

minister and the German chargé d'affaires. If no satisfactory reply is received the governments have decided to take such measures as are necessary to enforce their claims.

Replying to a supplementary question, Mr. Bailew said he understood the communication to Venezuela was neither joint nor identical.

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—A statement will be made tomorrow orally by Chancellor von Buelow or read by President Valestrum. The Bundesrat has already been informed that the foreign office is unwilling to disclose the text of Germany's ultimatum, as such a step would be against all precedents and because it would also be discourteous to Venezuela to publish the text before giving that country an opportunity to reply.

Neither is an intimation given as to what forcible action will follow on the ground that this would disclose military secrets.

PARIS, Dec. 8.—Several newspapers here are urging the French government to send warships to participate in the naval demonstration against Venezuela, pointing out the extent of French interests in that country. It is said at the foreign office, however, that the government will adhere to its purpose to hold aloof from the movement, as the protocol signed by France and Venezuela assures a satisfactory settlement of the French claims.

DISCUSS IRRIGATION BILL

Senate Committee Gives a Hearing to the Measure Now Pending in that Body.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The senate committee on immigration gave a hearing today on the bill restricting immigration now pending in the senate.

Goodwin Brown, representing the New York State Lunacy commission, urged that the bill be amended so as to provide for the deportation of aliens who become public charges within two years. He said that during the last ten years the foreign-born insane cost the various states $50,000,000. He offered an amendment carrying out his suggestion.

Commissioner Sargent of the immigration bureau said the head tax of $3 in the bill should be retained and it would serve to keep out many immigrants.

Williams of New York urged more strict regulations at Ellis island, saying there was a great deal of perjury. He also favored the sale of liquor at immigrant stations. The committee will give another hearing tomorrow.

IOWA INSURANCE FIRM WINS Need Not Pay Policies on Which Premiums Are Owed at Death.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The United States supreme court today rendered an opinion in the case of the Iowa Life Insurance Company against Lulu T. Lewis.

A policy was issued by the Iowa company upon the life of Thomas M. Lewis, a resident of Fort Worth, Tex., who gave notes for the payment of the following premium: This note had neither been paid nor renewed when Mr. Lewis died.

The company refused to pay the policy and Mrs. Lewis took the case into the courts and obtained judgment in her favor.

WINTER BEGINS IN EARNEST

Gold Wave with Snow Sweeps Over the Entire Country.

EVEN SOUTHERN STATES ARE NOT EXEMPT

Alabama, Mississippi, Texas and Oklahoma Record Low Temperatures, with Much Snow and Heavy Rains in Many Parts.

Temperatures.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—The cold wave that bore down on this city yesterday reached its climax at 8 and 9 o'clock today, with a temperature at the zero mark. Today and tonight the mercury will, according to the official forecast, remain near that point, with some relief promised tomorrow.

Five fatalities from causes directly attributable to the weather have been reported to the authorities, and numerous cases of destitution incident to the sudden drop in temperature were afforded relief during the night and early today.

Delay on the railroads, street railways and elevated roads is general. Through trains from the east and west are reported from two to six hours late. The shortage of coal was severely felt for the first time in many quarters, the suffering being not entirely confined to the poorer classes, but many people in more fortunate circumstances suffered from inability to secure coal at any price at some of the outlying coal fields.

CORRY, Pa., Dec. 8.—The northwestern part of Pennsylvania is in the grasp of a howling blizzard. During the night over a foot of snow fell and a fierce wind is drifting it high in many places. Trains on all roads in this vicinity are delayed.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 8.—Freezing temperature overpiled the country south of the Ohio river to a surprising North Alabama, Mississippi and north Texas, the thermometer in many places recording the coldest weather of the winter. Rainfalls in southern Texas and much snow is reported from various parts of Texas and Oklahoma. Fair and colder weather is generally forecasted south.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 8.—At 7 o'clock this morning the thermometer showed 6 degrees above zero. The indications are for rising temperature.

Six Inches of Snow in Ohio. CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 8.—More than six inches of snow fell in this section during the last thirty-six hours. Early today the government thermometer registered 23 above. The weather bureau predicts that the temperature will fall to 10 above zero tonight. The severe weather has caused the almost total suspension of navigation. A heavy gale is blowing on the lake.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 8.—Ohio is in the grasp of a cold wave this morning and the mercury was dropping, with indications that it would go to zero in central Ohio.

Severe Weather in Wisconsin. MILWAUKEE, Dec. 8.—Reports from Wisconsin and upper Michigan show the weather to be very severe. At Madison it was 2 below zero. All the trains in the western and central parts of Wisconsin are from thirty to fifty minutes late.

