STRIKE HEARING RESUMED

John Mitchell Estimates Increased Coal Cost if Higher Wages Are Paid.

RENEW RUMORS OF PRIVATE SETTLEMENT

Lawyers Will Not Discuss Report, but One of Them Admits Something of the Sort is in the SCRANTON, Dec. 3 .- The strike commission resumed today, and unless something is done to curtail matters the proceedings will run into next year.

With the reassembling of the commisnion inday, however, there was a revival of the talk of "a settlement out of court. Nothing definite has been done and neither side has approached the other so far an can be learned regarding further negotiations, but as one prominent attorney expressed it, "There is something in the

The lawyers on both sides have heard the rumor, but profess to know nothing about It. Judge Gray, speaking for the commission, today again expressed the hope that efforts would be made to agree on as many points as possible and that the the commission was ready to lend any conciliatory help to bring about that end.

Six Withesses Are Called. Six witnesses were on the stand during the day. John Mitchell, two photograph ers," two practical miners, one of them Hungarian, and the wife of a German miner. Mr. Mitchell was called to show that a 20 per cent increase in wages die not mean a corresponding increase in the price per ton of coal. The photographers produced about half a hundred photo graphs they had taken of the mine workers in the Hazleton region. The miner testified with reference to wages paid and working conditions at the collieries of

A CAUSE OF HEADACHE.

One Very Common Cause, Generally Overlooked.

Headache is a symptom, an indication of derangement or disease in some organ, and the cause of the headache is difficult to locate because so many diseases have headache as a prominent symptom; derangement of the stomach and liver, heart trouble, kidney disease, lung trouble, eye S. Gill, who assumed the name part, naturaches, and if we could always locate the organ which is at fault the cure of obstinate headaches would be a much simpler in forehead, the cause is now known to be catarrh of the head and throat; when the headnehe is located in back of head and neck it is often caused from catarrh of the stomach or liver.

At any rate catarrh is the most common cause of such headaches and the cure of the catarrh causes a prompt disappearance of close this evening.

There is at present no treatment for catarrh so convenient and effective as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a new internal remedy in tablet form, composed of antiseptics like red gum blood root which act upon the blood and cause the elimination of upon the blood and cause the elimination of the catarrhal poison from the system through the natural channels.

Miss Cora Ainaley, a prominent school teacher in one of our normal schools, speaks of her experience with catarrhal headaches and eulogizes Stuart's Catarrh Tablets as a cure for them. She says: "I suffered daily from severe frontal headache and pain in and back of the eyes, at times so intensely as to incapacitate me in my daily duties. I had suffered from catarrh more or less for years, but never thought it was the cause of my headaches, but finally became convinced that such was the case because the headaches were always worse.

Miss Cora Ainaley, a prominent school Maher of this city in the second round of Brooklyn tenight knocked out Peter Maher of this city in the second such a city. The finishing blow was delivered two seconds before the round should have ended. Carter at the start began to rush Maher. A lively exchange of blows followed, during which Carter reached Maher's face several times, the local man responding with body blows. A clinch followed. Carter continually played for his opponent's jaw. In the second there was much wrestling. Maher floored Carter once and was limself knocked down three times. His last fail was due to a right on the jaw, from which he was unable to recover. because the headaches were always worse whenever I had a cold or fresh attack of catarrh.

"The unpaved streets," said a member of the council last night, "are in better shape today than they ever have been at this time of the year. The road machine has done more work at less cost than ever before. The machine has more than paid for itself this fall. The management has been good and every portion of the city has been taken care of."

Now that the road machine has been sent to the tool house for the winter, the street force will repair walks, lay crosswalks when the weather permits and keep the crossings in the business portion of the city

Carnegie Still Silent.

Weeks have elapsed since the members of the South Omaha Libarary board sent to Skibo castle certified copies of the reports regarding the purchase of a site and the allowance made by the city for a city library. It was expected that Mr. Carnegie would answer promptly, but the members of the board think that his recent illness may have delayed matters. As Mr. Carnegie any two weeks was a little more than $18. has sailed for New York, it is thought there will be some recognition of the letters sent by the local library board shortly after his arrival in this country.

Richard Daniel's Funeral.

The funeral of Richard Daniel will be held this afternoon at the family residence in Sarpy county. Friends of the deceased returned yesterday from Chicago with the remains, which were at once conveyed to taker George H. Brewer. Interment will be at the Bailey cemetery. Services will be held at the house and also at the remotery. A large number of friends of the deceased from South Omaha will attend the services.

Judge King Despondent.

Yesterday afternoon Judge King sat on bench with nothing to do but "josh" with a few police officers and the usual number of news gathers. He said that times were getting so dull for him that he would soon have to advertise that he was doing business at the same old stand. Arrests have been few and far between of late and those who have appeared before his honor have been let off with an admonition to go sin no more. While the police are as viligant as ever there is little doing in the arresting line and consequently the judge and his bailiff spend the greater portion of each day in telling fish stories.
