FAVOR EQUITABLE TAXATION

Nebraska Real Estate Men Call for Amendment of Revenue Laws.

WANT RAILROADS TO BEAR THEIR SHARE

Declare in Favor of State Board of Equalification Bringing County Returns to Standard of Fair Cash Value.

The Nebraska Real Estate association has gone on record in favor of tax reform. At yesterday's session of the annual convention of the association the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, The present revenue laws of the state of Nebraska should be amended to embody the following provisions: First—That the property of railroads within the corporate limits of cities and villages shall be valued and assessed by the local assessors on the same basis of other property within the taxing district. Second—That county and municipal boards of equalization be empowered to place on the assessment rolls all property within the jurisdiction at its fair cash value. Third—That the State Board of Equalization shall equalize the state tax between the different counties of the state by bringing county valuations to their fair cash value as a common standard, when they find this has not already been done, making the state levy uniform throughout the state.

Resolved, That to the end that these sections of the revenue law be so amended this convention hereby pledges its support of its members to urge the representatives in the legislature in the various districts to vote therefor.

Another resolution adopted favors the publication of the agricultural, industrial and manufacturing resources of the state, as follows:

Resolved, That the legislature be requested to so amend the present statistical law as to require complete an adequate crop reports from all of the counties of the state, and such other statistics as may be called for by the department of the commissioner of labor under such restrictions as the legislature may impose, such statistics to be compiled and published not later than December 15 of each year, and that an appropriation of $10,000 annually be made to defray the expenses of same.

Other Resolutions Adopted.

The convention also adopted resolutions requesting the repeal of the law requiring contracts for the sale of real estate to be expressed in writing, the enactment of a valid tax deed law, the amendment of the mortgage foreclosure and tenant laws, expressing appreciation of the irrigation work of the federal government, and opposing the general leasing of public lands.

The president announced the legislative committee as follows: W. G. Ure, Omaha; F. M. Rublee, Broken Bow; J. W. McDonald, Lincoln; H. B. Van Decar, St. Paul; L. D. Richards, Fremont; J. N. Clarke, Hastings; F. H. Myers, Omaha; S. C. Smith, Beatrice, and F. D. Wead, Omaha.

The report of the nominating committee was adopted, electing the officers reported with the exception of the substitution of W. H. Cowgill of Holdrege in place of J. G. Preston of Oxford.

The report of the committee on immigration was submitted through its chairman, E. A. Benson, who said that the committee favored carrying out the plan of cooperation as outlined by Major Buchanan, C. E. Watson and the chairman of the committee. The officers and directors were added to the immigration committee and a meeting will be held at the Commercial club rooms at 9:30 Saturday to prepare plans for carrying out the suggestions.

Luncheon at Swift's.

The luncheon at Swift's was served in the dining room over the offices of the company, which has a seating capacity of about 200, and almost the entire capacity was required.

It was 1 o'clock when President Conkling called the banqueters to order and introduced E. A. Benson, who was toastmaster. W. L. Selby assisted in arranging the banquet. He proposed a toast, "The Swift Company," which was responded to by W. L. Selby and P. D. Manchee, the manager of the local plant.

"Nebraska Corn Is King" was the toast responded to by Peter Jansen of Jansen. He said in part: "Examine a map of the United States and you will find that the so-called corn belt is fenced in, so to speak—the eastern part of Nebraska and Kansas forming the western boundary. With the ever-increasing consumption of this golden grain those who own a small section of this cornfield may congratulate themselves. I predict that it will be seldom that corn will sell at less than 20 cents a bushel. Notwithstanding the high prices corn is going into consumption, and I believe that the holdings in first hands will not be more than 500,000,000 bushels, against normal stock of 600,000,000 to 700,000,000 bushels."

Smith on Irrigation.

S. C. Smith of Beatrice spoke on "Some Impressions of the Last Irrigation Congress and the Reservoir System," saying: "This association at its first convention endorsed the present irrigation law. This fact is mentioned to encourage further resolutions along desired lines. The last irrigation congress was a distinguished body of men, consisting of congressmen, government representatives and business men. They were familiar with the subject of irrigation. It was the judgment of the more thoughtful men that the passage of the present law did not relieve them of responsibility and that a campaign of education is as important now as before the law was passed. The resident of the cities must learn the benefits to accrue to him if he will make a home upon the irrigated land; the ranchman must learn the rights of the people—tear down his fences and conduct his business on other lines. The land to be occupied by the homesteader is but 160 acres, so that the only advantage to be directly gained is through occupying the land. Our thanks are due to those who forced its passage, at the head of whom I recognize Theodore Roosevelt.

