WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 .- The December dinner of the Gridiron club was given at the Arlington tonight. The Washington correspondents who compose the organization made use of recent events and prospective happenings for their burlesques There were many prominent guesta and from the time the president delivered his address of welcome until the midnight hour there was nothing but mirth, music, quips, hits and roasts.

Good speeches were made by public men who entered into the spirit of the occasion. The menu souvenir was a book of rules of the house with cartoons showing the stringent manner in which Mr. Cannon will rule the house. It was accompanied by a gavel, making every man his own speaker. A "Seeing Washington car" was introduced and a member of the club gave a lecture on the principal points of the city. The lecture was replete with hits upon guests and public affairs. An old-fashioned meeting at the "Corner Grocery" was held and present and future events discussed. One of the best hits of the evening came late, when two bears appeared. One was real and the other impersonated by a member of the club. He announced that they were from Mississippi and were looking for the precident. They had tried to find him in the canebrakes a few weeks ago, but failing, had come to Washington.

After partaking of refreshments they de parted, as was said, for the White House. Among the guests present were:

In the annals of medicine Kodol is up above the world so high that it is like a diamond in the sky.

True merit has elevated this famous remedy to that position wherein it stands preeminently as the world's recognized cure for all disorders of the stomach and digestive organs.

Unlike all other remedies, Kodol combines the natural digestants with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. It does not purge the system. The weak should never be weakened and the sick should never be sickened. Such treatment gives temporary relief often, but permanent good never.

Immediate benefits follow the first dose, and perfect health is the permanent result derived from the use of Kodol.
