ship and the Diamond Medal.

The final shoot of the year of the Dickey Bird Gun club began on the club grounds at Krug park at 10 clock yesterday morning and lasted until sanset. There were tweive events, the first five being at clay pigeons and the last two at live birds. The seventh event was the star feature of the season's shooting and was a handleap shoot at ten live pigeons. The result of this proclaimed Frank Fogg the champion shot of the club and winner of the diamond medal first prize. The silver loving cup, second prize, went to Hofer, who was forced to shoot off a tie with Townsend. The third, fourth, fifth and sixth prizes went, respectively, to Toozer, Bushman, Simpson and Nicholson. Brooks, who has been on trial before the club on the charge of shooting tame and decoy ducks, sustained his reputation by carrying off the booby prize, a huge leather medal, handsomely engraved. The first event was at ten targets, second, billow, third ten fourth of the season. The first event was at ten targets, second, fifteen; third, ten, fourth, fifteen; fifth, ten, and sixth at five live birds. The scores of these events were:

Alarming Extent.

Prohibits Railroads from Transporting Cattle, Sheep or Swine in New England States or Their Exportation from Boston,

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 .- Secretary of Agriculture Wilson today issued a sweeping order directed to the managers and agents of railroad and transportation companies of the United States, stockmen and others, notifying them of the establishment of a quarantine on cattle, sheep and other ruminants and awine in the New England states and prohibiting the exportation of such animals from the port of Boston until further orders. Recent investigations in the Department of Agriculture discloses the fact that what is known as foot and mouth diseases exists to an slarming extent in Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Vermont, The expert of the department, D. Mohler, Dr. Leonard Pearson of the University of Pennsylvania and Dr. James Law of Cornell investigated the infected districts and united in a recommendation that in order to prevent the spread of the disease a quarantine should immediately be estab-

Secretary Wilson said today that this is the most serious case the department has had to handle for some time, but that all the resources of the department would be employed in stamping out the disease. He declared that if it should spread west of the Hudson river it would be nothing short of a national calamity.

Orders of the Secretary. The orders, which are dated today and numbered 99 and 100 respectively, are as

To the Managers and Agents of Railroad and Transportation Companies of the United States, Stockmen and Others:
In accordance with section 7 of the act of congress, approved May 29, 1894, entitled "An act for the establishment of a bureau of animal industry, to prevent the exportation of diseased cattle and to provide means for the suppression and extirpation of pleuro-pneumonia and other contagious diseases among domestic animals," and with the act of congress, approved June 3, 1922, making appropriations for the Department of Agriculture for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1903, you are hereby notified that the contagious disease known as foot and mouth disease exists among animals in the states of Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Vermont, and the cattle, sheep and other ruminants and swine of said states have been exposed to the contagion of said disease from the states of Connecticut, Rhode Island, which is the said disease from the states of Connecticut, Rhode Island of the said disease from the states of Connecticut, Rhode Island and Vermont into other states or foreign countries, and to aid in its eradication, no cattle, sheep or other ruminants or swine shall be moved or be permitted to move from or across the territory of any of the states named into any other state or foreign countries.

YORK, Neb., Nov. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—By gaining the decisive victory of 41 to 50 over Aurora today the York High school team closes the season with its goal line crossed but twice and but one defeat, that given by Lincoln. Aurora put up a plucky defense, particularly in the first half, but the superior team work and training of the York boys told as the game advanced. The features of the game were an eighty-yard punt by Browne, making a touchdown by Jackson through blocking a punt; a seventy-five-yard run by Wildman and other sensational runs by Joe Runner, Newman and Osborn, all of York, and a fifty-yard run by Aurora's captain. Touchdowns: Taylor (3), Browne, Jesse, Runner, Newman, Jackson. Officials: Fountain and Dr. Thomas. Time of haives: Twenty-five minutes.

CHICAGO BEATS WISCONSIN

SECRETARY WILSON ISSUES AN ORDER Wins Toss and Carries One-Sided Contest by Eleven Points to Nothing.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Although both Chicago and Wisconsin are out of the western championship race, more than $,000 partisan rooters for the Maroon and the Cardinal braved the wintry weather at Marshall field today to cheer on Stagg's and King's elevens.

A slight spit of snow during the night fell upon the covering of shavings spread over the gridiron, yet when workmen had raked the nield it was seen to be dry and fast.

Twice defeated this year, once on Marshall field, Wisconsin entered the game determined to put the Maroons on a par with the Cardinais. Chicago presented no hospital list, as it did when Michigan overwheimed the Maroons. All of the Maroons were in good physical condition.

But Phil King's Badgers were able to boast no such record. Vanderboom was lame, making it seem necessary to hold Freshman Marsh in readiness for much of the work in his place. Captain Juneau, although none too strong, promised to help the offense by making an end run whinever the Maroons could be caught napping.

Wisconsin ruled the favorite in the light betting before the game.

Chicago won the toes and chose the north, goal, thereby getting advantage of the northwest wind. Abbott kicked off at 1:40.

After twelve minutes of play Chicago tried a place kick from the eleven-yard line and scored. Score: Chicago, 5; Wisconsin's forwards in the first half, but the score of the forwards in the first half, but the score of the forwards in the first half, but the score of the forwards in the first half, but the score of the forwards in the first half, but the score of the forwards in the first half, but the score of the forwards in the first half, but the score of the forwards in the first half, but the score of the forwards in the first half, but the score of the forwards in the first half, but the score of the forwards in the first half, but the score of the first half, b iried a place Rick from the eleven-yard line and scored. Score: Chicago, 5; Wisconsin, 8.

