the democratic committee received $300 and the populist committee but $120. M. P. Kirkaldy, republican candidate for congress in the big Sixth district, spent $285; W. L. Stark put up in his race for congress $265.23 to the democratic committee and $225.75 to the populist committee in his district; Charles Q. DeFrance, fusion candidate for auditor, claims to have spent $86.25.

The State Board of Educational Lands and Funds will go to Stanton tomorrow to look after some school lands in that section.

HISTORIC MONTICELLO, the home of Thomas Jefferson, and its surroundings, is the subject of a special article by Hon. R. W. Richardson, who spent several weeks in the vicinity of Monticello and the University of Virginia during the summer. Mr. Richardson tells very entertainingly of the home of the great author of the Declaration of Independence and its present environments. Illustrations are from photographs taken during the summer for this article, and the combination is certain to prove of interest to all.

REVIVING RAILROAD PROJECT

Nebraska & Gulf Secures Roadbed of the Yankton & Norfolk Line.

SUTTON, Neb., Nov. 14.—(Special)—The general manager of the Nebraska & Gulf railroad, H. L. Miller, has recently purchased for his company seventy-five miles of completed roadbed, extending from a point just south of Yankton, S. D., to Norfolk, Neb., built by the Yankton, Norfolk & Southwestern railroad. This purchase will be a part of the through line to the gulf. Contracts have been entered into by responsible parties to complete the line from Yankton to Concordia, Kan., by January 1, 1894. The contract stipulates that it shall be in complete running order, to include rails and ties ready for business. A reorganization has been effected, which consolidates the two roads into one, to be known as the Yankton, Norfolk & Southern railway. The officers of the new organization are H. Leone Miller, president and general manager; W. W. Graham, vice president; W. E. Hackendorf, general solicitor.

YOUNG GIRL ACCUSES FATHER

Man Slips Out Upon Learning that a Warrant Has Been Issued.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Nov. 14.—(Special Telegram)—The 16-year-old daughter of William Lempp went before Justice D. P. West of Syracuse last evening and swore a complaint against her father, charging him with criminal assault. The father as soon as he learned that a complaint had been filed, mounted one of the farm horses and fled. He was traced to Berlin, from which village he started east. The authorities at all the river towns have been notified and a close watch is being kept for him, and he cannot escape. The girl says that for four months the father has forced her to submit to him and she was forced to apply to the law to save herself. The people of Syracuse are greatly worked up over the matter and if Lempp is brought back they threaten to lynch him.

Modern Woodmen Sued.

YORK, Neb., Nov. 14.—(Special)—Theophilus Kerwood has brought suit against the Modern Woodmen and A. G. Pruitt of this city, for services rendered in nursing a member of the Modern Woodmen of America. At the same time Sterling L. Parker also brought suit against the Woodmen and Ames Johnson, claiming $10 due for services as nurse for caring for a member of the Modern Woodmen. It is said that the members nursed belonged to other camps, who will remit, but have not yet done so. The parties who are sued jointly with the Modern Woodmen are of the committees appointed to look after the sick, who are members of the Woodmen.

Chances of a Non-College Man for Success in Life as Compared with Those of a Man with College Training.

SEWARD, Neb., Nov. 14.—(Special Telegram)—Mrs. Eva Neely Moody was arrested last night for bigamy. The complaint was sworn out by Daniel North of Fillmore county, who claims that on September 8, 1900, he married Mrs. Moody, she then claiming her name to be Meriah Wilson. In May last she came to Seward and run across Thomas Moody and three or four days later they were married and have lived here since. Daniel North is a man about 70 years of age and his wife is about 30. The complainant was filed in justice court and Mrs. Moody was bound over to appear in district court, which is now in session.

Business Change at Wymore.

WYMORE, Neb., Nov. 14.—(Special)—The Rust-Owen Lumber company, which has done business in this city for many years, has been purchased by local men who have incorporated under the name of the Wymore Lumber company. The incorporators are: J. G. Hilder, F. H. Bartlett and E. N. Kaufman.

