AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Proposed Amendment to City Charter Regarding Payment of Taxes.

CORPORATIONS HAVE ADVANTAGE NOW

Plan is to Require Payment of Taxes for the Full Year in January, Instead of in Two Installments.

While no effort has been made so far by the city officials toward an amendment to the charter, it is understood that before long the city attorney will be requested to go over certain sections with the city treasurer with a view to remedying the condition which now presents itself. At the present time taxpayers are permitted to pay taxes in two installments. One payment is due on January 1, while the other falls due at the end of June. This arrangement was intended to assist those buying homes who could not afford to pay the tax all at once. Instead of working the way it is intended the working class of people pay the tax at once, while the corporations hold back and take advantage of the allowance of time given by law. The result is that the city has to pay interest on warrants which it might take up, providing the heavy taxpayers came in with their money before the end of the year.

A repeal of this section of the charter is advocated, as a considerable amount, there is little or no benefit to the house owner, while the corporations save their money until the last day and pay only in time to escape the usual penalty prescribed by law.

No one seems to know just why this section was included in the charter, and it is early repeal is wished for by the city officials, as it makes a great deal of extra work in keeping accounts.

Hammond Pays First.

Of all of the big corporations the Hammond company was the first to pay its 1902 taxes. The payment was made yesterday by check from headquarters at Hammond, Ind. The amount paid was $3,000. This is the first payment since the city was organized.

Police Are Amused.

The police are amused at the story told by Joe Weiss and Ernest Gum about their plan to hold up a storekeeper and then go to a point under the Q street viaduct and "stick up" the first fellow that came along.

Witnesses Are Wanted.

Deputy Sheriff Beach was in the city yesterday afternoon serving subpoenas on witnesses wanted in the case of A. V. Miller, who is to be tried on Monday next before Judge Baxter for alleged fraud in connection with his official career as a member of the Board of Education. All witnesses are required to report at the court house at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning.

Overcoat Thieves Released.

The six suspects, arrested by the police on suspicion of having been implicated in a number of overcoat robberies, were brought before Judge King yesterday afternoon and were turned loose, as the police could not produce evidence enough to convict. The detective force will keep at this work, however, in an endeavor to land the guilty parties. Special officers in citizens' clothes will be detailed to watch the Exchange building and the hotels, as the mayor and the chief of police propose to put a stop to these thefts.

Old Newspaper Man Quits.

Yesterday afternoon Dennis Albert, for years prominent in the newspaper business in South Omaha, quit the business by selling all of his stock in the Times Publishing company. A notice to this effect was published in the Times of last night. Mr. Albert will, it is understood, soon engage in business here again. He formerly owned the Drovers' Journal and it is reported that
