(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Dec. 1 .- (Special.) -A number of state officials and heads of state institutions recognized the close of the blennium yesterday by filing their blennial reports with the governor, but they were not accessible owing to the fact that they were being checked over in the auditor's office. The only information obtainable in regard to them related to the report of the secretary of state. It shows that during the two years ending November 30 there were received in fees: For notarial commissions, $1,335; recording brands of stock, $2,133.80; filing and recording articles of incorporation, $46,007.91; transcripts, certificates, labels and trade marks, $781.90. The total fees received were $50,258.61.

There were S81 articles of incorporation filed, against 573 during the previous blen-The aggregate capital stock of miscellaneous corporations involved in the filing of these articles was $68,068,490.40, and the stock of railroad corporations filed was $327,207,320.53.

The report shows that the appropriation made by the legislature for the maintenance of the office during the two years ending the first of next April, $19,030, will not be entirely exhausted, and that the surplus accruing to the treasury of the state from the two years operation will be in excess of

Lange claimed that Nutsche had agreed to give him $200 if he would marry his daughter. He agreed to to it and the nuptials were performed. On the way home from the place of wedding Lange slipped over the side of the wagon and ran away. He came to Lincoln and began suit for divorce. He got it, but Nutsche caused his arrest on the charge of perjury, claiming that Lange had sworn falsely when he told the district court that he was a resident of Lancaster county. Lange was discharged and retaliated with the present suit. The court held it had no jurisdiction, as Nutsche was simply here as a witness when served with a
