ENGINEERS MEET OFFICIALS

Committee from Brotherhood Hears to Confer with Union Pacific.

STRIKERS' RELATION TO PENSION PLANS

Question as to Whether Old Shopmen Now on Strike Will Come In for Benefits Under Union Pacific's Scheme.

Negotiations between the Union Pacific and its engineers through the grievance committee of the latter are still pending, nothing definite in the way of adjusting differences having been accomplished. William Hockenberger of Des Moines, chairman of the committee from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and Ralph Robertson of Cheyenne, another member of the committee, have an appointment with Superintendent of Transportation Buckingham for 10:30 Sunday morning, when some headway toward a settlement of affairs is expected. The committee came to Omaha over a week ago to confer with the officials, but Mr. Buckingham being out of the city they returned to their homes until after Thanksgiving. Mr. Hockenberger arrived in the city yesterday morning, but as the train on which Mr. Robertson was coming was greatly delayed no conference could be held yesterday as was planned.

The engineers are conservative in alluding to the affairs which they are here to discuss. They are not disposed to discuss at all as to the outcome. The general tendency of the railroads over the country to accede to whatever demands their employes make and the present labor complication which the Union Pacific has on its hands, they think, justifies them in the sanguine hope of success.

Question About Pensions.—Relating to the pension system for its employes which the Union Pacific will adopt the first of the year, as was published Friday in The Bee, the question has arisen, "Will any of the old shopmen who are now out on a strike be eligible to the benefits of this system should they return to work for the company?" Scores of these men have been in the service of the Union Pacific for ten years or more and many of them are nearing their three score years and ten.

On the Illinois Central and Northwestern leaves of absence or suspensions from work do not deprive men otherwise eligible from the benefits of the pension department. The Northwestern and the Illinois Central have pension systems practically identical, the Northwestern having placed its in effect after the Pennsylvania and prior to the Central and the Northwestern. The Union Pacific has patterned its system after those of the Northwestern and Illinois Central. It is the general opinion, therefore, that the strike will have no effect upon the eligibility of the men under this system.

Although the Union Pacific will put the pension law in effect January 1, J. M. Burt still declines to give out any formal statement of the details.

Mid-Winter Holiday Rates.—The Burlington announces its mid-winter holiday rates of one-half fare for points within 500 miles of selling distance, the dates of sale to be December 24, 25, 31 and January 1. All tickets to be limited for return to January 2. These rates will apply to points east as well as west of the Missouri river.

In addition to its holiday rates the Burlington has announced a one-fare rate for round trip for the meeting of the County Commissioners and Supervisors' Association of Nebraska, to be held at Beatrice, December 2-5.

WARM TIME IN COURT ROOM

Parties to Suit Wage Heated Controversy and Judge Vinsonhaler Has to Interfere.

There was so lively and heated an exchange of personalities and accusations in his court yesterday that Judge Vinsonhaler of the county bench had to rap vigorously for order and bring up with a short turt the principals in the controversy.

Louis Harris, recent purchaser of premises on Capitol avenue between Ninth and Tenth streets, was successful the other day in his forcible entry and detainer proceedings against Parke Godwin, lessee, and Charles Brown, sub-lessee. Godwin decided to appeal and submitted as sureties on his appeal bond Jacob Katieman and Matilda Brown. Harris' lawyer asked that the bond be not approved until the security of the sureties could be investigated by them. The request was granted and yesterday Harris reported that Katieman was satisfactory, but about that time Katieman himself appeared and asked to be relieved from the bond, saying he had not fully understood how extensive were the responsibilities incurred, as he had not thought of how high the case might be carried nor how long deferred, with the rent piling up. It was then that the storm broke, for Godwin made the accusation openly that Katieman had been operating on in the interests and the remark was resented with vigor. Katieman was finally released.

EVADING THE PROHIBITIVE TAX

Some Oleomargarine Makers Are Selling Their Product as Country Butter.

Captain Wheelock, special agent of the internal revenue office, has returned on a trip to Denver. He says that the oleomargarine makers are giving the department considerable trouble in the mountain city and that two illicit factories have been unearthed at that place. They have been making colored oleo without paying the tax of 10 cents a pound, and in one case went so far as to pack their product in crocks, place over them a piece of cloth after the manner of the dairy farmer and sell the goods as country butter. Other factories have paid the tax of one-quarter of 1 cent a pound in selling butter should not be permitted to take out a license to sell oleomargarine.

