CATTLE—There were hardly enough cattle here this morning to make a market, but all the packers seemed to want a few and buyers started out early and bought up the better grades as rapidly as they arrived, and in a good many cases paid fancy prices for what they got. It was, of course, a very uneven market, with the more desirable cattle selling to the best advantage.

The few cars of cornfed steers on sale sold easily a dime higher than yesterday. The quality of most of them was rather inferior, though as high as $4.95 was paid. As compared with the close of last week the general market is fully 25c higher, and some sales have been much better than that. Packers have evidently had to have a few cattle to fill their more urgent orders and the extremely light receipts have forced them to advance prices.

The cow market was also stronger this morning. Prices have advanced during the week just about the same as on steers, if anything, though, the cow market has been more uneven than the steer market. Canners and cutters, in particular, have sold at very uneven prices, some sales being a good deal higher than others.

Bulls, veal calves and stags did not show much change this morning. Bulls have been strong all the week, but still prices have not advanced anything like as much as on steers and cows. The same is true of stags.

There were not enough stockers and feeders in today to sell anything about the market. Buyers evidently did not want many cattle owing to the fact that tomorrow will be a holiday and then the end of the week will be close at hand. The better grades of stockers and feeders have commanded strong prices all the week, but the inferior kinds have been neglected and hard to dispose of at any price. Representative sales:

HOGS—There was another light run of hogs here today, and as packers seem to have a few the market ruled fairly active and 5@10c higher than yesterday. The bulk of the sales went from $6.25 to $6.30, and as high as $6.35 was paid. The light weights sold largely from $6.25 down, with the medium weights going largely at $6.27½@6.30, while the prime loads sold from $6.32½ to $6.35. There was no particular change in the market, though the late arrival of a few trains delayed the close until a late hour.

Light receipts and a fairly good demand caused prices to move steadily upward all this week, and the total advance for the three days amounts to about 20c. The average price today was at the highest point reached since the third week in November. Representative sales:

SHEEP—There were only just a few cars of sheep and lambs in the yards this morning, and the market ruled active and strong on good stuff. As high as $4.50 was paid for some western fed yearlings, which looked considerably higher than the same kinds have been selling for of late. As compared with the close of last week, the better grades of both sheep and lambs may be quoted 10@15c higher. Supplies have been light all the week, and as packers have had quite liberal orders, they had to pay stronger prices. The commoner kinds have not advanced as much as the inferior grades, but still even those are selling fully as high as they were a week ago.

Feeders have been rather scarce all this week, and the demand has been sufficient to take what was offered at good, strong prices.

Quotations for fed stock: Choice lambs, $5.00@5.25; fair to good lambs, $4.50@5.00; choice yearlings, $4.00@4.50; fair to good yearlings, $3.75@4.00; choice wethers, $3.60@4.00; fair to good, $3.25@3.60; choice ewes, $3.50@4.00; fair to good, $3.00@3.50; feeder lambs, $3.00@4.00; feeder yearlings, $3.00@3.50; feeder wethers, $2.75@3.25; feeder ewes, $1.50@2.25.