"The present leasing bill is likely to nullify the law, as it embraces in its terms all of the government land. It is incumbent upon all citizens to see that the irrigation law has a fair trial. It has been demonstrated that all smooth, arable, arid land can be reclaimed. The government owns over 535,000,000 acres of land, and it is estimated that at least 100,000,000 acres are susceptible to irrigation."

General Stock Interests.

"The General Stock Interests" was the toast responded to by W. J. C. Kenyon, general manager of the stock yards. He said in part: "There is one thing I want to say to the real estate dealers, and that is that the growth of South Omaha is due to their work. It is as easy to sell lots for $500 as it is at $50. Five years after South Omaha was established we returned to the assessor $1,750,000; this year the assessed value is $16,000,000."

Of the packing interests Mr. Kenyon said: "In the next five years we will pass Chicago. If the state you gentlemen can give us great assistance if you will help us get business. Omaha is not 'fernnist' the entire state. The packing houses are part of the state of Nebraska. They were put here to handle the stock from this part of the country. These industries have so increased that we employ 24.9 per cent of all the wage earners in the state. I am not going to burden you with figures, but I want to call your attention to the fact that South Omaha is a part of the state, and when legislation affecting its industries are broached in Lincoln you affect the greatest interest in the state."

Bouquet to the Hog.

"The Apostrophe to the Hog—The Hog Rules," by Alex G. Charlton, was the hit of the day. The address was delivered to a hog—one especially arranged and prepared. The apostrophe closed with the placing of a wreath upon the brow of the hog.

After the apostrophe to the hog Henry T. Clarke spoke of the growth of the country since he came to the state forty-eight years ago.

Willis Cadwell of Broken Bow presented the matter of advertising the state, offering to subscribe to a fund for the purpose of setting the resources of the state before the people. He asked how many would contribute $5 to pay the expenses of a press bureau. The suggestion was received with cheers and $70 was raised to start the fund.

The president appointed S. C. Smith of Beatrice, W. H. Green of Omaha and L. D. Richards of Fremont as a committee to present to the secretary of the interior the resolutions relating to artesian wells adopted at the morning session.

After a vote of thanks to the Omaha Street Railway company and to Swift and Company the convention adjourned.

NEW FIRM FIRST OF YEAR

Omaha Crockery Company Incorporates and Will Open in This City.

This morning at Lincoln the articles of incorporation of the Omaha Crockery company will be filed. The new company starts with a capital stock of $50,000, divided into 500 shares, which are held by E. A. Hinrich and E. C. McCormack of Davenport, Ia.; H. H. Baldrige, Frank W. Judson and H. L. Porterfield of Omaha. Mr. Hinrich is a member of the Hinrich Crockery company of Davenport, one of the oldest firms in this trade on the Mississippi river. Mr. McCormack has been connected with that house for several years and will become the manager of the Omaha house, while Mr. Hinrich will give the Omaha business considerable attention.

Mr. Porterfield is the general manager of the Creamery Package company and Mr. Judson is an officer of the Midland Glass and Paint company.

The new firm will open for business during the first week in January in the building now occupied by the Midland Glass and Paint company, which will by that time be in larger quarters. The company will carry a wholesale line of crockery, china and glass, and will put four traveling salesmen on the road at first.

SANTA CLAUS IN BIG DEMAND

Christmas Goods Selling in Unusually Large Quantities, Jobbers Say.

Judging from the demand that is being experienced for all kinds of holiday goods Omaha jobbers say Christmas is to be more generally celebrated this year than ever before in this section of the country. One indication of the fact is the enormous demand for Christmas trees. Estimates place the number sold up to date at over 10,000. Over three carloads of holly, or about 350 cases, have also been sold out of Omaha, and, including all the different kinds of wreathing, it is claimed that 40,000 to 50,000 yards have been shipped out within the last week or ten days. These figures are far in excess of those of any former year, and wholesalers say that although they anticipated an enormous trade, they have sold more stock than they expected.

Oranges have also had a big run, as from five to six carloads have been shipped to the country within the last week. Apples have also sold freely and the demand for nuts has been fully equal to the supply. Cranberries have come in for their usual share of attention in spite of the fact that they command fancy prices. In fact, jobbers say there is not a single seasonable line that has not sold better this year than ever before.
