

GOSSIP FROM THE GRIDIRON

Practices Play of Interest, but Without Bearing on Result.

TIME FOR SHOW DOWN IS AT HAND

Secret Work of Coaches and Captains to Be Exhibited on Field in Real Championship Struggles Soon.

The play during the last week, prior to Saturday, has been more or less in the nature of practice, and in only one case, that of Stanford and the University of California, has it in any way effected the result of the championship contests, east and west. The games were all between teams of the first rate and others, which had already been declared inferior. Of the eastern teams which are championship possibilities, Yale outclassed Bucknell, Harvard defeated Pennsylvania in a game, the feature of which was the unexpected feature of a stand made by the Quakers, and Princeton did not play, having called off its game.

In the western championship play, Michigan, as was to be expected, swarmed over the Iowa line in Chicago, even with a team largely substitute, found no difficulty with the weak Indiana lineup. Further west, Nebraska, a free lance, defeated Kansas, as the dopemakers had foreseen, but with much less ease than had been expected. The Pacific coast championship is a narrow contest, the Stanford and California universities being practically the only ones concerned. For just this reason it is fought and followed with particularly rivalry and enthusiasm.

Speaking of championships, there is another—that of the Michigan peninsula—which was left undecided on the 8th by the tie game at Escanaba between the Ishpeming and Escanaba teams. This contest is of no particular importance, but it brings out the interesting fact that Ishpeming is, probably, the most enthusiastic foot ball town in the United States. Considering the size of the little city, the fifteen leagues playing from that port would not make too much of a crowd. It is said that there are not enough vacant lots in the town to accommodate the teams, which have to line up in the streets. The heaviest eleven is heavy, if report may be believed, for the average weight is over 200 pounds. Before the game of Saturday, the good citizens of the town were said to have $25,000 to offer on the result.

The time has about come for a showdown in the championships for this season. Until now it has been a game of every game, the winning team was saving itself, or keeping its trick plays for more important contests, or saving some good man in the plays and using substitutes, or doing some one or another of the things which cover form. The coaches, as is their habit, have been drawing lot faces and affecting a minor tone in their talk of the teams. But now, with the Yale-Princeton and Chicago-Michigan games Saturday and the Yale-Harvard contest the following week, we have the real thing. The preparation is done; the event is here.

The dopemakers are hard at work. All agree that the fight in the east will be a close one and many think that Yale looks good. Some of the very wise look for a victory to Princeton. It seems an established fact that Yale of this year is better at this time of the season than Yale of last year, and also that this year's Harvard aggression is not equal to the Crimson of last season. Harvard will be much weakened by the loss of its 342-pound center, E. O. King, who was not allowed to play in the Pennsylvania game by the athletic committee and most probably will not be in the Yale game. King has been protested by Yale and Pennsylvania, it being claimed that he has played four years already in the University of Indiana, which would make him ineligible under the rules. Princeton seems to be more of an uncertainty. Had it played West Point there would be a chance of comparison. The Tigers have so far had a distinct advantage over their opponents in kicking, but Bowman of Yale is thought to be the equal of Dewitt. If Princeton's defense holds against Yale, which it probably will do, judging by past performances, the game will become a kicking contest, in which Yale will be the better prepared to make on fumbles and blocked punts. The thing that will cast the fate of the teams in the coming games will not be what they now have up their sleeves, but how much they can improve before the time of trial. In the Yale-Bucknell game the former team made several fumbles, which in the 36 to 5 game were of no consequence, but in a close, fierce fight might mean defeat. Still, Harvard and Princeton have shown no noticeable superiority in this matter and all three could learn much from the West Point cadets. Both the Crimson and Blue lines have shown slowness in getting forward after the ball was snapped.

George Woodruff, Pennsylvania's referee in the Chicago-Indiana game: "I do not

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Few People Know How Useful It is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better it is for you. It is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system. Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking and drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectively cleans and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels, it purifies the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered willow charcoal and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, or, rather, in the form of large, pleasant-tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

think Chicago is as good as she was two weeks ago. The Maroons certainly did not show the speed yesterday that they showed against Illinois. I hate to think of what Michigan will do to them. Still, they were good in places—fine, in fact. They will gain against Michigan though, I am positive of that."

Unless reports are of a bear nature, which they are not, probably are in part, Chicago is not quite good and it now seems that Michigan fought its hardest game of the series in the contests with Wisconsin. Inspired reports say that L. Maxwell, the clever and speedy quarterback, is out of the game for good, but Coach Foster of Michigan takes the liberty of expecting to find him behind the line Saturday. It is certain that the Maroons will be terribly handicapped by his absence, if he is absent. In the practice it was found that with a sub-quarter the team lost most of the speed on which it depended so much. If Chicago can work up as strong a defense as had Wisconsin, displayed in the Michigan game, it has a good fighting chance to win. In the second half of that contest Michigan made on runs an average of not more than two and one-half yards. This is a narrow margin and difficult to maintain. In the first down of the second half, when Michigan had the ball, it made twenty yards, but gained itself at a third down with three to four and chose to kick. This incident of play was repeated frequently.

