Mysterious Shooting Affray Near Lincoln-Police Do Not Believe Story Told by Participants In the Affair.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) INCOLN, Nov. 22.-(Special.)-Because a deputy sheriff served a summons upon per uncle's attorney's stenographer inatead of upon the attorney himself, little Mira Parker of Beatrice is several thousand dollars richer than she would otherwise have been. The little girl is a namesake of her dead grandmother, the late Almira T. Parker, who made provision for her in her will. An uncle of the little girl contested the will on the ground that his mother was insane, but in the district court the decision went against him. E. O. Kretsinger of Beatrice was attorney for Mira's father, Frank C. Parker, whose brother, Lewis C. Parker, was the con-The latter determined to appeal his centest from the decision of the lower court, and the papers were duly filed in the supreme court, summons having first presumably been made by the sheriff upon Mr. Kreteinger. After the record had been filed in the supreme court, however, counsel for Mira Parker and her father served notice upon the attorneys for Lewis C Parker that they would appear specially in the supreme court for the purpose o objecting to its jurisdiction, and therewith filed an affidavit showing that service of summons was neither made personally upon the attorney of record for the girl and her father, nor by leaving it at his place of residence. It appeared instead that the deputy sheriff had gone to the office of Attorney Kretsinger with it and had waited about his business. The supreme court sustained the motion to quash the service, holding in doing so that service upon the stenographer in an attorney's office is not service upon the attorney or his clients. It was too late for Lewis C. Parker to mend the defect in his petition in error, and as a consequence the title of the young legates to the estate of her grandmother will remain undis-

for some time for him to come in, and Surveying Electric Lines.

E. C. Hurd, the electric line promoter, who is here representing Ohio capitalists, has a surveying party at work mapping out a line of electric railway between this city and Omaha. It has covered the territory between here and Ashland, which point it reached last night. Today another surveying gang began work on Vine street in this city and started toward Omaha. It was put to work by W. D. Ball, whose address is the Rookery building, Chicago, and it is in charge of a man named Baldwin. This party is supposed to represent the Michigan parties, M. A. Boynton and others, who are presumed to represent the Westinghouse Construction company.

Father Threatens Trouble. Mrs. Sechrest, the woman whose disappearance from Kansas City just as she was expected to appear as a witness in the murder case against the slayer of her husband, is still at the home of her parents in this city. She has not heard from the prosecuting attorney at Kansas City. whom she notified on Thursday of her intention to come to Lincoln. John W. Strine, her father, threatens to make trouble for members of the Lincoln toe force who yesterday accor his residence a representative of a Kansas City paper and literally forced their way without any sort of process into the Strine residence Mysterious Shooting.

The police have been balked today in their endeavers to uncover a shooting affray out near the penitentiary. Charles Hartwick, a prison guard, is in the hospital with a load of shot in and about his neck, and his condition is rather serious. He declines to say how he got shot other than he was going along the road by the house of Mrs. John Francis when he was shot. Fred Valentine, a paroled convict, cordially admitted that he did the shooting. He says that Hartwick was mistaken by him for a burglar. He lives at or near the Francis home, where Hartwick had visited during the evening. About 11 o'clock at night he heard somebody prowling about the Francis home, and, leaning out of his window, saw somebody apparently trying to get in. He called to him to know what he was doing there and the man started to run. Then Valentine emptied his gun in his direction. Hartwick Iell and Valentine went out and got him When he discovered who he was he brought him into the house and dressed his wounds as best he could. The police are inclined to think that there is more behind it, but neither man nor Mrs. Francis will admit this.

They Are Doubtful,

The local detectives are not taking very much stock in the story of the Oklahoms prisoner who claims he was a participant in the Burlington soldup here last month. They think that no criminal cool enough enough to want to exchange his prospect he is charged with in Oklahoma for the injuring his wife in one knee. low wants to throw down his partners and get scot free of both offenses, but this is hardly tenable. The Burlington authorities have sent Pinkerton men to Guthrie for the Case Involving Much Property, Thrown Out purpose of investigating and reporting on the matter.

