Taxpayers' League Starts Movement for Change in School Laws.

WANTS BETTER PAY FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Recommend Less Number of Members and Compensation Adequate to the Time Required for the Public Service.

At a called meeting of the Taxpayers' league held on Thursday evening the question of making some important changes in the school laws...

Whereas, The public school laws of Nebraska pertaining to metropolitan cities in their present form and effect have been a constant source of trouble, dissatisfaction and litigation to superintendents, teachers, employees and taxpayers...

Resolved, as the sentiment of this league, that any person elected to perform the duty of a school director in this district should receive a reasonable and fair compensation for services rendered.

Resolved, also, that we favor a reduction of the number of the Board of Education, so that a smaller body will transact business more expeditiously and economically than a more cumbersome body...

Resolved, also, that we favor a revision of the school laws of the state in conformity with the views expressed in these resolutions...

The following committee was appointed: David Anderson, E. H. Howland, T. J. O'Neil, Dana Morrill, Ed Howe, A. L. Bergquist, A. A. Nixon, Ed Johnson, T. J. Nolan and Richard O'Keefe.

The question of a fire and police commission was discussed at some length, but no action was taken, the matter being referred to the general committee of the league for a report before action is taken.

It is expected that the members of this league will be well represented when a meeting of the charter revision committee is called.

Maxwell Works Masons. William Maxwell is in jail, being held temporarily on a charge of being drunk. It is asserted by M. W. Greist that Maxwell gave him the Masonic sign of distress and was given $5. Later on Greist found that Maxwell was having a good time in an N street saloon and he caused his arrest. The police say that Maxwell has been borrowing money from Masons here, putting up various stories. He showed receipts for lodge dues paid to a lodge at Pikeville, Ky. These receipts are presumed to be forgeries. Maxwell will be brought before Judge King today, when he will be given an opportunity of squaring matters.

No Particular Change. The condition of Clyde Lake, who shot himself Thursday night in an N street saloon, was about the same last night. Slight hemorrhages were noted during the day by the attending physicians, but it is hardly thought that he is seriously injured. The young man is still at the home of his mother in the Rowley block, on Twenty-sixth street, and the doctors are giving him every attention possible.

Looking After Sewers. Mayor Koutsky had a couple of men at work yesterday cleaning catch basins in the downtown portion of the city, so that when the rain comes the sewers were free and the water ran off rapidly. At the present time the street force is kept down to one or two men, but some work which consists in performed every day, as was shown by the opening of the catch basins when needed.

Need More Plats. Real estate dealers say that since there is a good prospect of coal being scarce this winter there has been an unusual demand for apartments in steam-heated flats. The demand, said one dealer last night, is far in excess of the supply. Another real estate man said that investors could make good returns on their money by erecting comfortable steam-heated flats for families in this city.

Magic City Gossip. Daniel Roth, Twenty-third and H streets, is down with typhoid fever. Money is being raised for the purchase of a pipe organ for St. Agnes church.

Michael Monda and wife, Fortieth and Q streets, announce the birth of a son. From now until after the holidays the stores here will be kept open evenings.

Business men generally had their sidewalks cleaned of snow and ice yesterday. Mrs. A. L. Coleman of Chicago is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilchrist.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fernan, Twentieth and Missouri avenue. The infant weather yesterday and the rain has delayed the harvesting of ice in this vicinity.

B. E. Wilcox is rapidly recovering from an attack of fever and expects to be at his office next week.

A ping pong table has been installed by Secretary March in the Young Men's Christian association rooms.

Captain D. B. Parkhurst, president of the South Omaha Stock Exchange, has returned from a business trip to Chicago.

John Hopkins has been sentenced to thirty days in the county jail for assaulting a member of the Salvation Army.

Better street car service has been promised the special committee of the council appointed to wait upon President Murphy a few days ago.

D. E. Jenkins of Omaha will speak at the men's meeting of the Young Men's Christian association on Sunday afternoon.

Myrtle Keeler will sing. Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Fitzgerald entertained the Highland Park Wist club Thursday evening. Mrs. J. B. Watkins and J. M. Tanner carried off the prizes.

Frank Thompson has sold his business at 211 N street and will devote his time to looking after his buildings to be erected at Twenty-fourth and H streets.

