RAILROAD CASE IN THE SUPREME COURT

Company Challenges Constitutionality of Nebraska Law on Damages as Interpreted by the State Court.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(Special Telegram.)—Representatives of the Nebraska Stock Growers' association had an extended conference tonight with Senators Burket and Millard and Representatives Dietrich and Shanley over the new leasing bill, applicable only to Nebraska, which it is believed, will solve the much vexed question of grazing on the occupancy of the public domain. Chairman Leacy of the public lands committee, who has held pronounced views on the question of leasing public lands to cattle barons for grazing purposes, was also present. The bill is the result of many conferences between representatives of the government and cattlemen, provides for ten years' lease of public lands, the maximum of a leasehold being thirty sections, or 6,300 acres, to be divided into six classes and to rent from 10 to 6 cents an acre per annum. The bill also provides for the leasing of lands contiguous to free gold, so as to give the largest range possible for cattle owners. It provides that half the proceeds from the lease shall be devoted to irrigation, one-fourth to Nebraska and one-fourth to the country. In view of the character of the territory represented by the Cattle Growers' association, it is claimed that it requires thirty acres to feed one steer, and consequently thirty sections is not disproportionate to the interests of the particular section.

SHIPS FAIL TO KEEP PORTS

Total Manoeuvres Show Some Vessels to Be Unsuited to Evolutions Practiced.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Dec. 17.—The American fleet continued its exercises in squadron formation today.

The maneuvers thus far have shown that vessels which are not hitherto been connected with the North American squadron are not familiar with the present exercises, they frequently fail to retain their positions. Admiral Dewey notes all errors and is informed of the names of the officers in charge of the various vessels at the time the errors are committed. He transmits his views to the commanding officers for their guidance. This has resulted in a feeling of rivalry between the ships which is certain to be beneficial.

The present exercises test the ability of the vessels to get under way promptly and to maintain their position when standing and changing formations.

UNION MAN IS INDICTED

Grand Jury at Telluride Makes Serious Charges Against Vincent St. John.

TELLURIDE, Colo., Dec. 17.—Vincent St. John, president of the Miners' union, is one of the twenty-two men indicted for participation in the riot at the Smuggler Union mine in July, 1901, in which two men were killed and five wounded.

He was arrested this morning. The indictment against St. John charges him with murder, attempt to murder and robbery.

Four other arrests were made last today. The prisoners are Sam Seed and James P. Rorer, miners at the Tomboy mine; George Sabburn, cook at the Four Metals mine; and John C. Williams, a saloon keeper.

GAMBLING CASES ON TRIAL

Court is Now to Pass Upon the Reform Work Commenced by Attorney Jerome.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The hearing of the charges against David Bucklin of being manager of a gambling house on East Forty-fourth street, the Canfield house, was commenced today.

Bucklin pleaded not guilty and declined to make reply to the question, "What is your business?"

Joseph Jacobs, the detective who is said to have gathered the testimony against the house, was the first witness. He told how he played Faro and roulette there. Bucklin, he said, hired the men who came in and watched the different games.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 17.—The adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Louisville & Nashville railroad was held here today. The directors will meet in New York next Friday to organize. Six of the old directors, including Milton H. Smith, president of the Louisville & Nashville, were retained. A large number of real estate dealers from the state and an almost full representation of the Omaha Real Estate exchange were present at the opening meeting of the second annual convention of the Nebraska Real Estate Dealers' association.

It was 8 o'clock when President James Condit of Franklin called the meeting to order and introduced Dr. E. Conning Smith of the First Methodist church, who offered prayer.

The president then introduced C. F. Harrison, president of the Omaha Real Estate exchange, who, in his address of welcome, said in part:

It is said that God made the country and made the town, and that the man who made the town made the man. It is the duty of the man who makes the town to make the man who makes the town.

The third reason for the purpose of discussing business affairs. We have five things to discuss: (1) the purpose of legislation, taxation, immigration and assimilation. We must strive to place our business on a higher plane. It is better to be a fair man than to be a successful man who is not a fair man.

We feel proud of Omaha. When I am in Iowa I take pride in referring to the fact that that state has no town like it, and Illinois has but one. We have a right to be proud of Omaha and we are proud of the state.

In our part of the state we have everything necessary to make a successful farmer. We have soil, water, and a climate that is just what we need. Our farms are good and well furnished. The soil is rich and the water is pure. We have everything that we need to make a successful farmer.

Farm laborers are in demand and cannot be secured in sufficient numbers. Each of the ten counties has garnered in full crops of wheat, corn, hay and other products. Our farms are well stocked with stock. The market is good and the prices are high. We are all well and happy.

Money is Nebraska's Parks. The farm laborers are in demand and cannot be secured in sufficient numbers. Each of the ten counties has garnered in full crops of wheat, corn, hay and other products. Our farms are well stocked with stock. The market is good and the prices are high. We are all well and happy.

According to the stories told, occupants of rooms in proximity to the apartments of Mrs. Molineux were startled about 11 o'clock Saturday night by a man entering her room and uttering alarming threats. She was apparently greatly annoyed by his fierce attack and the audacity displayed by administering a tongue-lashing to her and replying vigorously to the recriminations of the caller. The war of words is alleged to have continued for some time, attracting the attention of several persons in nearby rooms, who could not help but hear the angry voices of the two, although it was only now and then that they could distinguish what was said. Not enough was heard to reveal what the quarrel was about.

Whether or not the alleged midnight caller was an emissary of Roland B. Molineux or a New York acquaintance of Mrs. Molineux's cannot be ascertained. Many people will be interested in solving, if possible, the mystery surrounding his identity.

CONSPIRACY TRIAL BEGINS

Witness Says Laura Bigger Was at First Undecided How to Proceed.

FRESHOLD, N. J., Dec. 17.—The first witness today in the conspiracy trial of Laura Bigger, Dr. Charles C. Hendricks and Samuel Stanton for alleged conspiracy to kidnap the estate of Henry M. Bennett was A. V. D. Watterson of Pittsburgh, counsel for P. J. McNulty, one of the executors of Mr. Bennett's will.

Mr. Watterson said Dr. Hendricks told him last June that he would either claim for Miss Bigger her share of the estate under the will or lay claim to the whole for her as the common law wife of Mr. Hendricks.

Mr. McNulty testified that he went to the Bayonne sanitarium at Miss Bigger's request and met the doctor, who had not made up his mind what to claim for Miss Bigger.

Henry Craft, clerk in a New York stationery store, testified regarding the blank certificate signed by Mr. Stanton, former justice of the peace, setting forth the alleged marriage of Miss Bigger and Mr. Bennett.

Witness said certificates of the kind said to have been used by Mr. Stanton were printed December 21, 1900. The date of the marriage certificate was January 2, 1908.

Secretary Tucker of the Hoboken Board of Health testified that Stanton had asked him to enter the marriage on the records.
