ARREST OF SUPPOSED FORGERS

Men Are Accused of Passing Five Bonus Checks on Merchants of City.

JENKINS LOSES HIS TITLE

Dan McLeod Now Wears Catch-as-Catch-Can Championship Belt.

With the arrest last night of Thomas Moss of 1507 Webster street by Detectives Heitfeld and Donahue, the police have in custody the last of the men who are thought to be the parties who forged and circulated five bogus checks on National National bank with an aggregate of about $150. These forgeries first came to the attention of the authorities through the complaint of J. N. Nelson, a dry goods man at 2223 Cuming street, who had cashed a check for $20. Since then four others have turned up. George W. Stover, a confectioner at 1417 North Twenty-fourth street, cashed a check for $17.50, taking out 60 cents in payment for candy which the stranger had purchased. These two checks were identical as to payor and payee, being supposedly drawn by W. L. Seabrook of 408 North Sixteenth street on the First National bank in favor of George Sutton or bearer. The man who passed them on the shopkeeper claimed to be Sutton and to live at 1611 Cuming street. After Nelson had cashed the $20 check he became suspicious and called up Seabrook, whose name was signed to the same, by telephone. Seabrook denied having cashed the check. Nelson then went to the First National bank, where he found that Seabrook had no deposit. Nelson then put the matter in the hands of Heitfeld and Donahue. From the dry goods man and from Stover descriptions were obtained which led to the arrest of Moss. He will only be charged with passing forged checks, as the police believe that he was guilty only to that extent, and that Frank Betts of 2624 Sherman avenue, who was arrested on the night of December 21, is the person who forged the checks. Willing to Go on in Spite of His Condition, but His Manager Refuses and Forfeits the Match.

WORCESTER, Mass., Dec. 25.—Dan McLeod won the American catch-as-catch-can wrestling championship today and the $1,000 end of a $2,500 purse by getting the better of Tom Jenkins.

Jenkins was suffering from a bad leg, the result of blood poisoning, and the pain caused by the points of a brass buckle entering the flesh at this leg made him quit in the third bout. In order to protect the injured part Jenkins had a leather bandage with a steel strip down the front of the shin fastened with brass buckles. Two of these were broken in the first part of the match and the brass buckle was used, until the pain was unbearable and he was afraid of further blood poisoning.

He had wrestled twenty minutes in the third bout when he told McLeod the condition he was in and said he was willing to quit and call for a draw or a forfeit. McLeod insisted on continuing, but Jenkins' manager refused to let the big fellow go on and forfeited the match.

Jenkins was the first fall by a three-quarter horse in 19 minutes and McLeod got the second in 24 minutes on a croch and half Nelson hold. The match was fast from the start, McLeod being on the aggressive almost all the time.

HIS ACCOUNTS FOUND SHORT

A. J. Stanley, City Salesman for the Helms Pickle Company, is Under Arrest.

A. J. Stanley, living at 2126 Sherman street, was arrested yesterday evening by Detectives Savage and Davis on a charge of embezzlement, preferred by the local agency of the Helms Pickle company and by Baldrige & DeBor, attorneys for the Pittsburgh Surety company, which had secured his bond.

The amount of shortage, so far as known, is $500. The prisoner was city salesman and collector for the Helms company. He was held last night by Captain Hase for $1,000 bonds.

The shortage was first discovered only a few days ago, at which time it accidentally became known that Stanley was about $350 short. When asked to explain the matter, he said that he had lost the money, which he had collected while out on his rounds and had put in a libel which had been lost.

He said that he would square the matter in a few days. As the traveling auditor of the company was due here from St. Louis in a few days, the matter was allowed to stand as it was. Now that an examination of the books has been made, it has already been found that there is a shortage of $800 and it is not improbable that further amounts may be found missing.

Stanley is a young married man and has been in the employ of the company for a few years. He has heretofore been regarded as trustworthy and capable. It is possible that the matter may be settled without prosecution. It is thought that not improbably the satisfaction of the books has occurred since Manager Charles Homrighouse left here about two months ago. The prisoner admitted at the police station that he had appropriated money to his own use.
