14 West 11th St., New York City. Dear Sir: Oct. 15th, 1902. I had been suffering severely from kidney trouble. All symptoms were on hand; my former strength and power had left me. I could hardly drag myself along. Even my mental capacity was giving out, and often I wished to die. It was then I saw an advertisement of yours in a New York paper, but would not have paid any attention to it, had not been promised a guarantee with every bottle of your medicine, assuring that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable, and does not contain any harmful drugs. I am seventy years and four months old, and with a good conscience, I can recommend Swamp-Root to all sufferers from kidney troubles. Four members of my family have taken Swamp-Root for four different kidney diseases with the same good results.

With many thanks to you, I remain, Very truly yours, ROBERT BERNER.

You may have a sample bottle of this famous kidney remedy, Swamp-Root, sent free by mail, postpaid, by which you may test its virtues for such disorders as kidney, bladder and uric acid diseases, poor digestion, when obliged to pass your water frequently night and day, smarting or irritation in passing, brickdust or sediment in the urine, headache, backache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, heart disturbance due to bad kidney trouble, skin eruptions from bad blood, neuralgia, rheumatism, diabetes, bloating, irritability, nervous feeling, lack of ambition, loss of flesh, sallow complexion, or bright's disease.

If your water, when allowed to remain undisturbed in a glass or bottle for twenty-four hours, forms a sediment or settling or has a cloudy appearance, it is evidence that your kidneys and bladder need immediate attention.

EVENING BEE LEADS OTHERS

Affidavits in District Court Show Circulation of Omaha Newspapers.

WORLD-HERALD AND NEWS FAR IN REAR

W. J. Broatch, So Mr. Hitchcock Says, Has Given Assurance that Fire and Police Board Will Favor World-Herald.

Attorney E. W. Simeral filed with the clerk of the district court yesterday affidavits which not only show the relative circulation of The Bee and other Omaha dailies, but disclose the tactics to which the business management of the World Publishing Company has resorted in the hope of securing the publication of liquor licenses before the present injunction proceedings against the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners shall reach a stage where The Bee can force a showing of hands.

The first of the affidavits is that of C. C. Rosewater, who is and for some years has been business manager of The Bee Publishing Company. In his affidavit Mr. Rosewater avers that he is familiar with the circulation of the various publications; that The Evening Bee has for some time had a bona fide circulation in Douglas county of more than 9,000; that the Evening World-Herald and the Morning World-Herald have few subscribers in common, yet the two together have not the 9,000 of The Evening Bee alone; that the Morning World-Herald and the Evening World-Herald have separate contracts with the Associated Press, and therefore are not connected with the circulation of both papers as the circulation of one; that he had a talk with G. M. Hitchcock November 12 and was then told by Mr. Hitchcock that in a conversation with W. J. Boatch of the fire and police board he had been informed that the board would favor the World-Herald.

Figures on Relative Circulations.

Another affidavit is by Dwight Williams, circulation manager of The Bee, who avers that under his direction systematic and thorough canvass was made of the carrier delivery subscribers of all papers in Douglas county and that the totals disclosed give The Evening Bee more than 9,000, the Evening World-Herald 5,860, the Morning World-Herald 1,800, the News less than the two World-Heralds.

R. E. Parker, advertising solicitor, and J. P. Wyke, subscription solicitor, also file affidavits in which they swear that between November 14 and November 21 they called upon many saloon men and liquor dealers to see about their license notices and that with few exceptions these men said that they believed The Bee had the largest circulation, but that they feared to antagonize the police board, known to be hostile toward and prejudiced against The Bee.

With these affidavits was filed a circular letter received by a saloonkeeper, dated November 21, in which he is asked to bring their notices in between November 27 and December 5, as we desire to publish them all together as near as possible. If you want the board to grant your license, use the World-Herald.

MILFORD HOME NEAR IDEAL

Old Soldiers' Retreat Subject to Great Development, Says R. S. Wilcox.

R. S. Wilcox returned Saturday from a trip to Grand Island and Milford, where he went as a member of the State Board of Visitors to inspect soldiers' homes. Mr. Wilcox says that the conditions at the Milford home are almost ideal and subject to development which will make the home one of the best in the west. The land lying along a river which could be utilized to create power to operate an electric light plant and other machinery at the home. The Grand Island home is not, in his opinion, capable of such development.

"The inmates of the home all seem to be contented and we have had no complaint. There is not enough room at either of the places, the home at Grand Island being the worst crowded. In cottages built for two families four are crowded and the buildings should be made larger by the legislature.

It is true that the number of former soldiers of the city has been decreasing, but for the next ten years the number which will be cared for in soldiers' homes will increase as the veterans pass the age at which they can support themselves. There is a mistaken notion as to the cost of these homes to the state. The federal government gives to each of the homes $10 a year for each inmate of the home. There are approximately 460 male inmates of the two homes, 350 being at Grand Island and 116 at Milford. The government thus pays to the state about $4,600, and the legislature limits the result of appropriation on account of this money from the federal government.

The state should not be niggardly and should put the buildings into fit shape for people to live in, and the old soldiers and their wives should not be crowded. A hospital is badly needed at Milford, as there are no facilities for caring for the sick.

"The soldiers at the homes range in age from 60 to 92 years, and some of the cases are pitiable, the old men unable to move, lying on beds and awaiting relief by death. None of the men at the homes is sound physically and they deserve better care than they can receive with the funds at the command of the authorities."

At Milford the visitors were entertained Thursday evening at the home of General James D. Gage, who now resides there. The party was made up of people from Omaha, Peru and Lincoln in addition to the board, which consists of R. S. Wilcox, John Reece of Broken Bow, Thomas Hipert, Mrs. Sarah Sweet of Creighton and Mrs. Bolshaw of Lincoln. The members of the board were accompanied by their wives and were given a surprise when greeted by their friends at Milford. A dinner was spread and afterward songs were sung and stories told. A short talk was made by Lorenzo Crouse.

It is said that the board will present some matters of importance to the legislature at the coming session with reference to the management of the homes and that sweeping changes will be recommended, but the members of the board will not discuss the proposed changes until they have finally decided upon a course of action at a meeting to be held previous to the meeting of the legislature.

BIG FOUR GETS NEW LINE

Indiana Midland Railroad Will Soon Fall Definitely to Larger Road.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 29.—The application of the Central Trust company of New York for foreclosure of mortgage and the appointment of a receiver for the Chicago & Southwestern railroad, generally known as the Indiana Midland, is expected to discharge the indebtedness, so that the Big Four, which recently acquired control, will have a clear title.

John T. Dye, attorney for the Big Four and president of the Midland, was appointed receiver by Judge Baker. His bond was fixed at $50,000. The Central Trust company is trustee for the bondholders. When the road was built there was a bond issue of $2,000,000, of which $1,425,000 was issued. The semi-annual interest has been defaulted since 1901. This delinquency amounts to $74,225, with an additional 6 per cent on the delinquency, making a total indebtedness of $2,219,260. The Midland runs from Muncie to Brazil, Ind., and for years was managed by Harry Crawford of Chicago.