WILL OPEN DUNDEE ROADWAY

County Makes that Disposition Finally of the Tschek-Conroyer Controversy.

The county commissioners finally got together on the Tschek-Conroyer road controversy yesterday and disposed of the matter by deciding to open road 160 D of Dundee precinct, from Hamilton to Dodge streets, a distance of about three-fourths of a mile.

Lew Hill was before the board seeking a partial refund on the assessment made against him last spring on a basis of $2,500, assessed valuation. He was unsuccessful, but expressed a profound gratitude for the indulgence of the board in listening to him. The board voted to allow T. F. Baile $1,500 on his bill of $3,500 for plumbing at the county farm. O'Keefe registered a negative ballot.

At the board's chambers yesterday morning there was delivered a box containing eighteen jackrabbits from Gibbon, Neb. The present was addressed to the chairman of the charity committee, but Connolly permitted the other members of the board to "dip in" to the extent of taking an ear amputee for good luck.

IMPORTERS SAVE BIG AMOUNT

Duty on Tea in Bond Here Would Amount to Many Thousand Dollars.

The first week in January will find the office of the surveyor of customs at Omaha with more work on hand than has ever been seen at the office, for then will come the withdrawal of the tea from bond and its shipment to various parts of the territory covered by the port of Omaha. At the present time there are 8,000 packages of tea stored in the warehouse and there are enroute 3,000 packages, which will reach here during the month of December. The duty on this tea at the present time would be $77,000, it being estimated that the total storage is 770,000 pounds.

The tea in bond is the property of the Omaha wholesale grocers and of two Chicago tea houses which have distributing houses in this city. Each of them, however, is already consigning to retail dealers in the states of Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas and Wyoming. It is all ready for distribution and is only held until January 1 because at that time the duty on tea will be removed and the $77,000 will be saved to the importer.

Jobbers say there will be no decrease in the price of tea corresponding to the amount saved by the importers in the abolition of tariff duties. They account for this by saying that the importers calculated upon the removal of the tariff in making their purchases and paid more for their goods, thus securing a higher grade, and some of the low grades of tea purchased during the time the tariff was operative will not be seen upon this market in the future.

FOLWELL TO LECTURE HERE

Is Practical Man of Affairs and Not a Theorist in Political Economy.

Colonel William W. Folwell, who appears before the Omaha University extension church in the First Congregational church Tuesday evening in the delivery of the tenth lecture of the series on "Modern Social Problems," is professor of political science in the University of Minnesota. For fifteen years he was president of that institution and has been head of the department of political science, including political economy, for the last thirty-four years. During the civil war he was officer of the engineers brigade of the Army of the Potomac and was twice brevetted for meritorious conduct. Prof. Folwell is a practical man of affairs and not a theorist in political economy. He has been a member of the Minneapolis Park commission for the last fifteen years and president of it for the last five years. He is also president of the Minneapolis Improvement league. For many years he was chairman of the Minnesota State Board of Charities and Corrections. He is a few college or university men who devote more of their time to public affairs. The subject of Prof. Folwell's lecture is "The Ethics of Business."

TO RETURN TO THE ASYLUM

J. O. Augustson, Escaped from Insane Hospital at Lincoln, Again in Custody.

The police again have in custody J. O. Augustson, who was some seven weeks ago adjudged insane and committed to the asylum at Lincoln, but recently made his escape from that institution and returned to this city. He left the asylum several days ago and Friday night arrived at his former home at Twentieth and Castellar streets. The police were notified of his arrival and yesterday Sergeant Hudson and officers Fahy and Jackson went after him. He saw the officers coming and tried to escape them, but after a chase of six blocks was overtake.

Augustson, who was once connected with the police department himself, has given the police a great deal of trouble in the past and not long ago filed charges against one of the officers who had arrested him, in which he alleged undue violence on the part of the officer.

CERAMIC CLUB OF NEBRASKA

Organization Opens Its Tenth Annual Reception and Exhibit at Millard Hotel.