Chicago's line out charged Wisconsin's forwards in the first half, but the score of 5 to 0 just about represented the relative merits of the Marcon and Cardinal play. Wisconsin, weak on offense, when directed toward Chicago's strong ends, Catlin and Speik made most of its gains by the old mass-on tackle. Skow, for Wisconsin, was outpiayed by Elisworth at center. Otherwise linemen played high and seemed to fear the attacks of little Captain Sheldon, who invariably had good interference. Wisconsin was coming strong in the last few minutes of play in the first half, with Vanderboom and Moffatt bucking the Chicago line as if it were paper. Lerum, a veteran guard on the Badger team, was not able to take care of Ahiswede, who broke through and stopped some of the Wisconsin backs. Abbott played a strong game at left end for Wisconsin's chances. Stagg evidently had drilled his team well to stop Juneau's efficiency on offense work, for the Badger captain did not shine in the play. Spick and Catlin played a strong game for the Maroons. The wind did not prove much of a factor in the punting, which was mediocre on both sides.

Chicago gained an advantage that subsequently resulted in the place kick score on both sides.

Chicago gained an advantage that subsequently resulted in the place kick score by a variety of fake plays through the Wisconsin line. Fakes on tackle, with the interference, and then sending a man through center and a shift with interference through center and the man with the ball going through tackle were hard and earnest foot ball.

Wisconsin partisans who expected a weak offense and a stronger defense than the Badgers displayed were ready at the end of the half to back their team for a victory despite Chicago's evident shade the better of the play. The field was fast and almost dry.

better of the play. The field was fast and almost dry.

In the second half Driver went in at full-back, Moffatt going to left half in place of Juneau. After five minutes of play Ellsworth had a fine trial at a place kick from the twenty-seven-yard line and missed. After a few minutes of play Driver punted out of bounds on his sixteen-yard line. On the next play Schnur broke through Haumerson and dodging all the Badgers, touched the ball down behind the goal posts for the touchdown of the game. Ellsworth kicked an easy goal. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—The University of Pennsylvania today defeated Cornell 12 to 11. The Ithacans kicked a goal from place and scored a touchdown from which a goal resulted in the first half, while Pennsylvania scored two touchdowns and kicked two goals in the second half.

Until the final whistic there was a painful uncertainty in the hearts of Pennsylvania supporters. Cornell had twice carried the ball dangerously near Pennsylvania's goal and once carried it over. Another touchdown, or an opportunity for a second goal, would probably have meant a defeat for the local eleven. But as the time drew near for the close of the contest Pennsylvania's play became more fierce, while that of Cornell grew correspondingly werk and the game ended with the ball in Cornell's possession on her twenty-liveyard line. yard line.
Spectacular runs, sensational tackles and a touchdown, from which Gardiner kicked a goal.

Then began what proved to be the sensational period of the day's play. After carrying the ball to within twenty yards of Cornell's goal Pennsylvania lost on a quarterback kick and Brewster at once sent the ball away from the Cornell goal. Bennett, for Pennsylvania, again kicked over Brewster's head and it was Cornell's ball within eight yards of its own goal. Brewster punted on the first opportunity, but the attempt was a fallure and Dale caught the ball for Pennsylvania on Cornell's thirty-five-yard line.

In a double pass Dale gained twenty yards. The ball was within fifteen yards of Cornell's goal and the excitement was intense. Mitchell was brought on in Pictural Research of Cornell's line for five yards.

Red Men Play Up Well in the Second Half and Secure an Easy

Spectacular runs, sensational tackles and terrific line plunges came with such frequency that the spectators were continually bobbing up and down in their seats. Both teams played brillantly. Pennsylvania's offense was superior to that of Correll and its defense in the last ten minutes has never been excelled by a Pennsylvania eleven.

When the two elevens trotted on for the econd half the score stood II to 6 in favor of Cornell, and there were few Pennsylvanians who darsh hope for a victory.

Cardiner of Penrsylvania kicked off to Coffin of Cornell on the latter's thirteenyard line and Coffin ran the ball back twenty-five yards before being thrown. Pennsylvania was given the ball for solding and after an exchange of punts the Pennsylvania players began a flerce onslaught on the Cornell line. Thorey made a touchdown, from which Gardiner kicked a goal.

Then began what proved to be the sensational period of the day's play. After carrying the ball to within twenty yards of Cornell's goal Pennsylvania lost on a quarterback kick and Brewster at once sent the ball away from the Cornell goal. Bennett, for Pennsylvania, again kicked over Brewster's head and it was Cornell's ball within eight yards of its own goal. Brewster punted on the first opportunity, but the at-

The second half was opened by the Indians with an evident intention to win. After the first kick-off they carried the ball down the field with a rush, with apparently no opposition. The first touchminutes.

MITCHELL. S. D., Nov. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—The medical students of the University of Nebraska of Omaha were slaughtered by the Mitchell team this afternoon in a game of foot ball that augured at the start for a close one. Omaha could not stand in front of the rushes of the Mitchell team and was continually swept from the gridiron. The score at the close of the second half was $0 to 0. A cold wind blew from the south that interfered somewhat with the game. The high school eleven and the second team of Dakota university played a tie game earlier in the afternoon. The score was 5 to 5.