Reports at Oshkosh indicate that stock in the surrounding country are suffering from the intense cold. Marquette says the weather is good for the logging interests and work has actively begun in the lumber regions.

Very Cold in Michigan. DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 8.—This is the coldest day of the season here and in Michigan. At 5 o'clock it was 10 above zero in this city, a drop of 10 degrees during the night. Snow fell in furies throughout the night. Alpena reports 12 above zero and Sault Ste Marie it was just above zero. High winds are blowing on Lake Huron. Middle Island station reports a forty-two-mile wind with heavy snow.

Zero in Kansas City. KANSAS CITY, Dec. 8.—Today is the coldest of the season in this part of the southwest, the temperature being close to the zero mark. At Kansas City the Missouri river is filled with floating ice, the last night, and at 5 o'clock it was 10 degrees above zero. Throughout Kansas and the territories much colder weather is expected during the next twelve hours.

Coldest of Season at St. Louis. ST. LOUIS, Dec. 8.—A veritable cold wave has struck St. Louis and vicinity. Yesterday was the coldest day of the season, but today there is a further drop in the temperature. At 7 a. m. the weather bureau reported a 10 degrees above zero. The sky is clear.

Snow in Two Feet Deep. JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Dec. 8.—An average of two feet of snow has fallen in Chautauque county during the last twenty-four hours and it is still falling.

Weather in Iowa. DES MOINES, Dec. 8.—The thermometer registered 5 degrees below zero at 7 o'clock this morning, the coldest since February 3, last. Dec. 8.—The weather bureau report for this city gives 12 degrees below zero today as the lowest registered for the year.

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 8.—Zero weather prevails nearly all over Kansas tonight. The severe cold has not been accompanied by wind and not much suffering among stock has resulted. The Kansas river is full of cakes of floating ice.

From the western portion of the state comes stories of great scarcity of coal, as in that portion of the state where coal is hardest to obtain the weather is most severe.

ST. JOHN, N. F., Dec. 8.—The blizzard is still raging and five schooners have been driven ashore. All the crews escaped. The captain of Albano, which reached here yesterday, after experiencing hurricane weather in the Atlantic, expresses fears of losses to shipping owing to the gales in midocean.

LABOR WARS ARE BLESSINGS

Archbishop Ireland Says Strikes Show Development of Country.

CIVIC FEDERATION CONVENES FRIENDLY

Capitalists, Workmen, Politicians and Clergymen Unite in Attempt to Solve Industrial Problems

New Facing World.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The first annual meeting of the industrial department of the National Civic federation was begun here today.

Senator Hanna called the session to order and made an address of welcome, in which he said:

In extending welcome to you I also wish to extend congratulations to you for being able to say that you are in the last year has proved to those who are charged with the responsibility of this war that the fact that the great mass of the American people are in sympathy with the organization and its work.

This great industrial question has come to the surface and is demanding the most careful consideration on the part of the United States. No more important question claims the attention of this one, which seeks to bring about a better relationship between capital and labor, and for the several days for which we are to meet, to discuss in every phase of this question the various problems which will tend to the improvement of the conditions of our workers under the great fact that the great mass of the American people are in sympathy with the organization and its work.

Mayor Low made an address of welcome on behalf of the city.

Labor Problems Always Present. Charles Francis Adams said in part:

Sound and fruitful legislation cannot be improvised. It is to be made in language and in substance that is the result of experience, it is equally futile to suppose that the labor content, in which we have so much to lose, and yet vague, character of such large and yet vague, character as to be brought into the field, by any patently unworkable regulations.

A governmental regulation which shall deal satisfactorily with them must rest upon a basis of common sense and experience, it is equally futile to suppose that the labor content, in which we have so much to lose, and yet vague, character of such large and yet vague, character as to be brought into the field, by any patently unworkable regulations.

Under these circumstances if a solution, reached by a proper legislative and administrative machinery, ever to be evolved, it must be evolved from a source of our own investigations, one report thereupon, no less judicial and well considered, than that series of great opinions rendered by the supreme court of the United States has been slowly built upon and rounded out.

Alfred Mosley explained how he came to bring a delegation of British workmen to America. When in South Africa he had found American engineers had succeeded in mining operations where British engineers failed and a later visit to the mines of the Rand, in the Transvaal, had convinced him that the American business methods were in advance of those of the old country.

One of the reasons of this, he said, was the adoption by American manufacturers of piecework, and also the encouragement of initiative and inventiveness. There is not that close touch between the English manufacturer and his workmen that there is here. Added to this is the improved machinery and the knack of getting more out of it than they do on the other side.

