(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Dec. 15 .- (Special.) -- Dr. G. W. Farnham has $1,500 in new crisp bills that he thinks do not belong to him. and how they came into his possession he does not know. Some time ago Dr. Farnham found an envelope in his safety deposit vault and in the envelope was the money. He does not remember of having placed the envelope there and does not recall having inid aside that much money for a rainy day. He was under the impression at first that some one had given him ing the money for safe keepink, but as none of his friends appear to have ever had that much money at one time, he is now searching for another clue that will lead to the finding of the owner or to some fact that will establish his ownership with clear conscience. In the meantime the noney is still in the vault and the doctor is sitting up nights a wondering about the mysterious ways of the world. Nebraska Court of Honor.

"I see by The Bee and other papers that favor the erection of three additional state normal schools. That is a mistake. I have recommended the building of one additional state normal school and the removal of the one we have at Peru to Kearney, to be housed in the Industrial or two other points in the state, but these buildings. These junior normals would simply be ten or twelve-week summer schools for teachers, to be held in the public school or high school building at the points where located. Ross Hammond. in the Fremont Tribune says that building any more state normal schools is 'indulging in pipe dreams,' and it would be in northeast Nebraska. Fremont and Dodge county have no need of a state normal school, but western Nebraska needs one and needs it badly. Of course, Representative Good of Peru is opposed to the removal of the state normal school from Peru. The enrollment at the Peru institution in 1890 was 555. When I visited it early this fall Carter wrote to the game warden today our dances is the strongest evidence that it was 390. In 1890 the University of Nebraska's enrollment was 500 and today I am informed it equals 2,000. Draw your own conclusions. And the state needs tity of the man who had shipped it. The teachers more than it needs scholars per agent, so the letter said, reported to Mr. se. The state needs normal schools more than it needs colleges and law schools and medical schools.
