DELAYS DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Board of Education Wants No Household Economy This Year.

INTRODUCE IT FIRST OF NEXT SEASON

Directors Learn to Their Narrow that Special Committee's Report Did Not Close John Rowe Incident.

Some sort of definite status has at last been given to the question of the introduction of the study of domestic science into the high school. The Board of Education at its meeting of last night adopted by a unanimous vote of an attendance of eleven a report from the committee on text book and course of study in which the committee found the present to be not an opportune time for the introduction of the study of cooking and household economy, but did recommend its introduction not later than the beginning of the next school year.

Rowe Case Still Alive. The board was awakened to an unpleasant realization that even the report of the special committee did not close the John Rowe incident, by a letter from Wharton & Baird & Sons, a letter from Mr. Rowe. This is a voluminous communication which indicates that in spite of the hours and hours of labor expended by the committee and its expert mechanical engineer—so far nothing of the hours and hours spent by the board in discussion—the terms offered by the board are not satisfactory to Mr. Rowe and there must be still further negotiations.

Considerable discussion was provoked by a report from the committee on teachers and examinations recommending that steps be taken by the board to have the trust officer, Will Parker, appointed as a special policeman and that the board furnish a bond if one is required and the expense, if any, be borne by the board.

ISLANDERS ARE TOO HEAVY

Doane College Defeated on Home Ground in a Fierce Game of Football.

CRETE, Neb., Nov. 17.—(Special Telegram.)—After sixty-eight minutes of playing in the fiercest game of football witnessed in Cretia for many a day, Grand Island marched across Doane's goal line to victory today. Best won the game for Grand Island, its men averaging fifteen pounds heavier than the defenders of the orange and black. Notwithstanding this great disadvantage, Doane put up a fierce fight and more than once endangered its opponents' goal line. The game was devoid of sensational plays, the largest gain of the day being a twenty-yard run by Captain Fisher around Grand Island's left end. Both sides fumbled freely. Punting was necessarily resorted to quite frequently and this was of an unusually poor order, largely on account of the wind.

BASE BALL WAR CONTINUES

National League Again Tries for Peace but Falls Once More in Its Attempt.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—The national board which is endeavoring to bring about a settlement of the differences between the American association and the Western league, was in executive session from 10 until late this afternoon. No headway was made toward peace and the affairs of the two base ball leagues are in practically the same tangled state as at the close of yesterday's session of the board.

HUNDREDS OF KNIGHTS MEET

Large Array of Ak-Sar-Bens Gathers in Annual Session at Den.

REVIEW VICTORIES OF THE PAST YEAR

Big Feast is Enjoyed and Enthusiasm Marked for Another Season of Good Work by the Knights.

Between 500 and 600 knights of the order of Ak-Sar-Ben feasted at their den Monday evening in honor of a campaign well fought and won. The room was decorated with the national flag and the colors of Ak-Sar-Ben. At the rear side of the room was the temporary stage used by the officers of the society and the speakers. The orchestra occupied the regular stage. Upon the floor, which had been reduced in area to the space usually occupied by the work of the society, were tables—twelve of them—at which sat the knights.

There were veterans who had followed the fortune of the noble order since its foundation and bright squares who had but just won their spurs. It was 6:30 when W. S. Jardine gave the signal for the entrance of the guests. The service was excellent—far ahead of all expectations, and from the soup to the cigars every dish came on in time.

It was 7:30 when Thomas A. Fry called the attention of the diners, stating that he desired to have the pledges signed by J. D. Weaver, H. F. Roberson, E. E. Bryson, Julius Rosenzweig and L. E. Lucas. He announced that subscriptions to the amount of $390 had been received before the letters started.

The president then announced the purpose of the meeting, the names of those who retire—J. Penfold, W. S. Jardine and C. M. Wilhelm. He congratulated the knights on the work of the year—the total membership of about 250 when the books were closed. The hustling committee, the city council, the county commissioners, the workers at the den and the chief of police were also thanked.

Treasurer Penfold's Report.

Treasurer Penfold then arose to read his annual report, but was compelled to wait until the applause which greeted the appearance of the personal representative of Samson had subsided. He then read his report, which summarized as follows: Balance on hand November 1901, $5,888.14. Total receipts, $4,824.98. Total disbursements, $4,824.98. Balance on hand, $5,888.14.

Some of the interesting items in the report were: Parade costumes, $1,212; parade bands, $1,149; annual dinner, 1901, $331.31; souvenirs, $1,375; labor, $2,338.54; fireworks band, $2,750; free shows, $720; fence and booth, $3,153.37; electric light for carnival grounds, $1,015.50; labor at carnival, $2,497.39; advertising, $2,631.25. In the receipts the itemized statement showed receipts from carnival, $20,338.85; membership fund, $5,235; parade fund, $4,412.50. The secretary said that Henry Hilde paid for No. 1, H. F. Roberson for No. 2, on applications for membership in the society for 1902.

A letter from C. C. Belden was read urging the members to make the society permanent, and pledged himself to join for life. George P. Cronk wrote, regretting his absence from the city, and pledging his firm for an amount equal to last year's subscription, or as much more as necessary. Mr. Penfold, Mr. Jardine and Mr. Wilhelm were nominated by acclamation for members of the board of governors. The other nominees were W. R. Bennett, D. J. O'Brien, Fred Patenath, J. D. Weaver, Robert Cowell and J. H. McDonald.