The game between California and Stanford was won by the former, 16 to 6, by one man efforts and not on the general superiority of the triumphant team. Overall, the California right guard, made two field goals and Sherman played well. This is a narrow margin and difficult to maintain. In the first down of the second half, when Michigan had the ball, it made twenty yards, but gained itself at a third down with three to four and chose to kick. This incident of play was repeated frequently.

Michigan leads all the teams in rolling up scores against all comers. Perhaps it has not met as good eleven as Yale, Harvard, Princeton and Stanford have played, but even allowing something for this difference, the western school compares notably with others. Michigan has scored a total of 532 upon opponents and has not yet been scored on by them. Cornell has scored 265, but has also lost 36. Yale has been scored on by its opponents, 199; opponents, 46. Lafayette, 189; opponents, 22. Columbia, 178; opponents, 66. Carlsale Indians, 170; opponents, 45. Harvard, 168; opponents, 12. Princeton, 150; opponents, 5. Pennsylvania, 145; opponents, 2. Bucknell, 127; opponents, 71. Syracuse, 119; opponents, 41. West Point, 112; opponents, 20. Amherst, 105; opponents, 25. Brown, 98; opponents, 40. Georgetown, 71; opponents, 63. Annapolis, 47; opponents, 51. Williams, 39; opponents, 136.

The Yale lineup for the first championship game will be, most probably, and perhaps with no change through the season—barring accidents, of course—as follows: Left end, Rafferty; left tackle, Kinney; left guard, Glass; center, Holt; right guard, Goss; right tackle, Hogan; right end, Shevin; quarterback, McCall; left halfback, Captain Chadwick; right halfback, Ward; fullback, Bowman.

The team is to all intents a green one, Captain Chadwick being the only player who was on the team two years ago, except Holt, who was then a substitute. Only five of the players—Holt, Hogan, Goss, Glass and Chadwick—were on the varsity last year; but one of these, Glass, did not play in the Harvard and Princeton games. Shevin, Kinney and Bowman are freshmen, these being the greatest number of freshmen played on the team at one time for years.

The foot ball expert of the New York Sun has this to say in regard to the importance of the tackle positions: "The value of two strong tackles has been shown by the success of the Brown eleven this year. The team's strongest point is at tackle, Webb and Sheehan being good enough for anybody. The team is likewise very staunch at center and few opponents have been able to outplay these three men. Indeed, the Brown men say nobody has been able to outplay them. Strong tackles break up the ends as well as the guards and can lend assistance on either side when required. With Brown not much assistance is required at the ends, as those places are pretty well taken care of. Nevertheless, the steadiness of the tackles and the inability of opponents to disturb them has had a steady effect on the whole line. It is a particularly well balanced line, with the strength radiating from the tackle and center."

These are the games, with results, so far played in the State Intercollegiate Foot Ball league this season. There remains the Bellevue-Hastings, Bellevue-Grand Island, Doane-Grand Island games and one or two with the Lincoln Media. The schedule. The Lincoln Media have played their game with each of the other teams, losing to Doane and Bellevue and taking the game with Hastings, a team supposedly stronger than the winner. In this game, however, Grand Island objected to the rulings of the referee and to the playing of Kingsbury, ex-university player and present coach of the Media. Grand Island considered the latter ineligible and will probably protest the game. Hastings has lost three games and will undoubtedly fall in the contest with Bellevue. Grand Island has yet to play Doane and Bellevue, both of whom have beaten the Lincoln aggregation. On the other hand, the men from the Platte took 40 from Hastings to the 28 of Doane, this being done, however, earlier in the season. It is probable that Grand Island has been preparing especially for the game with Doane and will make a more stubborn fight than the score of the 8th would seem to indicate. The contest now lies between Bellevue and Grand Island for second place.

The following letters continue the question as to the score of the 1901 game between Doane and Grand Island:

CRETE, Nov. 12.—Editor, Gossip from the Gridiron: I enclose you another interesting letter from the football game between Doane and Grand Island. I am sure that you will find it of interest. I am sure that you will find it of interest. I am sure that you will find it of interest.

BEARS EVADE PRESIDENT

Run All About Him, But Trot Away from Rifle Barrel.

HARD DAY'S WORK PRODUCES NO RESULT.

Judge Dickinson is Alone Successful and He Seeks Trout Instead of Bear Meat to Furnish Camp with Food.

