BURLINGTON RAISES WAGES

Third Omaha Road to Grant Its Switchmen the Chicago Scale.

ENGINEERS WILL MEET IN DECEMBER

Meeting for Purpose of Putting Finishing Touches on Their Part of Movement for General Wage Increase.

The switchmen of the Burlington in Nebraska are the latest heirs in this part of the country to increased wage schedules. They have secured the Chicago scale, which gives foremen an advance of 4 cents an hour and helpers 3 cents. Although this schedule has just been granted, it dates back to November 15.

The Burlington switchmen were extremely conservative and cautious in presenting their demands, and all their negotiations with the officials were guarded with utmost secrecy. As a result their deliberations were brief and over before it became generally known that they had asked for a raise. This is the third road converging in Omaha to grant the Chicago scale, the Union Pacific being the first and the Illinois Central the second.

It has been learned from a representative railroad man who is in the city to confer with officials of the Union Pacific that the engineers and probably other trainmen will meet in December and put the finishing touches to their part of the concerted movement participated in by all the roads of the country for a general increase in wages.

To Present Local Grievance.

Some of the Union Pacific engineers are in the city awaiting a conference with Superintendent Buckingham, but their mission, they say, has nothing of vital importance to do with the wage question.

ARGUES TO SAVE SPELLMAN

Lawyer Wants to Make Longer Talk Before Submitting to Jury.

PROSECUTOR EXAMINES THE DEFENDANT

Young Man Says He Was Left Alone in Gutter with Caldwell After He Had Knocked the Latter Down.

After talking to the jury two hours yesterday afternoon, A. S. Ritchie, counsel for the defense in the trial of John Spellman, charged with second degree murder of Earl Caldwell last September, said, at 5:15, that he would like to have a continuance until this morning, promising not to consume more than forty-five minutes more. The judge granted the request, with some comment on Caldwell's part, that the jurors had been held in the custody of the bailiffs since Tuesday and that the court, which has other matters set for today, had hoped that the present case could be submitted last night. Attorney Gurley, counsel for Caldwell's widow, declared to the jury in his argument for the prosecution, that were it not for the prejudice existing by reason of the Union Pacific strike it would take no jury more than fifteen minutes to bring in a verdict of guilty.

Yesterday the state had Spellman recalled for cross-examination and brought out the circumstance that he was left alone in the gutter with Caldwell after he had knocked the latter down. Spellman testified that in falling after Caldwell from the crossing into the ditch he alighted on his hands and knees, with his hands about even with Caldwell's hips, and that he struck two more futile blows as he was scrambling out.

Only Two in the Ditch.

"Were there others in the ditch with you at this time?" Deputy Abbott asked. "No." "Where was the rest of the crowd?" "Back of me." "What did you do?" "Chasing Ball, I suppose." "What was Caldwell doing?" "He was squirming around, trying to get up and get out, I guess." "Were you holding him in any way?" "No." "What was the condition of the ground in the ditch?" "Soft." "Well, were there any pieces of sticks or bricks or plaster there?" "No." "Were you looking for any?" "I was not."

In rebuttal Police Captain Haze was called and testified that when he examined the ditch the Tuesday after the fight he observed that there was made earth about it with pieces of brick and sticks lying about promiscuously.

Spellman Contradicts Fairbank.

A. F. Fairbank, nonunion carpenter employed at the Union Pacific shops last September, testified that on the 11th of that month John Spellman, in the new oil house and in Fairbank's presence: "I would like to lick one of those fellows and lick him until he would stay licked. I would give him a licking he would never forget." Spellman denied ever making such statement and when confronted with Fairbank in court this morning swore that he had never seen the man before, so far as he could remember.

When Spellman was asked if he had any hard feelings toward Caldwell before the

OTHER LANDS THAN OURS.