Parade Fund Subscriptions.

Subscriptions to the parade fund aggregating $1,662.50 were announced. While awaiting the report of the tellers F. A. Brogan was introduced. Mr. Brogan took as his theme "The Carnival"—a feature of life which antedates history. Briefly touching upon the early, he brought the institution down to the present day, when it comes in the train of commerce, and in the hands of the ministering to the artistic tastes of its patrons.

John L. Webster was next introduced. Mr. Webster received with rounds of applause. He said that he had been asked to tell what Ak-Sar-Ben needs; while so far as he can see Ak-Sar-Ben needs nothing, but itself. It is composed of the best in the city and the state, and he said, money is needed, the liberality of the members is beyond question. Then he told what he believed Omaha needs. One thing is better paved streets, the Auditorium completed and a million dollar hotel. "We need these things to bring people to the city. We have the Ak-Sar-Ben and that will stay with us. It is not sociality we want, for we have it. We want commerce; but no city of its size, probably, has more. We have invited all the people to come to Omaha, and if they do not come we go to them. With our public spirit and enterprise we should give welcome to all."

Frank Dunlop, the official entertainer of the order, followed, reciting humorous selections. He was followed by Carl Ritter, Dr. Ramacciotti, "the timing of 1902" was then called for and responded with a few remarks and a recitation. The president announced that approximately 300 persons had pledged themselves to join the order next year.

A Timely Suggestion.

"Now that winter with its bad weather is with us, I would advise every family to provide themselves against sudden attacks of coughs and colds by keeping at hand a good cough medicine like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which is the best among the many preparations for these ailments that I have on my shelves," says Mr. L. C. Neaville, the well known and popular druggist of Pittsboro, Ind. "I recommend this remedy and guarantee it to be without an equal for coughs and colds, also as a preventive and cure for croup." CLAIMS TO BE A SUICIDE

Lincoln Woman Leaves Note Telling of Her Death.

STORY, HOWEVER, APPEARS TO BE MYTH

Fate of Husband's Alleged Murderer Depends Largely on Her Testimony, and Deed, if Occurred, is Laid to This.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Nov. 7.—In the Missouri river near here a woman's straw hat with the following note has been found: "To whoever finds this: Please take the clothes to Judd's office and they will send it to 445 North Twenty-sixth street, Lincoln, Neb. This is to mark the place where I, Mrs. Al Schrest, and baby have gone to rest in the deep Missouri."

The hat was identified by a restaurant keeper in this city, who says its owner several meals at his place last week. Mrs. Schrest is the widow of Frank Schrest, who was killed by Dr. Zorn at Kansas City three months ago in a dispute over a board bill. On this charge Dr. Zorn was to have been tried today with the woman as chief witness.

On discovery of the note the river was dragged and an attempt made to trace the woman's movements in town. It was reported later from Kansas City that she came here with her sister, Mrs. C. E. Berry of St. Louis, but all attempts to locate either of the women have failed and the general supposition is that the note was faked.

Tells Paper About It.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 11.—Late this afternoon a letter signed "Mrs. Schrest," dated Lincoln, Neb., November 5, but mailed in Kansas City, and addressed to the Kansas City Star, was received by that paper. In it she announced her intention of killing herself and her baby, and requested the prosecuting attorney to press the murder charge against Dr. Louis Zorn, whose trial for killing her husband was set for today. Mrs. Schrest was the principal witness for the state against Zorn and it is believed that if she killed herself she did so to avoid this ordeal.

HEBIG COMPANY'S EXTRACT OF BEEF

HEBIG COMPANY'S EXTRACT OF BEEF. GENUINE SIGNED. Strength for the Strenuous. No Motive for the Deed. LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 17.—John W.

Strelne, father of Mrs. Schrest, first learned the news of her death from a reporter who called at his office this morning.

"She was a girl we could do little with," he said, "and was always getting into trouble. She is about 38. Her first husband was a telegraph operator and one of the best in the United States. She was a spendthrift and managed to use what he earned and more, too."

Mr. Strelne was at a loss for a motive for the deed. He said that the proper thing for her to do was to appear at the trial and give her testimony.

HANKLE IS TOO PERSISTENT

Threatens to Shoot Woman Who Refuses to Elope with Him and is Arrested.

Pete Hankle of South Omaha, an elderly German employed in Armour's sausage department, was arrested yesterday evening charged with carrying concealed weapons and threatening to shoot Hankle, who is a married man, has for two years been paying persistent attentions to Mrs. Benedict of the Martin fair at Seventeenth and Webster streets, much to her annoyance, and has repeatedly asked her to elope with him. Enraged at Mrs. Benedict's coldness, Hankle began to talk of killing her and the man to whom she is engaged to be married. Hankle wrote this man several letters threatening to kill him if he did not discontinue his suit. A week ago he went to the house of Mrs. Benedict and told her that he had come to kill her. She shut the door in his face. A few days later Hankle told Mrs. Benedict's sister, who lives in South Omaha, that he would kill Mrs. Benedict in her house between 7 and 8 o'clock yesterday evening. The sister warned Mrs. Benedict, who informed the police. Detectives Drummy and Mitchell went to the fair and arrested Hankle when he arrived. He had a revolver in his overcoat pocket.