SMEDES, Miss., Nov. 15.—No fresh skin had been at the camp on the little Sandover up to 4:30. At that hour the president, Mr. McIlhenny and Holt Collier were still in pursuit of a bear started early in the morning, but the remainder of the party had abandoned the chase and twenty of the twenty-eight dogs had straggled back to camp, completely worn out.

The president had hard luck today. Twice he narrowly missed a chance for a shot. The pack split almost immediately after leaving this morning. Holt Collier, with half the hounds, followed the trail of one bear down the river and nothing had been heard of him at 4 o'clock. The other bear went in the opposite direction, and gave the president, the other members of the party and the other half of the pack, a merry chase. He was a big fellow and kept well ahead of the dogs. He was out for several times and threshed up and down the brush over an area of about four square miles.

Arrive Too Late.

Once Mr. Foote, who was with the president, heard the dogs quivering through the woods a heavy shot was fired. The president and the president managed to cut off the pack. They waited and Mr. Foote felt certain that the president was at last to have a shot, but they were too late, in about five minutes the dogs swept by the president, within thirty yards of them, but brain had already passed.

Two hours later the president had another unfortunate experience. The dogs were by this time playing out rapidly, but five of them hung on and finally brought the bear to bay in a dense thicket. The president and Mr. Foote heard the fight and got within 100 yards on their horses. There, they dismounted and went in, but the bear evidently heard them and, fanning off the dogs, turned and fled before the president got sight of him.

The only member of the party who bagged anything was Judge Dickinson. He caught a string of trout in the Sandover after lunch.

Tomorrow there will be no hunt. The dogs will be rested and the pursuit of brail will be resumed on Monday.

LUCANIA GOES ASHORE IN FOG

Iowa Prisoner Wanted for Embezzlement at Burlington Among Its Passengers.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Lucania went aground in Gedyne channel in a dense fog today while trying to get into port and was held fast until the tide allowed it to get off under its own steam. There were 323 cabin and 425 steerage passengers aboard among them being St. Leo Strachey, editor and proprietor of the London Spectator and his wife. They were met by Douglas Robinson, the brother-in-law of the president.

A detective brought on Lucania as a prisoner W. J. Bishop, 27 years old, wanted in Burlington, Ia., to answer to a charge of embezzlement. He was a bookkeeper and cashier for a wholesale harness maker.

CAPTAIN WILLIAMS FOUND

Tax Filer Expected to Tell All He Knows Concerning Chicago Corruption.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Captain Edward Williams has been located and is expected to arrive in Chicago in a short time and tell all he knows concerning the corruption in the taxing bodies and the "fixers" who made unlawful entries on the tax records. The fugitive is said to be hiding in the mountains of Kentucky or Tennessee. A detective left for Memphis today in the hope of returning with the captain tomorrow night or Monday morning.

PRINCE IS NOT ENGAGED

Siamese Heir Says He Will Not Wed the Daughter of Japanese Emperor.

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., Nov. 15.—The crown prince of Siam today said he knew nothing of his reported engagement to the daughter of the emperor of Japan.

Sunday Newspaper's Real Use.

One copy of a Sunday paper will furnish more warmth than an overcoat, reports the Washington Post. Several sheets of paper, pinned to the inside of a man's or boy's vest, before putting it on, and another part of several thicknesses worn under the vest when going out into the cold will take the place of an overcoat to the poor man who has none, and will furnish as much warmth.

Many poor families have not bed clothing enough in winter to protect them from cold during extremely cold nights. Such families can make themselves perfectly comfortable by spreading three or four newspapers between the sheet and the bed clothing. They will be agreeably surprised to find that the papers are equal to the heaviest blanket in excluding the cold. If people generally understood the merits of this simple remedy, and practiced it, there would be less sickness and fewer cases of consumption.

Municipal Aid.

Cincinnati Tribune: "Well," remarked Miss Innocence, "the government may not believe in women taking the initiative in matters of love, but this city certainly does."

"I don't see how," replied Miss Antile, "with more interest than might have been expected."

"It's plain as print. The city clerk is advertising in the newspapers for 'sealed proposals,'" replied Miss Innocence.

His Hobby.

"But," said the bright and good looking young woman, "haven't you any pursuit that you follow for the simple love of it in the hours when you are not at your office?"

The great and powerful organizer of trusts stood for a moment, stashed by the simple candor of a young girl. The words of inspiration swept over his countenance and he answered:

"Oh, yes. I'm a coin collector."

Chicago Tribune: He—Your sex is not to be trusted with the ballot, madam. Have you read about the woman out in Denver who was arrested for voting two or three times in one election?