John L. Howe, the express messenger who was accidentally shot in Council Bluffs Thursday night, is on a visit to Omaha, city treasurer of South Omaha, and also of J. O. Eastman.

Amusements. At the Boyd. Frank Daniels and company, under the direction of the LaBelle, "Miss Simplicity," an operatic comedy. Book by R. A. Barnett, music by H. L. Harris and staged by W. A. Kurn. The principal roles in the cast: "My Man Blossom".....Frank Turner Lord Bob, Montfort's pal.....Mark Lane Arthur Tammons, Esq., Montfort's pal.....Dr. Willie Pellet, an enthusiast.....Hint Sergeant Jean Thomas Michel of the King's Own.....John Wheeler Paoli, Michel's companion.....Frank Conway Hymie, Michel's companion.....Clair Nash Mademoiselle Clair de Loisyville.....Grace Orr Myers Patty.....Florence Holbrook Rosalie, a beggar maid.....Mal Lowery Lady Hunter.....Kate Hart Madame Michel.....Grace Cannon

If Frank Daniels were welcome for no other reason, the fact that he invariably comes with a new song would be enough to guarantee him a joyous greeting from admirers who grow more fond of him with each passing year. And this time he has a whole bouquet of songs that are new and which ought to readily replace some of the favorites that have been doing duty now for well, no matter how long. He is the same jolly, clever, funny Daniels we have always known. He likes fun, and is even suspected of enjoying his nightly performances as much as any one in the theater. His methods are his own and are really kaleidoscopic, in the regard that while they are always Daniels, they are never exactly twice alike, no matter how reminiscent they may seem of things you have seen him in before.

"Miss Simplicity" is nearer to a comic opera than anything Mr. Daniels has ever had. It doesn't contain any especially ambitious music, but it has plenty of melody, great deal of dialogue, several songs were called for often by the audience last night. It is particularly strong in choruses, and the chorus has been selected with an eye to the stage picture as well as to the voices and the result is pleasing. While the voices blend most harmoniously, the singers themselves, garbed in hues that alone would seem garish, are grouped on the stage so designedly that the prismatic result is one of a rich mingling of tints, producing a splendid series of pictures. Mr. Daniels is assisted by singers and comedians who are well qualified to second his efforts and who contribute much to the general excellence of the performance.

Of the staging of the piece it is enough to say that it is up to the Kirk LaBelle standard.

Boyd's theater was packed in spite of the depressing weather and the audience was very generous in its recognition of the many good things served. At the end of the first act Mr. Daniels tried to satisfy the curial call demanded by merely bowing, but finally succumbed and made a speech. His remarks were simply a continuation of what he had been saying in the play and made the hit of the season so far as curial speeches are concerned.

"Miss Simplicity" will be repeated at a matinee and evening performance today.

The Hochman Recital. Themes and variations.....Tschalkovsky (a) Ballet-Music from the Gluck-St. Saens (b) Melody.....Brahms (c) Harp Solo.....Brahms (d) Etude.....Bauer

INTERMISSION. (a) Prelude.....Chopin (b) Etude.....Chopin (c) Nocturne.....Chopin (d) Polonaise.....Chopin (e) Midsummer Night's Dream.....Liszt

This was the program which attracted all too few of the music lovers of Omaha to the Kountze Memorial church last night, but the audience was aggressively enthusiastic, demanding the best powers of the distinguished young pianist, Arthur Hochman.

Mr. Hochman, of course, will be spoken of as excelling in Chopin or Liszt, or whatever one's predilection are in connection with such a program. But to the sense of the critic, who is not a pianist, by actual experience, but is yet a lover of the music of the pianistic realm of composition, Hochman appeared to be a musician who is full of temperament who has abundant technique, ponderous or buoyant, strong or delicate, as the occasion demands.

He procures a tone which is strikingly diaphanous in quality, and which rings full of richness, and again he fascinates one by his beautiful phrasing. His "trilling," to borrow from the vocalist, is a marvel of clearness and accuracy, which perhaps suggests the answer to the question one is tempted to ask, whether he does not sometimes carry the general idea of a phrase to the embellishment of its termination.

His bringing out of contrapuntal treatment of themes is decidedly original, and the general effect of his playing is increased notably by the fact that one feels that he is presenting an honest, straightforward, convincing and highly magnetic piece of pianistic work. He is, though
