Increase in Cost of Material for Construction and Also in the Cost of Operating the Lines. CHICAGO, Nov. 20 .- (Special Telegram.)

-A meeting was held today of the general freight agents of all western roads with a view to restoring the rates which were in effect January 1, 1902. Instructions to restore all such rates as could possibly be restored were issued by the executive officials and it is stated that they will be carried out to the letter. Independent of this meeting the Colorado lines met and began the work of restoring conditions to Colorado common points. The plan is to go on the old basis of rates the first of the year, which will necessitate the withdrawal of all the reduced tariffs placed in effect since January

Since the issuing of the injunctions by the United States courts fully 1,200 reduced tariffs have been filed with the Interstate Commerce commission at Washington and are in effect today. If it is found possible to take out the majority of these tariffs, the western roads will enjoy an increased revenue next year amounting to several million dollars. Whether the rate raising will go beyond the restoration of the old tariffs remains to be seen.

Several reasons are assigned by railroad officials for a readjustment of freight schedules, the most important being the increased cost of material which is used in railroad construction. Another is the general raise in wages. Most railroad officials cannot see why the cost of every other commodity which is for sale is increased and freight rates stay down. It is expected that so long as the present plethora of freight traffic keeps up the railroads will be able to maintain higher tariffs without serious rate cutting.

MOTHER ACCUSED OF CRUELTY Fashionable Friends of Defendant Crowd Court Room to Listen to the Charges.

LONDON, Nov. 20 .- Extraordinary charges of cruelty on the part of a mother to her child, recalling the Montague case in the north of Ireland, which created world-wide interest about ten years ago, are now being heard at the Old Bailey. In the present case, Annie Penroddick of Compton Park, Wiltshire, the wife of a magistrate and a large landed proprietor, was charged with brutally assaulting and ill-treating her 7-year-old daughter. The court was filled with fashlonably attired women, many of whom were leaders of the county society of Wiltshire and close friends of the defendant. Several of the best known counsel were engaged.

According to the statement of the crown prosecutor, which was corroborated by governesses and servants, the cruelties had been going on for two years and included beating the child with nettles, systematic neglect, ill-treatment, assault and partial starvation.

One form of punishment was to make the child, which is named Letitia, stand on the bough of a tree in inclement weather for hours at a time.

CARACAS, Nov. 20 .- An effort is being made by the European diplomats to perto join in a declaration that the block-France and Italy, as well as Great Britain. not to jeopardize American interests and to leave the hands of the Washington government free.

The secretary of legation in his report on the recent trip of the United States gunboat Marietta up the Orinoco holds that the blockade of Ciudad Bolivar is effective, which is a partial support of the Venezuelan contention.

The government organ here criticizes the action of Great Britain in occupying the Island of Patos in addition to her attitude toward the blockade and continues; It is time Venezuela should take into serious consideration these attempts against its sovereignty by a power which, while ostensibly friendly, is really hostile. Small peoples through their army and navy have likewise their strength and can make it felt. Let these attempts put President Castro under the necessity of acting and proceeding energetically because Great Britain must suffer.

The strong stand made by President Cas-Britain will not invite complications with the United States by resorting to force. The belief is entertained by shrewd and impartial diplomats that the ultimate object of Great Britain's action in making the issue a serious one is to bring about arbitration on all the questions in dispute.

President Still Out of Office. WILLEMSTAD, Nov. 20 .- It is considered remarkable that President Castro has not resumed his official functions, which he gave over to the vice president when he took the field prior to the battle of La Victoria. This delay is regarded by the diplomats as an indication that he is not satisfied that the revolution is over.

The strained relations between Great Britain and Venezuela, already great, have been intestified by the refusal of the British government to give satisfaction in the Ban Righ affair and by the declaration of the governor of Trinidad that the blockade of the Orinoco ports, declared by the Venezuelan government, is null and void. The Trinidad government has failed to recognize the presidential proclamation made the day following the fight of General Matos, and President Castro regards this omission as further evidence that the British are encouraging the revolution.

Mr. Haggard, the British minister at Caracas, reiterated a few days ago the statement that Great Britain did not hold itself liable for the action of the Ban Righ; that it continued perfectly neutral, and that as an indication of its concillatory attitude Trinidad. This statement is not acceptable to President Castro, who insists on having satisfaction.

The organ of the Venezuelan government publishes the decree of the Trinidad government and bitterly attacks Great Britain on that score. It says Trinidad had been the headquarters of General Matos, that arms and ammunition had been sent from ber for South Tyrone, began another land that island and that Great Britain had incited and prejudiced the world against General Castro.