Evolution Causes Strife. At the afternoon session Archbishop Ireland made an address, in which he said:

No greater task today could be given to a minister of Christ's gospel than to convince the people of the necessity of industrial peace. It is not surprising that disputes and collisions are increasing in the course of this period of development and all development, whether physical or moral, originates with the feeling of unrest and initiative. That new conditions have been brought about, and that the moment has come for a new stability. The conditions which confront us, far from being discouraging, are the greatest inducement to us to seek out solutions with all the hopefulness of approximation.

Among those present were John G. Millburn of Buffalo, Lewis Nixon, Blahop Potter, Cornelius N. Hiles, Alfred Mosley, President Eliot of Harvard, Archbishop Ireland, Oscar S. Strauss, John J. McCook, Joseph P. Keenan, James H. McLaughlin, A. Chambers of Pittsburgh, Theodore J. Shaffer, James Duncan, Daniel J. Keefe, James O'Connell, James M. Lynch, Henry White, John Mitchell, Charles H. Taylor, Jr., president of the American Publishers' Association, Fred Crowder, president of the National Foundry's association; A. Berkey Smith, United States Lithographical Association; William Mahon, president Amalgamated Street Railway association; ex-Senator Thomas W. Palmer of Michigan; and George B. Cabot, Cambridge, and John A. Hobart, England.

FIRE AND POLICE COMMISSION

Long Executive Session and Short Open Meeting of the Board.

For more than two hours last night Thomas Broatch, Wright, attention and Thomas remained in close secret session in the inner chamber of the rooms at the city hall devoted to the use of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners. When they finally did emerge to hold the public hearing for saloon licenses, the discussion of the board was at times quite animated and the voices of the members could be heard in the outer room. At the close of the meeting the members stated that no action had been taken upon any of the applications for saloon licenses. The meeting was held in the presence of Police Officer H. M. Egan was read, in which he is accused of drinking while on duty. A hearing of his case was set for Monday evening.

Charges were preferred against Henry Wilson and Ed Walters, members of the fire department, who are accused of having engaged in a fight at engine house No. 8. Their case was also set for hearing by the board for next Monday evening.

A report from the chief of the fire department, announcing that 7,000 feet of new fire hose had been received and is now at engine house No. 3, was placed on file.

An application from Joseph H. Hengen for his removal from the fire department was denied on the ground that the former board had, on May 28, taken action striking Hengen from the pension roll for the reason, as stated, that he had removed from the city and engaged in other employment.

Robert Vanderford's application to be placed on the pension roll, by reason of illness, which is attributed to exposure in the line of duty, was referred to the city attorney for report as to the responsibility of the city in the matter. It was suggested by Mr. Wright that this claim should be referred as stated, Mr. Broatch demurred with the remark that Mr. Wright

WHILE WE WARN

We Also Comfort and Cheer

Paine's Celery Compound

Is An Infallible Cure for All Forms of RHEUMATISM

Although we warn all with the principles of dissolution in our frame which continue to operate from our birth to our death, we are under obligation to Heaven and our loved ones to keep ourselves free from disease and suffering. While death must come to every human being, pain may be avoided, and our days made happy and long, if we keep the blood and physical structure in proper condition.

At this time, while we warn the thousands of rheumatic sufferers of the folly and danger of allowing rheumatism to run unchecked at this season of the year, we cannot comfort them with the happy assurance that Paine's Celery Compound permanently cures the terrible disease. This wondrous medicine has won the virtues of medical men, and its virtues are lauded by tens of thousands rescued from agony and death. Mrs. C. C. Lucker, Mount Pleasant, S. C., who banished her rheumatism by use of Paine's Celery Compound, writes thus:

"I have now gone on two months since I have taken Paine's Celery Compound for rheumatism. No other medicine I think could ever have done me so much good. I have not had an attack of it since. Previous to taking the Compound, I tried everything, and had two of the best doctors in Charleston, but they only gave me some relief for a few days. Two deaths of Paine's Celery Compound completely cured me. I have now a complete Direction book and 45 dyed samples free. DIAMOND DYES, Burlington, Vt.

SIMPLE FUNERAL FIXED FOR AFTERNOON

Service Will Be Brief, but Many Distinguished Men Will Pay Silent Tribute by Attending Last Rites to Dead.

PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 8.—In the Parish house of the Unitarian church tonight lies the body of Thomas Brackett Reed. Tomorrow his friends, who include every man, woman and child in Portland, will be permitted to gaze for the last time upon the face which to them was ever full of life and joy. And in the afternoon will assemble distinguished statesmen from Washington, prominent men from New York, governors from the New England states, and the most noted residents from the Pine Tree state to honor him.

A passage will be read from the Bible and a prayer will be said, and after the benediction