The tenth annual reception and exhibit of the Nebraska Ceramic club opened at 10 yesterday morning in the ballroom of the Millard hotel, there being twenty-one exhibitors. The display includes an unusually attractive variety this year, all work of the members. An additional interesting feature is the traveling competitive exhibit of the National League of Mineral Painters, which has been going the rounds of the various cities where there are clubs holding membership in the league. The exhibit includes eighty-three pieces, thirty of them being Belleek vases, fifteen plates and fifteen portrait heads. There is also on exhibition the twenty Belleek vases done in fine designs by the members of the club this fall. ## WANTS HER BABY BOY BACK

Maudie Cooper Brings Habeas Corpus Proceedings to Recover Custody of Child.

All Maudie Cooper wants is her boy baby back. To get him she has instituted habeas corpus proceedings in Judge Baxter's court and secured a promise of a hearing next Thursday. In her petition she avers that the boy, whose name is Kenneth, will be 3 years old next February; that in November, 1900, she left him at the Child Saving Institute, agreeing to pay $2 per week toward his maintenance; that she did pay a part of that sum and all that was asked of her; that subsequently the institute gave him into the keeping of John Silas, a farmer, who changed his name to Albert Silas, who claims him as an adopted child and has retained him for a year against the wishes of the mother, who never, she alleges, consented to Silas' taking him.

TWO GO TO THE PENITENTIARY

William Wegworth Gets One Year and William Searle Draws Two.

Judge Baxter has sentenced William Wegworth to one year in the penitentiary for burglary committed Ak-Sar-Ben week at Thirteenth street and Ames avenue and William Searle to two years for his embezzling and entering at the Burns home on Leavenworth street in August. The former pleaded guilty and brought about the release of a friend who had been held with him. The latter was convicted principally upon the testimony of those who had broken into the house in the soft earth leading from the house across a back lot.

MRS. LEMA POPPENHOUSE,

Chaplain Daughters of Rebecca Lodge, No. 38, CHICAGO, ILL.

No. 250 Wells Street, CHICAGO, ILL., Feb. 20, 1902.

I have a fine family of six sons and two daughters, and my life has been spent in securing their highest welfare and happiness. In order to accomplish this I realized long ago that as I had perfect health myself so was I better enabled to spread the sunshine and happiness. I had been suffering for years with troubles in the pelvic organs, brought on through neglect at the time my children were born. I had intense bearing-down pains at times and found no relief until I accidentally heard of a friend who was remarkably restored through the use of Wine of Cardui. I took it and was much pleased with the results. Within two weeks my general health had improved and I kept on getting better until within nine weeks I had fully recovered perfect health. I felt very pleased, indeed, and could hardly believe my good fortune, but time went on and my fine health continued. Life looked light and bright to me and work came easy. As years went on the time for my climacteric approached and I found peculiar unpleasant sensations, hot flushes and shocking or dizzy feelings alternated. I became nervous and lost much of my general good nature, feeling irritable, irrational, and sometimes it would seem my strength had left me. I again took Wine of Cardui and found it the same true, helpful friend as before. I took it off and on for three years and it carried me safely through this critical period. Since that time it has been the only medicine I have used. I am a happy grandmother, my children have Wine of Cardui when they feel bad and all have the same good faith in it I have. God bless you and prosper you. You certainly deserve success.

Lema Poppenhouse

P. S. One of my daughters is a practicing physician, but she feels that Wine of Cardui is the finest medicine for a sick woman.

THE "change of life" comes to every woman usually about her forty-third year and the monthly function begins gradually to disappear. This period is a time of reckoning—the blessing of good health is firmly established or the results are sad and appalling. And today Wine of Cardui puts the choice of health or sickness within the reach of every woman who is approaching this great change. Mrs. Poppenhouse is the Chaplain of the Daughters of Rebecca in Chicago, and as such she is highly respected and esteemed. Her happy experience with Wine of Cardui comes home to every woman whose health and life are threatened by the "change" which sooner or later comes to every woman. Prominent physicians in every part of the country recognize that Wine of Cardui is the best "woman's medicine" on the market. It is so cheap, so simple, so certain to cure it puts relief in the reach of every suffering woman. At the change of life and at every other trying crisis in a woman's life Wine of Cardui is the medicine to take.