King Leopold of Belgium is 66 years old, lame and threatened with blindness, but despite these handicaps enjoys the reputation of being the most progressive of kings. The king has known many sorrows. His favorite sister, Carlotta lost her reason after the death of her husband, the ill-fated Emperor Maximilian of Mexico. His only son died at the age of 10. His own marriage with an Austrian duchess was not happy. Queen Marie Henriette died only a short time ago, and when one of his daughters, the Countess Longwy, formerly the Princess Stephanie, went to the palace, the king refused to receive her, being incensed because of her second marriage. Simple and democratic in his taste, he has been the least ceremonious and most approachable of sovereigns. He has received the new colleges of painting, sculpture and music at Charlottenburg. Among other things, he said: "I cannot let this opportunity pass without addressing to both teachers and pupils the earnest exhortation to preserve and to cultivate the ideas of art within the paths which are traced by tradition and by the immutable laws of beauty, harmony, and aesthetics—keeping in close touch with the incomparable classical models, and faithfully following these numerous great masters of later centuries who dedicated themselves to art and developed it, particularly those masters who taught or were trained in the academy." His profound dislike for modern German art is said to be due to the fondness of the materialistic school for painting "poor people." This he regards as a manifestation of social democratic tendencies, and something to be discouraged severely. The painters naturally object strongly to those political deductions from their artistic preferences. The emperor's theory of an immutable standard of artistic excellence is also vigorously assailed. Fortunately the day is past when an art movement can be extinguished, or even checked perceptibly, by even an emperor's frown.

THINKS THE VICTORY IS WON

Representative of Machinists from Washington Says Union Pacific Has Lost.

Arthur E. Ireland, representative of the International Association of Machinists, with headquarters at Washington, is in Omaha having arrived here after completing a tour of the Union Pacific system. Mr. Ireland has made a careful study of the conditions existing on the Union Pacific and will make a report to the central body when he returns to Washington. Speaking of the strike of the Union Pacific machinists and other shopmen, Mr. Ireland said: "The defeat of the company is inevitable. Our men have stood firmly together during this strike. The Union Pacific chose the wrong time to undertake the task of introducing piecework when roads all over the country were voluntarily increasing wages."

Mr. Ireland was a potent factor in winning the great strike of the Allis-Chalmers machinists in Chicago, which lasted thirteen months. Local strikers suggest that the switchmen on the Union Pacific who have been given a raise in their wages are the beneficiaries of the present struggle which the shopmen are making against the company and they believe these, as well as other trainmen whose wages recently have been raised, ought to contribute more liberally toward aiding the strikers.

assault he answered: "Nothing, except that he was a strike breaker. Father was out on the strike and this man was taking his place, or the place of some other union man. It was when I thought of that that I hit him that night on the crossing. It made me mad and I forgot myself."

No exhibits have been offered in the course of the trial except Spellman's signed statements and a section of Caldwell's skull.

ESTERLINE IN DIVORCE SUIT

Wife of Captain of Guards Says He is Cruel and Impudent.

William H. Esterline, brought from St. Louis some months ago to act as captain of the Union Pacific guards during the machinists' strike, has been sued for divorce by his wife Jean, on the general ground of cruelty and non-support. The woman is in St. Louis, having parted with her husband here last week to return to that city. In her petition she relates that they were married May 25, 1892, in St. Louis; that on September 2, 1893, he became angry over her attention to the baby and absented himself for a week, spending his money in pool rooms and elsewhere; that on December 5, 1894, he had a similar tantrum because the second child was a boy instead of a girl; that in June, 1895, he went to Detroit to enter the employ of a detective agency and while there passed himself at the hotel as a single man, courted the women of the place, gave one of them a ring that belonged to his wife and answered matrimonial advertisements in the newspapers; that in November, 1895, when both the children were sick with typhoid fever, he refused to care for them within the city until 4 a. m., without consenting to make any explanation when he returned; that on December 18, 1901, having lost his money at gambling, he pawned her watch and jewelry, and that while they were resident in Detroit he once struck her in the breast, knocking her against the wall, and that frequently he abused her in company and threatened her. She asks the custody of the boys, aged 9 and 7.

THE RUSSIAN MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE HAS

The situation in Ireland has been, for the past year or two, of a character more disturbing and threatening than it had been for many years previous to that time. The coercion act has been put in force with a great deal of vigor, to counteract the operation of the United Irish league, and altogether there is less feeling of contentment on the part of English statesmen and journalists as to the prospects of the Emerald Isle than had been the case for a long period prior to the recent revival of active agitation. It is difficult, at this distance, to judge in what measure this state of things is due to unreasonableness or want of skill on the part of the Irish leaders, in what measure to English obtuseness or arrogance, and in what measure to inherent and unavoidable difficulties. But there is one moral in the situation which can hardly be escaped. This is the utter failure of the common situation of blood in South Africa, the marching side by side under one flag, to work wonders which the process was at one time imagined to be capable of effecting with such ease.

