

NO SETTLEMENT THIS WEEK

Nothing Will Be Done with Strike Until President Burt Returns.

DECISIVE ACTION EXPECTED NEXT WEEK

President of Boiler Makers Said to Have Received Message from New York with Information that Gives Hope.

No decisive action will be taken in the Union Pacific strike until next week at least. Authoritative sources disclose the information that the conference of officials in New York evolved no basis of settlement which can be made public until President Burt's return to Omaha.

President John McNeill of the boiler makers, who is now the aggressor on the side of the strikers, has gone to Kansas City, his home, where he will remain for several days. Before President Burt's departure for New York an understanding was had between him and Mr. McNeill that the latter should wait in Omaha for a telegram from the former, which would be sent as soon as the conference with Harriman and the other directors was over.

It cannot be said that the strikers are especially dubious as to the outcome of this conference next week, yet there is considerable doubt of an immediate settlement. The men are decidedly in favor of bringing matters to a peaceful end, however. They still maintain their determination to hold out for their original demands.

There is a rumor that Edward Dickinson, formerly general manager of the Union Pacific, was called to New York to participate in the conference.

If negotiations for a settlement, which seem to have made good progress, ultimately fail, it is apparent that a more bitter conflict than ever will be waged. There seems to be no doubt that the strike will be extended throughout the entire Harriman system, involving the boiler makers, blacksmiths and machinists. It has been understood on good authority that the international head of the machinists, James O'Connell, of Washington, has met and talked with President Burt in the east, but the result of any such conference has not been learned here.

Announcements of the Theaters.

With matinee and evening performances today this week's bill at the Orpheum will be brought to a close. It has scored a genuine "hit," many pronouncing it equal to the best of the season, and despite the counter-attraction of the new Clark's deluge it has attracted large audiences.

Concerning Miss Mary Munchhoff, who sings at the Boyd next Tuesday evening, the Hanover (Germany) Courier says: "She enchanted her audience with her crystal-clear voice and truly perfect vocal shrill. The most lovely property of this wonderful voice, which ripples forth like liquid silver, its warm timber, that is not wanting even in the highest tones." Seats are now being reserved very rapidly, but a few choice ones are left.

SCHOOL RUNS RIGHT ALONG

Business of the Stanberry Normal Unaffected by Tangled Litigation.

"One of the most tangled pieces of litigation that has appeared on the books of the federal courts of Missouri is the one affecting the ownership of the property formerly in possession of the Stanberry, Mo., Normal school association," said Charles H. Haskell, deputy United States marshal of St. Joseph, who was here yesterday. "The Stanberry Normal school is one of the great educational institutions of Missouri and Messrs. Robbins and Moore have made it a better seat of learning than it ever was before, according to those who are in a position to know. As present conditions stand there is a judgment for a small sum against the Stanberry Normal School association, and just who of the long list of men interested in the property, past and present, are responsible is a question yet to be determined in the federal courts. The present litigation can in no wise effect the standing or efficiency of the school under present ownership."