At the next meeting of the city council a resolution will be offered reciting that the city will pay $50,000 to the federal govern ment for the old postoffice and the ground upon which it is located. Congressman Burkett will take this offer with him and present it to the proper persons at Washington next week. The city is in a little tungie over how it can get hold of that much money as soon as it is needed, but it has been about decided that the easiest way is to include $25,000 in the next levy and have philanthropic citizens advance the remainder, for which judgment will be promptly confessed in court.

YOUNG BOY SHOOTS WOMAN Nine-Year-Old Roy Lindquist Accidentally Discharges a Rifle in a Neighbor's House.

FREMONT, Neb., Nov. 22 - (Special.)-Mrs. Charles Ladd of Nickerson was accidentally shot yesterday afternoon at the house of a neighbor, Anson Warnke, by Roy Lindquist, Mrs. Warnke's 9-year-old son, and will probably die. Mrs. Ladd was visiting at the Warnke home, and when the children came home from school the boy picked up a rifle and while examining the lock it was discharged. The bullet struck Mrs. Ladd in the back and passed through both walls of the stomach. It was some before a physician could be found, as there is none at Nickerson. It was at first thought that Mrs Ladd would recover, but today she failed rapidly. The boy fully realizes the terrible result of his handling the gun and is almost prostrated with grief. The gun had been loaded by Mr. Warnke for the purpose of killing a cat, who left it standing behind a door in the kitchen.

DOES HARVEST HANDS' WORK

York Laboring Man Patents Bundle Carrier and Shocker as Attachment to Harvesting Machine.

YORK, Neb., Nov. 22 .- (Special.)-L. E. McCann, a laboring man, has patented an attachment to a harvester, by which bound bundles of grain are drawn together and, when there are just enough bundles to make a good shock of grain, drops the grain shocks on the ground in such a way that the bundles stand up of their own weight as close together as if it were done by a harvest hand. Nearly all of the large harvester manufacturers have investigated Mr. McCann's patent and they all think it will save the farmers of the world millions of dollars paid out for labor. The bundle carrier and shocker looks like a small platform set on four wheels. Capitalists have offered to form an organization with a large amount of paid-up capital, and to give Mr. McCann a one-half interest in addition to a large amount of cash.

Where the Poison Came from is Not Known, but it is Definitely Traced to the Newly Baked Deliencies.

HASTINGS. Neb., Nov. 22 .- (Special.)entire family was badly potsoned Thursday night by eating apple pie, and as a result Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lambert and four children have been lingering between life and death ever since. Mrs. Lambert had baked a couple of ples Thursday afternoon, which was eaten at supper time. Within an hour after supper every member of the family became quite sick and all were compelled to go to bed immediately. During the night their condition became serious and a physician was summoned. After a careful diagnosis it was proounced to be a bad case of poisoning, and it was definitely decided that in some mysterious manner poison had got into the WEST POINT, Neb., Nov. 22 .- (Special.) John Geissel is in jail charged with forging the name of Max Gerhardt, a prominent farmer, to a check for $70, which he eashed in the store of L. Goldsmith & Co. in payment for a suit of wedding clothes, receiving the difference in money. Geissel is a green German boy, only a few months in America, and is respectably connected in this county. He was engaged to marry Miss Anna Kamphus and committed the crime to obtain means for the wedding.

Woodmen Case May Be Settled.

He was bound over to the district court.

YORK, Neb., Nov. 22 .- (Special.) -- The case of Kerwood and Anderson against the Modern Woodmen of York and Amos Johnson and A. G. Pruitt of York, who were sued for services for nursing E. Chambers, a member of the Modern Woodmen camp of Exeter, is about to be settled. The Exeter camp refused to pay all of the account. When the case came up in the county court, an amended bill of particulars was filed, making Exeter Modern Woodmen camp a party to the suit. The trial is set for November 26.

Renders Important Decision.

BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 22 .- (Special.)-Judge Letton rendered an important decision in district court yesterday, which will have a bearing on the exercise by cities of the right of eminent domain and public use. The case in question is one shall, Mich., upon receipt of price. wherein the city of Wymore tried to condemn twenty-six acres of land belonging little booklet describing the cause and cure to William Paxton, who took the proceed- of piles.

ings to the district court on error. Judge Letton held that the district court had jurisdiction to reverse the action of the mayor and council of Wymore on error and set the condemnation proceedings anide.

Frederick Gets Change of Venue. KEARNEY, Neb., Nov. 22 .- (Special Telegram.)-Justice Reilly's court was crowded this morning by people who were curious to hear the preliminary examination of John Frederick of Callaway, charged with adultery. They were disappointed, however, as no evidence was called. The defense first entered a motion to compel the complainant to give security for costs, which was promptly overruled. A motion was then made to have the hearing continued to December 13, which was also overruled Then it was moved to dismiss the case on the ground that the complaint did not state a crime, or cause for action. This was also overruled. The defendant then filed an amdavit for a change of venue on account of the alleged bias and prejudice of the magistrate. By stipulation of the attorneys, the case was sent to the county court, and Judge Hallowell will hear it December 9. Frederick has given bond in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at that date.

Judgment Grows Smaller. FALLS CITY, Neb., Nov. 22 .- (Special.) -District court was adjourned by Judge Steele yesterday until Tuesday, December 11. The most important case this week was the damage suit against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad by Lewis Russell. Young Russell was caught between the B. & M. cars at Rule and lost a finger and was otherwise crippled. This is the second trial of the case, the jury giving a verdict the first time for $5,000 damages. This time the scaled verdict was returned for $1,000 damages. The railroad attorneys have filed a motion asking the court to render a judgment for the defendant, notwithstanding the verdict of the jury. Judge Letton will convene court on November 26 to hear the case of Charles Falsken against Falls City State Bank and the case of State against William Coppock, charged with horse stealing. Two Weddings at West Point. WEST POINT, Neb., Nov. 22 .- (Special.) -James G. Benedict, manager for the West Point Milling company, and Miss Lillian Y. ## Excitement Over G

TENTURIES ago the heathen Chinee was eating his rice out of porcelain bowls and when our forbears were eating out of wooden bowls and drinking out of pewter mugs-glazed and decorated ware was neither a novelty nor a luxury.. Since the introduction of porcelain in the sixteenth century the nations of Europe have vied with each other in the encouragement and establishment of factories and potteries. All kinds of crockery have borne the name of China, but there is a vast difference.

Saturday the excitement over our sale was great. Monday we will be better prepared. Come in and enjoy the display even tho' you don't want to buy.

We don't carry a regular stock. These purchases were made as a Thanksgiving and holiday attraction. A portion was imported by us direct and the balance was bought from several of the largest importers of New York City. Many of the lots were samples and open stocks-all bought at a great reduction and sold to you on the same low basis.

French, German, Austrian. Carlsbad. Haviland, Limoges, Italian faience, English, Japanese, Chinese ware, bric-a-brac, etc.,

for the table, the cabinet, for use, for ornament, for gifts.

Monday also, a special sale on linens, doilies, carving cloths, etc.-almost everything to afford an attractive setting for the noble bird who will furnish you with delectation on Thanksgiving_day-see west window.

Special sale on wool dress goods-the heavy goods such as will afford comfort for cold days. More remnants have piled up-yours on Monday at about half price and in almost any length.

We received on Saturday at silk section-15 more colors of the famous 27-inch washable taffeta-PRACTICALLY INDESTRUCTIBLE. Almost every color made-worth $1.25-to introduce it everywhere we sell it at $1.00.

You will take nothing else if you try this silk once-we guarantee every yard and cheerfully furnish new material if you are not satisfied with the wear.

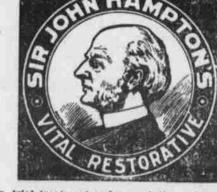

New cloaks, suits and furs are coming in on every train. If you have not yet been suited, we can suit you.