HARVARD IS NEAR DEFEAT

Snatches Victory in Last Few Minutes of Game Amid Deepening Gloom.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 15.—Harvard defeated Dartmouth by 16 to 6 this afternoon in a game which, from a Harvard standpoint, was discouraging. Up to the last few minutes the winners were also lastly outplayed in every way, being weak on the defense and without concerted offense. The last part of the game was played in a deep gloom, through which the spectators could hardly distinguish the players, but Harvard woke up and made two touchdowns, Dartmouth's men being too badly used up to make resistance.

Harvard, for Harvard, missed two goals, one from in front of the goal posts. Harvard's quarterback, being at Princeton and Andy, the left guard, being excused from playing after his old college championship. At the opening Harvard had the ball on Dartmouth's three-yard line, only to lose it by Graydon's fumble. From there Dartmouth by plunges carried the leather sixty-seven yards to the end zone. Harvard got its first touchdown by bucking the line. Dartmouth got its in the opening of the second half by a run into the line. Harvard's other touchdowns were made by rushing.

For many minutes defeat stalked Harvard in the face. The lineup:

Harvard	Dartmouth
Fullback	Fullback
Quarterback	Quarterback
Halfback	Halfback
Right halfback	Right halfback
Center	Center

Races at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 15.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the new Memphis track, the program of the spring meeting at Montgomery park so that nothing like the success would be offered for horsemen racing here. It was also decided to increase the amount of money to be offered for the important stake events if favorable dates are allotted. The Memphis track is now under the management of the Memphis track club at its December meeting. Steeplechasing and cross-country racing will be features of future meetings.

Cup Defender Is Discouraged.

BRISTOL, R. I., Nov. 15.—C. Oliver Iselin, managing owner of the proposed new ship for the defense of the America's cup, visited the boat shops today and held a consultation with the designers. He was discouraged as yet whether bronze or nickel steel would be used for plating, but the matter was now being decided by the committee. The sail area of the new boat he said it would probably be about the same as that of Constitution or something over 14,000 square feet.

Try to End Ball War.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Representatives of the American association and the Western league will meet here tomorrow to try to effect a settlement of the ball war. The proposition for peace will be submitted to a board of arbitration composed of members of the National Base Ball association, which is expected, will be able to adjust the controversy.

Letter for Lawyer.

A letter for Eddie Lawler, the ball player, awaits him at The Bee office.

SLEEPING VOLCANOES

Those who live near a volcano know that beneath the calm exterior of the sleeping giant is a raging sea of fire, molten rock and sulphurous gases, but the thin vapory smoke lazily ascending from its crater is perhaps the only external sign of the commotion and tumult within. Living in this atmosphere of danger they soon become insensible to fear and are only aroused to a sense of their peril by the rumblings and quakings which foretell the coming eruption and downpour of heated rock and ashes, scalding mud, blinding, suffocating smoke and sulphurous gases.

They were living in fancied security when the sleeping volcano awoke, and they were lost. Thousands of Blood Poison sufferers are living upon a sleeping volcano, and are taking desperate chances. Under the Mercury and Potash treatment, the external evidences of the disease disappear and the deluded victim believes the cure complete. But the fires of contagion and the deadly virus have only been smothered in the system. The little sore that now and then makes its appearance in the mouth, the slight rheumatic pains in muscles and joints and the red rash that occasionally breaks out upon the body, are warning symptoms, which often go unheeded. Then the rumblings grow louder, the smouldering poison bursts out and the body is soon covered with sores and copper colored spots and pimples, and all the old symptoms return—sore mouth and tongue, ulcerated throat, swollen glands, and many others that the sufferer believed had been uprooted and destroyed by the Mercury and Potash treatment. Not only do these minerals fail to cure the disease, but work the greatest injury to the system. Mercurial Rheumatism, Necrosis or death of the bones, deep and offensive Ulcers, Salivation, Inflammation of the Bowels and Stomach are some of the horrible effects of Mercury and Potash.

The use of S. S. S. in Contagious Blood Poison cases is never followed by such results. We offer One Thousand Dollars for proof that it contains one particle of Mercury, Potash, or other mineral, but is guaranteed a strictly vegetable remedy. It cures even where the worst symptoms have developed, and the patient, to all appearances, was hopelessly incurable. S. S. S. is an antidote for Contagious Blood Poison, and the only radical and permanent cure known. This has been proven by an experience of nearly fifty years, during which thousands have been restored to sound and vigorous health when it seemed nothing could stop the ravages of the disease and save them from a most horrible fate. S. S. S. destroys and eliminates every atom of poison from the system—purifies, strengthens and builds up the blood, and the smouldering fires of this terrible disease are extinguished, and no signs of a return are ever seen.

We have a special book on Contagious Blood Poison, which will be sent free on application. It describes fully all the symptoms and stages of the disease, with complete directions for treating the same. Medical advice or any special information desired is furnished by our physicians without charge.