Snow at Papillion.

PAPIILLION, Neb., Nov. 14.—(Special)—The first snow of the season is falling here today. It started with rain and the weather turning colder turned into snow. It is still snowing and looks as if it would keep it up all day.

Nov. 14.—(Special)—Yesterday was a day of accidents for the Union Pacific in this vicinity and through all of them there ran the good luck that no lives were lost.

Archie Campbell, while shutting off the air and making a coupling on freight No.

27 at Wood River yesterday morning, had his foot caught under the wheel, and in falling struck his head on a tie. He was unconscious until last night. The car stopped with the wheel on his foot. It is believed the foot can be saved.

J. J. Broso, a fireman for another eastbound freight, almost at the identical place at Wood River, fell from the engine while lighting the headlight and suffered concussion of the brain. He was brought to this city and during the night recovered consciousness. No serious results are expected. The engine was taking water at the time and was not moving.

Engineer Fonda and Fireman Bailey of the caboose were jumping in time to save them selves from injury as the engine left the track on a split switch. The engine lies on its side, the flywheel of one side being completely buried in the ground. The baggage car and mail car left the track,

but were not damaged.

An old man named Boyer, picking up coal in the Union Pacific yards this morning at 5 o'clock, was struck by an engine and run over. An employee in the yards saw the accident and gave the alarm to the engineer. The locomotive was moving slowly and was at once brought to a stop. The engineers stepped off to look for the presumably dead man, under the monster machine, but he had crawled out from under, on the opposite side. Aside from a few severe and profuse bleeding scratches, he had remained uninjured, though the engine for its entire length, had run over him.

J. W. Morris of the yard gang, had his hand crushed while making a coupling on

No. 8 last evening. Three big holes were crushed in the member.

Fairbury Defeats Beatrice.

BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 14.—(Special Telegram)—A very interesting game of foot ball was played here today between the Beatrice and Fairbury teams, the latter winning by a score of 30 to 6. About 100 rooters from Fairbury, accompanied the visiting team, returning home this evening

on a special train.

Methodists to Build Parsonage.

YORK, Neb., Nov. 14.—(Special)—The

Methodists of York have one of the largest and finest stone churches in the state and this week they have let the contract for a fine new parsonage, to be built on the lot adjoining the church. The building is to be a modern ten-room residence.

York Has Snow.

YORK, Neb., Nov. 14.—(Special)—The

first snow of the season came last night, covering the ground to a depth of about one inch. Before the snow quite a heavy rain fell. This morning was bright and pleasant, and before noon the snow had disappeared.

INDIANS PRESENT BIG CLAIM

Want Government to Pay for All Wealth Taken from the Black Hills.

HOT SPRINGS, S. D., Nov. 14.—(Special)—Congressman Martin held a conference here today with twenty-three Sioux chiefs of the Oglalla tribe. They have been led to believe that the government has not lived up to its treaty agreement wherein they ceded the Black Hills region in 1876. They contend that not three-fourths of the Indians signed the treaty in the first place, as it was represented would be done, and that they never intended to cede the land lying between the "pink hills," as they refer to the edge of the Hills proper, and the Cheyenne river, but that the government has appropriated the land, as well as the Black Hills, and now they want pay for it all. They desire that Congressman Martin present their claims at Washington and see if they cannot secure payment for all the wealth that has been taken from the Hills. At the conference here Edgar Fire Thunder, a well educated and bright Indian, acted as interpreter. The various chiefs sat in a circle, with Congressman Martin at the head of the circle at the side of the interpreter. Each chief spoke and the interpreter repeated what he said, sentence by sentence, as they proceeded, while Stenographer Shepherd took it down in shorthand. They all seemed to have the utmost confidence in Congressman Martin and several times inquired of Mr. Martin to know if those