JUST DECIDED TO FOUND AN AGRICULTURAL HIGH SCHOOL FOR WOMEN, WHICH WILL BE THE FIRST

of its kind in the world. According to the program, which has already been drawn up, the object of the school will be to give women a general training as agriculturalists. The students will also be permitted to restrict their attention to special branches, such as dairy farming, gardening, bee culture, poultry keeping and cattle and sheep breeding. It will be an indispensable condition for admittance to have passed through a gymnasium or similar institution for intermediate education. The ministry has fixed the course for three years. It will include practical occupation on a model farm in addition to study and laboratory work. The women who pass through this institution will enjoy the same rights as successful male students of the existing high schools. They will consequently be capable of filling various posts under the ministry of agriculture and will be further entitled to hold the position of administrators of the crown domains and of teachers in the intermediate agricultural schools. Although the date on which the new institution will be opened has not yet been decided upon, 325 young women who have had an intermediate education have announced their intention to follow the course.

A NEW LIQUOR ORDINANCE WHICH HAS JUST BEEN PROMULGATED BY THE BRITISH AUTHORITIES AT PRETORIA PROVIDES FOR THE APPLICATION OF LOCAL OPTION BY THE DECISION OF A MAJORITY OF THE EXCLUSIVE CONTROL OF THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC BY TRUSTS FOR PUBLIC PURPOSES.

The employment of females, children under 16 and natives behind bars is prohibited. In an explanatory note, the government remarks that it did not view with favor the many representations asking it to assume control of the liquor traffic, but readily avails itself of the opportunity for testing the principles of public house trusts as advocated in other countries. The ordinance also provides for the creation of liquor trusts for inspection. Prohibition to natives is stringent, but employers of more than fifty natives are allowed to brew Kaffir beer for the use of the latter. Side and back doors and screens are prohibited.

COUNTY WILL GET ITS COAL

Contractor Says Order Will Be Filled from His Stock on Hand.

Douglas county is not to suffer through the inability of Victor White to secure coal from Chicago. The order was sent to Chicago to save handling the coal twice, and had it been filled the coal would have been delivered direct to the court house from the cars. As it is, the coal will be delivered from the stock on hand at the sheds, which is sufficient to supply all ordinary demands.

COAL DEALERS SAY THAT UNDER EXISTING CONDITIONS OMAHA IS MORE LIKELY TO SUFFER FROM A SHORTAGE OF SOFT COAL, ALTHOUGH THAT IS NOT EXPECTED, THAN FROM A SHORTAGE IN THE ANTHRACITE SUPPLY.

When the present shortage and exorbitant prices became assured many persons who have heretofore used hard coal had the grates in their furnaces changed for the use of soft coal. Others replaced base burners with soft coal stoves, so that the total consumption of hard coal in the city will be much less than it has been for many years. This change increased the demand for soft coal.

SOME DEALERS EXPRESS THE OPINION THAT THE SHORTAGE OF ANTHRACITE COAL THIS YEAR WILL PERMANENTLY REDUCE THE CONSUMPTION OF THAT COAL IN THIS MARKET, AS PERSONS WHO HAVE REPLACED BASE BURNERS WITH SOFT COAL STOVES AND THOSE WHO HAVE HAD THEIR FURNACES ALTERED WILL NOT RETURN TO THE USE OF HARD COAL, AT LEAST NOT UNTIL THEIR PRESENT STOVES AND FURNACES MUST BE REPLACED WITH NEW ONES.

The oldest, safest, strongest, Sarsaparilla you can buy

"I remember well when I first used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, nearly 60 years ago. I was thin, pale, weak, tired all the time, no appetite, could not play as the other boys did. Since then I have taken it many times, especially when overworked, tired out, or nervously depressed. Now, all my children and their children use it. As a medicine for the whole family it has no equal. I long ago learned the first great rule of health—keep the bowels regular—so I am never without Ayer's Pills."
